

The Lion's Lair

By ERNIE MOORE
Collegian Sports Editor

Bob Pollard, Lion wingback and defensive halfback, is rapidly becoming one of the top punt returners in the country.

Already this season he has carried one kick back for 65 yards and a touchdown and against Nebraska his return of more than 70 yards was nullified by a holding penalty.

Last Saturday, against West Virginia, the Berywin product almost broke loose for scores on two different occasions. He made a beautiful return of Dick Luciani's punt which went over his head and back to the goal line. Bob picked the ball up in the end zone and with a couple of good blocks moved up field. Just when it looked as if he might break loose, Carl Norman came out of nowhere to nail him. Had he missed the tackle, Mr. Pollard would have been off to the races.

Sophomore end Don Malinak almost broke into the scoring column Saturday on a freak play, but the officials ruled no soap.

When Gerald McInerney attempted a pass in the third period, Dave Simon rushed through to block it. Kiki Konstantinos, West Virginia tackle, picked it out of the air and started up field. He was hit hard and fumbled after he went four yards. Out of the scramble came Malinak with the ball and three or four Penn State blockers with him. He carried the ball 60 yards into the end zone. But the officials ruled that he had picked the ball off the ground and the run and score were nullified.

Lion defensive end Pat McPoland came up with a shoe-string tackle Saturday which might be termed a game saver. When Dick Luciani broke loose in the third quarter from his own 27 yard line, McPoland took a flying leap at him and just tripped him enough to throw him off balance. Luciani stayed on his feet but was off balance enough that he fell when he started to run again.

There were a couple of State men to the left and ahead of him but you can never tell—he might have gone all the way. Another TD for West Virginia could have really spoiled Penn State's afternoon.

Fireballs Nip Dorm 25, Gridders -- Advance to Quarters

By GEORGE BAIREY

The high-scoring Fireballs eked out a scant 7-0 second round win over Dorm 25 to advance to the quarterfinals of the IM grid tourney last night at the IM field. In two previous games, the Fireballs had racked up a total of 71 points, while holding the opposition scoreless.

A keyed-up Dorm 25 defense plus bitter cold weather accounted for the low-scoring contest. The game was marred by constant fumbles and dropped passes.

The lone tally came at the beginning of the second half with Walt Laska, Howie Lenz, and Chuck Leech figuring in the 70 yard spurt. Laska hit Paul Klem-pay for the extra point.

Pottsville Wins
A triple 24 yard second half scoring pass gave Pottsville a 6-0 decision over the Air Force last night and moved it to the quarters.

After a scoreless first half, Pottsville's Bob Pebley threw to Jim Kandrat who relayed to Tom Cummings in the end zone for the only score. The attempted pass conversion was no good.

Neither nine could assemble a minor threat the rest of the way, as the game turned into a punting and fumbling duel.

Leftovers Ousted
The only overtime of the night found Dorm 8 eliminating the Leftovers, 1-0, in a second round contest.

The winners advanced to the round of eight by virtue of Ed Montoro's sweep of the Leftover left side. The play, coming on the fourth play of the six-play overtime series, carried to the enemy 33-yard line. The Leftovers could not pick up the necessary yardage on its final play and were ousted from the single-elimination tournament.

In the final game of the all-independent card, Dorm 33 outclassed the Arabs 13-0 on the merit of the throwing arm of Dave Zebley. The lanky Zebley hurled two TD aeriels to Carl Shaner, one in the dying minutes of each half.

The first-half marker climaxed a 38-yard drive, led by the Zebley-Shaner combination. The extra point was missed.

An intercepted pass set up the final Zebley-Shaner score. This one, coming inside the final two minutes, covered 17 yards. Zebley threw to Tom Shoff for the final point.

Shirk Selected Athlete of Week

Don Shirk, the Nittany soccer team's ace center forward, was voted athlete of the week by the Daily Collegian sports staff for his outstanding performance in Penn State's 3-1 victory over Colgate Saturday.

Shirk took charge the minute he entered the game in the final quarter. He scored two goals for the Lion booters after the match had been in a 1-1 deadlock.

He scored first on a pass from left wingman Charles Snyder, registering a goal at 7:45 to put the Jeffrey men ahead, 2-1.

DU, Acacia ACS, Post Swim Wins

By JOHN SHEPPARD

Delta Upsilon's swimmers continued their undefeated quest for intramural swim laurels yesterday afternoon at Glennland pool as they recorded their second triumph of the campaign. In other activity Acacia and Alpha Chi Sigma also posted victories.

The Delta Upsilon swimmers found the sailing somewhat smooth as they took four of the five events in turning back Phi Gamma Delta, 28-13. Jerry Maurey continued his good swimming as he won the 60 yard freestyle event for DU with a 36.7 second timing.

Maurey Wins Diving
The DU attack stalled momentarily when Alpha Chi Rho copied the backstroke. However, the DUs came back strong, taking the breaststroke with Bill Winterburn leading the swim. Leading 15-12, Maurey displayed some near-faultless diving to clinch the win for his teammates. After the stocky athlete accomplished this feat, the DU 120 yard freestyle relay combine easily stroked its way to victory for the final tally.

A surprisingly strong Acacia team managed to outswim previous one-time winner Kappa Delta Rho, 24-19. Bill Kilmer, Acacia performer, walked away with individual honors as he won the 60 yard breaststroke and diving events. Although Acacia lost the 120 yard relay event, the eight points garnered by Kilmer in the diving was sufficient to proclaim them victors.

Acacia Shows Promise
In registering their upset triumph, the Acacia mermen gave evidence of being one of the top contenders for this season's title. All of their races were close, and the winners in many instances were determined by a hand.

In the last meet of the evening, Alpha Chi Sigma's natators squeezed by Beta Sigma Rho, 21-19. Action was fast and furious as the lead changed hands three times. Jerry Kotzen won the 60 yard freestyle event for BSR with 23, Dick Luciani went over left tackle for 11 yards to the 12. Carl Norman bucked to the seven and Tom Allman took it over from there on the next play. Shockey VanHorn's kick was good and West Virginia took a 7-0 lead with less than seven minutes gone in the game.

(Continued from page six)

State did not get into the scoring column until the final minutes of the first half. Joe Shumock intercepted a McInerney pass on the State 42 and carried it back to the West Virginia 46. On third down, Pollard hit Shattuck with a pass from the 43 to the 25. Yanosich picked up nine yards over left tackle. In two plays, Shattuck brought the ball to the five yard line. Two smashes at the line by Yanosich finally put the ball over. Bill Leonard's kick was wide and the Lions trailed, 7-6.

During the third quarter, the two teams battled between the 20 yard lines with neither team getting into scoring position. Shortly after the last quarter got under way, State took possession of the ball on the West Virginia 44 after Luciani had kicked out from the 18. On the first play, Tony Rados passed to Joe Yukica for 14 yards to the 30. Shattuck broke outside right tackle for 23 yards to the West Virginia seven yard line. Three smashes at the stubborn line by Shattuck moved the ball to the one foot line. On fourth down, Rados crossed up the Mountaineer defense by sending Shattuck over right end for the score. This time Leonard's kick was good and State led 13-7.

West Virginia threatened in the final seconds when McInerney started to heave passes in an attempt to beat the clock. The Mountaineers moved to State's 44 before time ran out on them.

WEST VIRGINIA
ENDS—Bischoff, Marker, Walsh, Davis, Starkey.
TACKLES—Konstantinos, Berkich, Lamone, VanHorn.
GUARDS—Canton, Harrick, Dunkerley, Watson, McCleary.
CENTERS—McLaughlin, Donaldson.
BACKS—McInerney, Norman, Luciani, Allman, Loring, Jarrett, Sweeney, Snider, Forrelli, Bledsoe, Purrelo.
PENN STATE
ENDS—Betts, Yukica, Malinak, McPoland, Newman, Simon, Wilson, Arnel.
TACKLES—Hoover, Hockersmith, Pfirman, Scheetz, Rehm, Cripps.
GUARDS—Bartek, Barney, Schoderbek, Fevamik, Shumock.
CENTERS—Dooley, Gratson.
BACKS—Rados, Shattuck, R. Pollard, Yanosich, Szajna, Bailey, Vestling, Leonard, Johnson, Shephard, Rowell, Shopa.
Score by quarters:
West Virginia 7 0 0 0—7
Penn State 0 6 0 7—13
West Virginia scoring—Touchdown: Allman. Extra point: VanHorn (conversion).
Penn State scoring—Touchdowns: Yanosich, Shattuck. Extra point: Leonard (conversion).

a fast 33.4 second timing. Then, Dave Melinious stroked to a 50.4 win for ACS. BSR came back to win the backstroke race when Jake Hirsch was clocked in 44.2 seconds. With the score knotted at 13 apiece, ACS's Herb Jones performed three nicely executed dives to cop his event, and give ACS its hard-fought victory.

Syracuse, Villanova, MS Win Weekend Grid Games

Michigan State, Syracuse, and Villanova were the only Penn State football opponents victorious over the weekend. Four other opponents lost, and Rutgers did not play.

Temple, 20, Boston University, 13—In a Friday night game the Owls twice came from behind to upset a favored Terrier team, 20-13. BU's great quarterback Harry Agganis completed 14 of 23 passes and threw one TD aerial.

Villanova, 33, Houston, 27—The Wildcats managed to edge past the Texans in a free-scoring game in Houston, Saturday night.

Missouri, 35, Nebraska, 19—Missouri ran wild with 35 points to keep the Cornhuskers winless this season. Even the return of Bobby Reynolds, Nebraska's great halfback, could not turn the tide.

Michigan State, 53, Pitt 26—In a battle of two of the Nittany Lions' opponents, the Spartans rallied in the second half to avert an upset and trounce the Panthers, 53-26. Quarterback Bob Bestwick was the big gun for the losers as he set three Pitt passing records. Pitt's 26 points represented the most scored on the unbeaten Spartans this season.

Syracuse, 33, Fordham, 20—The Orangemen defeated Fordham for the first time in the history of the schools. Syracuse was paced by quarterback Avatus Stone, who threw three touchdown passes.

Notre Dame, 30, Purdue, 9—The Irish spearheaded by three hard-running freshmen rolled up 23 points in the last two quarters and defeated the Boiler makers, 30-9. Quarterback Dale Samuels completed 12 of 21 passes for the losers.

NFL Contends TV, Radio Rights Were Not Denied

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29—(AP)—The National Football League today contended it has never denied the public opportunity to see and hear reproduction of professional football by means of television and radio.

The NFL, through its attorney, former Sen. Francis J. Myers, filed a petition in U.S. district court requesting dismissal of the federal anti-trust suit charging the league with controlling radio and TV broadcasts of professional football games.

A hearing will be held Dec. 17 on the NFL's petition. The government specifically charges the NFL with violating the Sherman Anti-trust Act by setting up the rules under which league games can be broadcast over radio and television—in effect denying radio and TV to certain areas.

IM Schedule

Football

7:00—Nittany Co-op vs Lords
7:45—Dorm 4 vs 39'ers
8:30—Kappa Delta Rho, vs Alpha Tau Omega
9:15—Beta Theta Pi vs Triangle

Swimming

Clairton Cokes vs Dorm 44
McKee Hall vs Sail Fish

Prettier Than a Picture . . .
FRAMES
by
TREASURE HOUSE
E. COLLEGE AVE.
Wide Variety of Frames for your composite and La Vie Pictures

Guess the Game Score by Quarters

| | | | | | |
|------------|---|---|---|---|-------|
| Team | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | total |
| PURDUE | | | | | |
| PENN STATE | | | | | |

Attach this clipping to a Penn State Laundry slip and be sure it is in the office before game time. The nearest guess wins —

$10 FREE LAUNDRY

Winner for Michigan State-Penn State game
T. A. Tamackin, Beta Theta Pi

Winner for West Virginia-Penn State game
J. W. Kay, 254 S. Bernard Street

Penn State Laundry
320 S. Beaver Ave. Phone 3261

FALL SALE OF SUITS

Come in and see these STRIKING VALUES!

- BLUE FLANNEL SUITS 100% WOOL
- DONEGAL TWEEDS 100% WOOL longs & regulars

Imagine, latest styles for such low prices! $29.50

DON'T MISS THIS SALE COME EARLY!

112 S. FRAZIER ST.
Next Door To the Fire House
Open Mon. & Fri. till 9 P.M.

Pennshire
FACTORY TO YOU
Clothes