Two-Way Traffic Is To Continue

The present system of two-way traffic will be continued along Shortlidge road, Walter Weigand, director of physical plant, announced yesterday.

The decision was made follow ing a one-way experiment which was tried last week in an attempt to remedy the snarled traffic on Shortlidge road about 1 a.m. on date nights. Weigand also announced that campus patrol will in the future strictly enforce the no parking regulations along Shortlidge road. Needs Enforcement

Weigand said he personally ob-served the flow of traffic while the experiment was in effect, and concluded that the one-way system could not be effective unless enforced by the campus pa-

Window Display Winner

DORM 6's WINDOW DISPLAY, pictured above, won first prize of $7 in the AIM window display contest, Gail Shaver, chairman, announced last night.

The display, which was in the Children's Shop, College avenue and Pugh street, consisted of a map of Pennsylvania with ribbons leading out to certain objects denoting schools of the College. Dorm 2 took the $2 second prize with its display in Schlows. Chairman for Dorm 6 was Robert Ives.

About 73 per cent of all women students voted in the Women's "British troops and Egyptian Student Government Association and Women's Recreation Associa-police opened fire."

Total number voting was about 1600 out of a possible 2200, with .100. per cent voting in MacAllister and Woman's Building. Finalists for WSGA treasurer are Carolyn Pelczar and Barbara

Milton Bernstein, Lion party clique chairman, yesterday announced a reorganization of the Lion party and his resignation as clique chairman "in line with the reorganization of the party."

In the new organization, Lion party officials would be elected by members of the party instead of being appointed by senior party advisers.

The party clique chairman would be eliminated in the re-organization and an All-College chairman elected by party mem-bers. An All-College vice chair-man, All-College secretary, and an All-College financial secre-tary would also be elected.

Senior Advisers

Class reorganization would be similar. Each class would have a chairman, vice chairman, pub-licity chairman, campaign chairman, and one male and female member at large, each official being elected by class members.

The party organization and the class organization would join a group of senior advisers and act as a steering committee for the entire party. Senior ad-visers would include All-College candidates, ex-All-College chairmen and vice chairman, and ex-All-College secretary.

Bernstein has asked Ray Evert and Clair George to draw up a constitution to explain the aims and organization of the party. This would be the first constitution for a political party on campus, he said.

Meeting Thursday

Bernstein called a meeting for p.m. Thursday in 119 Osmond to outline the reorganization to Lion party members. He said persons interested in campus poli-tics should attend the meeting.

Bernstein will act as temporary chairman until an All-College chairman can be elected. He said the new chairman would be elected Thursday so he could be-(Continued on page eight)
