

Mardi Gras Carnival Set For Nov. 2

The annual Mardi Gras Carnival, sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will be held Nov. 2 in Recreation Hall.

Letters have been sent to sororities, Leonides, Philotes, and Freshman Council requesting these organizations to enter booths in the carnival. The deadline for submitting entries is 5 p.m. Oct. 22. Descriptions of booths may be turned in to Greta Weaver, 23 McElwain Hall.

Each organization sponsoring a booth has also been asked to submit a photograph of a candidate for King of the Mardi Gras. Photographs must be glossy and must be five by seven inches. They may be turned in to Marilyn Williams, 317 Grange. The deadline for submitting photographs is the same as the booth deadline.

The candidate receiving the greatest number of votes will be crowned king during the Mardi Gras. Each vote will cost one cent.

Tickets priced at ten cents will be used for admission to the booths. The tickets will be sold at the door.

Proceeds from the carnival will be given to the Mortar Board Charlotte E. Ray Memorial Scholarship Fund. Interest from this fund is used for scholarships for worthy women on campus.

Committees for the carnival are Carolyn Barrett and Jane Steiber, publicity; Lois Pulver and Virginia Miller, decorations; Robin Brunner and Miss Williams, king contest; Marolyn Levitt, refreshments; Nancy McClain and Miss Weaver, letters and booths; Mary Jane Woodrow, tickets; and Jeanine Bell, music.

'Companion' Staff Member to Speak

Bernice Strawn, equipment editor of the Woman's Home Companion, will speak on "Techniques and Responsibilities in Commercial Consumer Services" to the commercial consumer service class, Friday.

This is one of a series of programs arranged by Mary Allgood, associate professor of home equipment and consumers service.

The School of Home Economics will hold a coffee hour for Miss Strawn at 4 p.m. Friday in the living center.

Pennsylvania ranks first of the states in mineral output.

Dungaree Drag Winner

EARL BAKER, presents a miniature pair of dungarees to Joseph Meshburg whose corsage was the most unique creation seen at the drag. Cathy Standish designed the prize winner.

Co-Edits

Phi Mu

Newly-elected officers of the Phi Mu pledge class are Nancy Seiple, president; Grayce Jeffries, vice president; Martha Heckman, secretary-treasurer; Doris Hiester, social chairman; and Elsie Devlan, scholarship chairman.

The sorority entertained Theta Chi at a party Thursday. The actives entertained the pledges at a pledge retreat Saturday at an alumna's cabin.

Kappa Alpha Theta

The newly-elected pledge officers of Kappa Alpha Theta are Mary Petitgout, president; Emily Tyler, secretary, and Juliana Feas, treasurer.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Week ended with the initiation of Shirley Busk, Alice Guthrie, Virginia McTuck, Marion Morgan, Janet Morley, and Patricia Sechler. Following the initiation a spaghetti dinner was held, in the suite for the new members.

Prior to the initiation the new members held a party for the actives and new pledges. Refreshments were served and the entertainment included a skit and the traditional pledge song, written by the new pledges.

Phi Sigma Sigma

The newly-elected officers of the Phi Sigma Sigma pledge class are Eleanor Howitz, president; Marion Ungar, vice-president; Diana Koppelman, treasurer, and May Moss, secretary.

Delta Nu Alpha to Meet

Delta Delta Delta held an informal coffee hour in the suite Tuesday night in honor of the new dormitory hostess, Mrs. Kathryn Heath.

Alpha Epsilon Phi

Newly-elected pledge officers of Alpha Epsilon Phi are Cynthia Morrison, president; Shirley Smulyan, vice president-treasurer; Sue Minsky, secretary; Carole Krow, editor; and Frances Sokol and Joan Lesse, alumnae editors.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta entertained Alpha Zeta Sunday afternoon with a skit. Dancing and a supper followed.

Kappa Delta

Emily Bell, Martha Guerrant, and Barbara White were initiated by Kappa Delta Sunday. Following the ceremony, the members of the sorority attended chapel.

Actors Work --

(Continued from page four) and pulled the others with her while she was at it.

Of course, none of this work was done in costume, and that led to some funny sights too.

For instance, Mike was dressed in black snuggies that ended high above the knees. Over this, she had a little yellow skirt. It seemed to serve no particular purpose, but it certainly stood out. The girl at the other end of the line was wearing a green thing. This also must have been practical, but, in truth, it resembled a bag.

In Frank's group, the incongruity of it all was more pronounced. At one end was a little young lady, attired in blonde hair, a black suit and high heels. Next to her was a chorine attired in a sweater and skirt. All the way at the other end was a little one wearing slacks of plaid and a fuzzy sweater. Frank was at his dapper best, but the rest of the males were decked out in a varied assortment of white shirts, plaid shirts, gray flannels and navy denims.

We sat there, and watched everyone scurrying around, and people hanging from the balcony, fixing lights, and kids sipping milk or eating ice cream, and we wondered, in the strict sense of the word. We didn't wonder whether the show would work out all right. Somehow, it always does.

But we wondered how so much could be accomplished in the short period of time the cast has been rehearsing. And we wondered at the time all of the people put into the thing.

Mil Ball Queen Photos Due

Photos for Queen of the Military Ball should be submitted before noon Thursday, Nov. 27, Carl Rebele, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday.

Rebele said that all cadets and midshipmen are eligible to enter contestants.

The pictures should be at least five by seven inches and should be accompanied by the name, and address, and a short description of the candidate.

The photos may be of Penn State coeds or imports. Army photos should be turned in at 101 Carnegie Hall; Navy at 200 Engineering E, and Air Force at 8 Armory.

The Military Ball will be held on Dec. 7 in Recreation Hall. Tommie Tucker and his orchestra will play for the affair. Invitations to the ball may be obtained from cadets or midshipmen. No tickets will be sold at the door.

COMPOSITS FRAMED

Wide Variety of Frame Samples

Also Call for Estimate on La Vie Photo Frames

TREASURE HOUSE

E. College Ave.

Smith-Corona

World's first portable...

World's fastest portable!

5 Models Starting at

$68.50

KEELER'S

Hi!

Perhaps I should have introduced myself before, but everyone was so busy with orientation, customs, and blue books that I didn't get a chance to meet all of you. I'm the Penn State Book Exchange. You can call me BX for short.

I am in my 6th semester, majoring in economy to students, and have a heavy schedule in bargains. I am rather crowded in a small room in the TUB—that's pretty far from everything, but that's what I call home.

Say, I have a cousin that lives across the hall. Maybe you've met him, the Used Book Agency, I call him the UBA. He handles all the used books; I take care of all the school supplies.

I hope everyone knows that you get a 20% refund on all purchases that you do with me. I told most of the freshman but that goes for the upperclassman as well.

— That's about all for now but do come up and see us sometime soon.

Your friend,

BX

Me too
UBA

Evening Gowns

You'll find just the gown you're looking for right here at the Charles Shop. We have the latest New York fashions — exquisite gowns from $29.95 to Ceil Chapman gowns at $89.95. It doesn't cost any more to get your gown at the fashion shop.

Charles

124 SOUTH ALLEN ST. STATE COLLEGE, PA.