

Booters Tackle Colgate Sigma Chi Swimmers Win In '51 Road Finale Today

Coach Bill Jeffrey's soccer team will play its last away match of the season today when it takes on a mediocre Colgate squad at Hamilton, N.Y. this afternoon. The match will start at 2 p.m.

After the Colgate game, State will meet North Carolina, Gettysburg, and Temple on successive Saturdays at State College. Temple will undoubtedly furnish the Lions with the toughest competition since the Owls are loaded this year, having already won four straight.

Jeffrey will probably use the same eleven men who defeated Maryland, 1-0, Wednesday.

Snyder, Norcik at Wings

Holding down the wing positions will be Bill Norcik, right, and Charlie Snyder, left. Snyder seems to have nailed down the post after Jeffrey had used Hap Irvin there. Irvin, however, has since been switched to center forward, a spot that has caused nightmares with Jeffrey, having previously employed five men at the position. Irvin, a former left wingman before being switched to center, seems to have given the Lions something that has been needed at that position for a long time.

At the inside posts will be Ron Coleman and Ellie Kocher. Coleman will operate on the left side while Kocher, substituting for the injured Jack Pinezich, will run opposite him. Irvin will handle the center forward duties with freshman John Carroll, who injured his knee against Maryland, in reserve.

Halfbacks

Starting at the halfbacks will be the Northeast High school trio of Frank Follmer, right; Kurt Klaus, center; and Jack Charlton, left. Klaus had an assist in State's lone score against Maryland when he passed off to Irvin Follmer and Charlton displayed some good defensive play against Maryland.

At fullback, Jeffrey will open with Jay Simmons, right, and Paul Dierks. Simmons and Dierks were the main reasons why Maryland had such a tough time cracking the Lions' defense. They refused to allow the Terp forward wall to get inside. As a result, Bob Harris, who has done a commendable job at goalie the past two contests and who will start against Colgate, came up with fewer than ten saves.

Gridder Called 'School Employee'

DENVER, Oct. 26—(AP)—The Colorado Industrial Commission approved today a finding by one of its referees that a Denver University football player who suffered injuries is entitled to workmen's compensation as an "employee of the school."

The commission announced its findings late today.

The university and its insurer, the London Guarantee and Accident Co., Ltd., had appealed the ruling of the referee, David H. How, to the full commission.

The final decision eliminated one statement from How's original ruling—a comment that "football is big business."

Pierson Cops X-Country Trial

Dave Pierson ran off with his second junior varsity intra-squad cross country time trial victory yesterday on the golf course.

Dave covered the five mile course in 27:27 to score an easy 70 yard victory.

Runnerup honors were captured by Bob Roessler with a clocking of 27:41. Pete Judd legged it home 15 yards behind Roessler to nail down third place with a 27:46 time. Close behind Judd came Bob Gehman with a fourth place mark of 27:49.

Carl Godshall took fifth, John Chillrud sixth, Lloyd Slocum seventh, Tom Demboski eighth, Jim Cressman ninth, John Davidson 10th, and Stan Lindner 11th

Sigma Chi, last year's IM swim champs, continued to ride the wave of victory yesterday afternoon at Glennland Pool, successfully recording its second triumph of the campaign. Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fell from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Continuing their quest for this season's title, the defending champs surpassed a weak Tau Kappa Epsilon squad, 37-3. The SCs dominated the entire meet, capturing first place in all five events.

Tony Pileggi stroked his way to a 37.8 clocking in the 60-yard freestyle for SC. Dave Heckel backstroked a 49.7 second timing to take his event. Triple-winner Dave Douglass won the breaststroke, diving, and swam on the victorious 120-yard relay team.

With Don Orcutt spearheading the attack, the Theta Xi natators surprisingly outswam previously undefeated Sigma Nu, 29-12. After Sigma Nu won the first event, the 60-yard freestyle, the Theta Xis staged a comeback to win the remaining four events.

Whitey Miller, SN sprinter, raced to a fast 35.9 second timing to win the freestyle swim. Then Orcutt stroked a 39.2 clocking for the 60-yard backstroke, coming within .8 seconds of breaking the record. George Hamilton, Delta Sigma Pi, established the 38.4 seconds mark last year.

Combining their talents on Theta Chi's 120-relay team, Ralf Stuck, George Walz, Jim Nelson, and Herb Kurtz, stroked their way to victory to give their team a hard-fought 23-17 conquest over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Walz was a double winner for Theta Chi, winning the freestyle, and swimming on the relay team.
