

Have You Got Time To Waste on Time?

By MARY STARK

Time is a funny thing. It is measureable and yet elusive. Many writers and poets have used time as a theme for their work.

A magazine uses Time for its title.

Latin students learn as one of their first exercises to translate the English "time flies" into "tempus fugit."

Song writers put themselves into the higher income brackets by selling the public songs about time, how it flies, how it drags, how long it seems, how short it is.

Of all these people, no one knows more about time than the college student. Time for collegiates is generally made up of short spaces into which they crowd a multi-million things to do.

Short Breakfast

Time is never so short as it is between bed-time and morning. In fact this time passes so quickly that some students feel they are required to sleep over-time.

Breakfast time is short. Minutes between breakfast for those who make it—and an eight o'clock class go by as fast as greased lightning.

Time is elastic. It can stretch or shrink itself according to the situation. Much as you try during a bluebook to stretch the minutes it just won't work. But try speeding up the hour during a dull lecture. That's when the clock seems to stop. The hands creep over its face. It is then that minutes seem like hours.

Unusual Qualities

Time is long between vacations and weekends, but very short during them.

People have attributed many unusual qualities to time. It cannot be seen, nor touched, and yet it "hangs heavy." "Time will tell," "time marches on," "time waits for no man." A songwriter even found "time on my hands."

Time cannot be stopped, but this treatise on it can. So it will be. Stop.

WRA Sr. Adviser To Attend Conclave

Carolyn Barrett, Women's Recreation Association senior adviser, will attend the Pennsylvania Athletic Federation of College Women conference in place of Marilyn Williams, WRA president.

"Wider Horizons through Physical Recreation" will be the theme of the conference.

The Vikings pillaged the north and west coasts of European countries in the ninth and tenth centuries.

WSGA Grants Junior Prom Two O'Clocks

Two o'clock permissions for the Junior Prom were granted upper-class women by the Women's Student Government Association Senate Wednesday.

Freshman women will receive a 1 o'clock permission for Friday night and 12 o'clock permission for Saturday on Junior Prom weekend.

Nancy White, chairman of the WSGA Freshman Council, reported that Baylee Friedman has been named vice chairman and Lynn Markle secretary of the council.

Carol Young was appointed freshman senator.

The senate voted to keep the advertising committee, which was organized for last week's elections, as a standing committee to be used to publicize such events as elections, dances, the May Day programs, and the Christmas clothing drive.

Weekending With the Greeks

With Halloween less than a week away, ghosts and witches, to say nothing of goblins and spooks, will reign this weekend at fraternity and sorority parties.

Alpha Sigma Phi is holding a Halloween party tonight for members and guests. Orange and black streamers, apples hanging from strings, and jack-o'-lantern pumpkins will add to the Halloween atmosphere.

Alpha Epsilon Phi is planning a Halloween barn dance tomorrow night at the Beta Sigma Rho house. The dance, which is open to the College, will feature skits and entertainment by the sorority's pledges. Hay, pumpkins, and other Halloween decorations will add to the fun. Refreshments will be served.

3 Sororities Register WRA Cage Victories

Last night's basketball results showed Alpha Xi Delta conquering Phi Sigma Sigma 22-12. Ungar was the lone scorer for the losers with 12 points while Lively had 11 for the winners.

By freezing the ball the final minute, Theta Phi Alpha warded off the attempts of Sigma Delta Tau to tie the score and win, 16-13. Coltellero dropped in 12 points for the winners.

In a hard fought game Alpha Gamma Delta polled a 27-20 score over Kappa Alpha Theta to get in the victory column. High scoring honors for the evening went to Transue of the winning squad with 15 points. Hertel and Halloway shared 16 of the loser's points. The other scheduled game saw Beta Sigma Omicron forfeiting to Thompson D.

The upperclasswomen tasted defeat in field hockey yesterday afternoon on Holmes Field when the freshmen took a 3-0 contest.

Grad Gives --

(Continued from page one) appreciate this very real and unselfish support for our program because all of us in the Christian Association are convinced that the chapel and Christian Association are integral to higher education. The chapel is the voice of the College and the Christian Association is the practicum for religious thought! This gift will make it possible for us to do many things which hitherto have not been possible.

In commenting on the gift, Irene Jeffress, president of the Association said: "It is with a great deal of humility and appreciation that we accept this gift from a friend who has such faith in our group."

William Klisanin, chairman of the Kickoff Dance committee, reported that a profit of $786.29 was made on the dance, unless a federal tax on the tickets sold were placed on them. He said there would then probably be a profit of about $610.
