FOUR CHORUS GIRLS in Thespians' musical comedy revue, "Bottoms Up," (l. to r.) Michele Weiller, Diane Delp, Phyllis Auerbach and Patricia Bowles run through a routine for the Thursday opening in Schwab Auditorium.

Tickets for the show are now on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Price for the Thursday night show is 90 cents while the Homecoming Weekend shows on Friday and Saturday nights are $1.20. Words and music to the musical comedy revue were written by Frank Lewis and David Weiner. Lewis also directs the chorus, with Gene Myers.

Skits in "Bottoms Up" were written by John Pakkanen, Sidney Simon, Lewis and Weiner. Choreography is directed by Jeanne Wiener and Michael Claysmith.

Autumn Season To Be Theme Of Hort Show

The 38th annual Horticulture Show, using "Autumn symphony" as its theme, will be held from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Stock Judging Pavilion.

Educational displays, decorations, and musical backgrounds in harmony with the season will be featured at the affair.

This year's show will be dedicated to Dr. Warren B. Mack, professor and head of the Department of Horticulture. Francis Hoffman is chairman and his assistant is Joseph Ondrejko.

Committee chairmen, all students, are Arthur Munson, publicity, plant and vegetable; Harold Kreiser, program; Fowler Strang, floriculture; John Kudasinski, landscape horticulture; and Helen Stender, show secretary.

Dutch Physics Prof To Speak on Chess

Hans DeVries, research professor in physics from Holland, will speak on the fundamentals of chess before the Penn State Chess Club at 7 tonight in 3 Sparks.

The chess team will hold its first match with Lancaster's Red Rose Chess Club at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 3 in 3 Sparks.

Four out of five members of last year's state championship Penn State chess team are back this year.

All members of the club must bring their own chess sets to tonight's meeting.

Delehanty Named To 'Who's' Staff

Rosemary Delahanty has been appointed associate editor of the 1951-52 issue of "Who's in the News at Penn State" by Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary.

Editor of this year's "Who's in the News" is Leonard Kolasinski of Sigma Delta Chi.

Newly-elected officers of Theta Sigma Phi are Janet Bleutge, president; Julia Arnold, vice-president; Joan Hoffman, secretary; Dorothy Naveen, treasurer, and Carolyn Barrett, keeper of the archives.

Inkling Contributions

Inkling, campus literary magazine, is still accepting material for its coming issue. Essays, fiction, poetry and other contributions may be addressed to Bud Fenton, Inkling Editor, and turned in to the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Rothrock to Speak

"Engines for Jet Propulsion" is the topic selected by Addison M. Rothrock, assistant director for research, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, who will lecture at 8 p.m. tomorrow in 119, Osmond Laboratory.

Sponsored by the Society of the Sigma Xi, the lecture is open to the public.

Campus Chest Goal

The Daily Collegian erroneously reported Saturday that All-College Cabinet had approved decreasing the Campus Chest goal from $1400 to $1200.

Cabinet actually decreased the goal from $14,000 to $12,000.

Student Half-Holiday Set for November 10

Saturday morning, Nov. 10, has been approved as a student half-holiday at the College.

Approval of the holiday was given yesterday by the Council of Administration in response to a request from All-College Cabinet that either the weekend of Nov. 10 or 17 be approved.

The Nov. 10 weekend this year will include the Junior Prom on Friday and the Syracuse football game the following day. On Nov. 17 Penn State plays Rutgers at New Brunswick, N.J.

This year's Pitt game, often the weekend for the half holiday, will be played on Nov. 24, during the Thanksgiving recess.

Decision on Traffic Plan Is Expected

A decision regarding the experimental one-way traffic system on Shortlidge road is expected to be made today by the department of physical plant.

The trial, which established one-way traffic north on that road between 6 p.m. and 2 a.m., was in effect Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights.

The student committee which suggested the plan to the College is to meet this afternoon with Walter Wiegand, director of physical plant, to discuss the experiment.

The committee is composed of Harry Cover, Marvin Krasnansky and Mary Jane Woodrow.

The plan was successful in eliminating the 1 a.m. traffic tie-up on both Friday and Saturday nights. It was necessary, however, for the campus patrol to station a patrolman at the Pollock road intersection to prevent traffic from bucking the one way system.

When the last major tieup occurred two weeks ago there were no campus patrolmen on duty along Shortlidge road.

On the weekend of the Villanova football game campus patrol placed a number of patrolmen on Shortlidge road to enforce the parking regulations. This experiment also was successful in eliminating a traffic jam. Traffic was not at its peak, however, on that weekend since a large percentage of the student body was off campus.

There is 294 square miles of water surface in Pennsylvania.

Concert Series Lists Programs

The Community Concert program this year will include the noted violist William Primrose, the piano team of Vera Appleton and Michael Field, the Trapp Family Singers, and the previously announced Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra.

Primrose Plays Viola

Harold Welsh, representative of Community Concerts, will complete the final arrangements for the booking in New York this weekend. The schedule will be announced when the dates requested are confirmed.

Primrose has popularized the viola as a concert solo instrument. During the past six years he has been in world demand and has toured North and South America and England, as well as his native Scotland.

Trapp Family

The Appleton and Field piano duo has presented more than 500 concerts since it was formed in 1943. The team has appeared on many different radio programs in addition to concert hall appearances. It is recognized as one of the most outstanding piano teams of the day.

Now on their 12th tour, the Trapp Family singers recently returned from successes in South America and Europe. During their European tour they appeared in their home city of Salzburg. They have won popularity not only for their flawless musicianship, but also for their lovable personal qualities of a story-book family come true.

Erich Leinsdorf will conduct the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra. He has been with the orchestra since 1947, and has appeared with many of the leading symphonies in this country and in Europe.

Delta Nu Alpha to Meet

Delta Nu Alpha, transportation fraternity, will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night in 13 Sparks.

The organization will elect officers and discuss plans for the year. Robert Kennedy, acting chairman, and Charles Stonier, faculty adviser, will preside at the first meeting.

Senior Class Approves New Flat Diplomas

A motion to eliminate the scroll-type diplomas in favor of the small flat type was passed by the senior class at a meeting Sunday night.

The motion, not binding until the committee investigating the matter has made its report, would be in accordance with President Milton S. Eisenhower's desire to hand out each diploma individually, David Olmstead, class president, told the group.

A motion was passed to permit Student Union to enforce senior voting on class gift and the naming of class honor men. The system would require seniors to vote at the Student Union desk in Old Main on the day they were notified to pick up their copy of La Vie, senior class yearbook.

Jane Steiber will chair a committee which will determine the attitudes of seniors graduating in February concerning a class reception day. Sally Shoemaker, class secretary-treasurer, will assist her.

The diploma committee consists of Grace Purello, chairman; Elizabeth Jo Hill; Elizabeth Zimmerman; Joan Marshall; Edward Shanken; and Mary Bambrick.

Preliminary suggestions were made for a commencement speaker and a class gift.

Approximately 30 seniors attended the meeting.
