

Gridders Meet Purdue Tomorrow

Even Game Jinx Threatens Lions' Chances in Intersectional Battle

Penn State will try to break the even game jinx which has been dogging the Lion gridgers since the season opened, when it plays Purdue University tomorrow afternoon at Lafayette, Ind.

So far this season, Coach Rip Engle's gridgers have been unable to win an even numbered game, dropping both their second and fourth contests and winning their first, third and fifth games.

After defeating Boston University in the opener, 40-34, the Lions lost to Villanova, 21-14, Nebraska fell in the third game, 15-7, but Michigan State won the fourth game, 32-21. Last weekend, in the fifth game, the Lions won, 13-7. Tomorrow's game with Purdue will be the sixth contest of the campaign.

First Meeting of Schools

When the Lions meet the Boilermakers tomorrow it will mark the first time the two schools have met on the gridiron. Purdue will go into the game in search of its second win of the season, having lost four.

The ten point underdog Lions' chances for an upset in the intersectional clash were dimmed somewhat when it was learned that Paul Anders and halfback Bill Leonard will not play against the Boilermakers. Neither player made the trip because of injuries.

Joe Gratson, who injured his neck in the West Virginia game, made the trip to Lafayette and is expected to start against the Boilermakers as a defensive line-backer.

Anders, who was injured in the Nebraska game, is physically fit to play but he hasn't worked out for a couple of weeks and it was decided to leave him at home in favor of a player in tip-top shape.

The Lions are scheduled to arrive in Lafayette at about noon today and work out in Purdue Memorial Union Stadium this afternoon.

Coach Rip Engle said he felt the Lions would be up against one of their tougher foes in Purdue although its record isn't too impressive.

"Purdue is a typical Big Ten team but we'll be out there fighting and we hope to come home with a victory," Rip said.

Injured Backs Return

Meanwhile, Purdue's hopes of winning its second victory of the season went up with the announcement from Lafayette that halfback Phil "Flip" Klezek and fullback Jerry Thorpe, who were on the injured list, will probably be back in action in the Penn State game. However, halfback Earl Heninger, who was injured in the Wisconsin game, will probably sit out the game with the Lions and wait for the Northwestern game next weekend.

Although Engle is still undecided on a starting lineup for the game with the Boilermakers tomorrow, he will probably start about the same team which opened against West Virginia last weekend.

Rip will probably start an offensive line composed of Co-captain Art Betts and Joe Yukica at ends, Bill Hockersmith and Ed Hoover at tackles, Don Barney and Len Bartek at guards, and Jim Dooley at center.

Offensive Quartet

In the offensive backfield, either Tony Rados or Bob Szajna will start at quarterback, Ted Shattuck at halfback, Bob Pollard at wingback, and either Matt Yanosich or Pete Shopa at fullback.

On the defense, Rip will probably go along with Pat McPoland and either Charlie Wilson or Dave Simon at ends, Stew Scheetz and Dick Cripps at tackles, Pete Schoderbek at guard, Co-captain Len Shephard, Gratson, and Joe Shumock at the linebacking positions, Pollard and Keith Vesling at halfbacks, and Chan Johnson at safety.

Halfback Buddy Rowell will kick the extra points in the absence of Leonard, and Gratson will probably do the kicking off.

One Home Game

Only one game remains on the home football schedule of the Nittany Lions. In the next four weeks, the Lions go on the road to meet Purdue, Rutgers and Pitt. Syracuse makes its visit to Beaver Field Nov. 10.

Robinson Wins 2nd IM Tennis Crown

Dick Robinson won the independent IM tennis singles championship for the second straight year by defeating Lou Landon in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-4, in the finals.

In winning his second crown, Robinson swept through six straight matches without dropping a set.

In the fraternity half of the tournament, Sam Lemon of Sigma Nu moved in to the championship flight by defeating Don Van Erp of Delta Sigma Phi, 1-6, 6-2, 8-6.

Golf Restored

Golf, oldest of five sports previously dropped in an economy move, has been restored to the Penn State athletic calendar.

X-Countrymen Meet NYU; Booters Host 'Foreigners'

By TOM SAYLOR

Penn State's soccer team will have a chance to redeem itself against foreign opposition when the Lions battle a team composed of foreign campus students at 2 p.m. tomorrow on the baseball field.

Coach Bill Jeffrey's team traveled to Iran during the last Easter vacation on a diplomatic tour and came out with one victory in three attempts. The lone win was scored at Shiraz, fifth ranking Iranian team, 3-0, in the final match of the tour.

Jeffrey's team will be facing a different type of foreign opposition this time, however, as there will be at least nine countries representing the squad.

Jeffrey Will Coach

Included in this list are Turkey, Uruguay, Argentina, Iran, Indonesia, Guatemala, Brazil, India, and Bolivia.

No definite starting lineup has been arranged by Jeffrey, who will act as coach of the team. A tentative lineup, however, has been set.

The foreigners will probably open with Rustam Roy, Iran, at goalie. Roy is the only faculty member to be represented on the squad.

Wright From Brazil

Up front, Jeffrey will use Joe Mijares at the all-important post of center forward. Mijares also plays for the varsity but will see action for the foreign team Saturday. In State's last match against Colgate, Mijares, who hails from Guatemala, saw some action in the final period.

Handling the right side of the forward wall be Carlose Wright, Brazil, at inside right and Frederico Bascope, Bolivia, at right wing.

On the left side, only one position has been decided, inside left. At that spot Nauvento Ban, of Vietnam, will start.

The backfield is still in doubt, with one exception, right fullback, where Dick Hamer, Uruguay, will probably receive the nod.

Penn State and Nebraska will wind up their current four-year football contract at State College in 1952.

Boxing Managers

All persons interested in second-assistant boxing manager jobs are asked to report to 201 Willard at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Having had their dual meet win streak snapped at nine by Army last week, Penn State's cross-countrymen will attempt to begin a new victory skein tomorrow when they race New York University.

The five mile run on the College course which starts at 2 p.m. marks the final home appearance the Lion harrriers will make this season.

With three regular Nittany starters on either the injury or sick list, the Lions' duel with NYU could be a much closer meet than was expected after the Lions trimmed Michigan State.

In Doctor's Care

Sophomore Red Hollen, top-five finisher all season, has a sprained ankle which, if it doesn't stop Red from running at all, will slow him considerably.

Lamont Smith, early season sensation with two straight wins, has been undergoing doctor's tests for organic trouble all week. He definitely will not run tomorrow, but should be available for the rest of the season.

Bothered by a fever, Pete Sarantopoulos is also unable to run against the Violets.

Still hale and hearty, Bill Ashenfelter will lead a revamped Lion lineup against the Violet. Big Bill has been improving every week after a poor start and is nearing his capability.

Makes Varsity

Captain Dudley Foster hasn't shown the form which enabled him to tie for first against the same Violets one year ago, but is due to hit his stride soon.

As a consistent third man on the Nittany squad all season, Jack Horner is not likely to do worse against NYU.

Dave Pierson, twice time trial winner this fall, has earned a varsity crack at the Violets as have Bob Ressler, Bob Gehman, and Carl Godshall.

Pete Judd, usually eighth man on the Lion squad, also will toe the mark tomorrow.

Fifth State scorer last week against Army, Jim Hamill and two other freshman, John Chillrud and Lloyd Slocum will also run.

Delts, PiKA Post Wins

Despite stiff opposition yesterday afternoon at Glennland pool, swimmers from Delta Tau Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha managed to stroke their way into the quarterfinals by winning their third matches of the campaign. Phi Kappa Tau also scored its second victory, turning back a surprisingly strong Lambda Chi Alpha squad.

In eliminating Pi Kappa Phi, last season's runner-up, 27-10, the Delts captured first place in every event except the 60 yard breaststroke. In that event Bob Wylie swam the required distance in 44.5 seconds for Pi Kappa Phi.

Three First Places

Leading 19-16 going into the 120 yard freestyle relay event, Pi Kappa Alpha's relay team of Gil Wetzel, Bill Harral, Larry Cummings, and Bob Brumbaugh stroked to a photo finish climax to give their team a hard-fought 24-16 victory. Brumbaugh, PKA anchorman, and Bob Fitzgerald, SPE anchorman, hit the water simultaneously, but Brumbaugh pulled ahead at the half-way mark to record his win.

Although the SPE's garnered three first places, the PiKA merlads won enough second and third places to register their victory. Braumbaugh won a third in diving and a first in the 60 yard freestyle. Fitzgerald won the 60 yard breaststroke and diving for SPE.

Wins Freestyle

Combining their talents on Phi Kappa Tau's 120 yard freestyle relay team, Ed Cambell, Don Zurflich, Paul Simpson, and Bob McFadden swam a 1.07 timing to give their team the necessary points for their second triumph. McFadden won the 60 yard freestyle event with a fast 33.2 clocking for PKT. Al Kinkle, then came back to win the 60 yard backstroke for Lambda Chi Alpha. His time was 45.5 seconds.

Pigskin Pipe Dreams

Pigskin Pipe Dreams, the Daily Collegian's football selections contest between three sportswriters and a representative of the football team, enters its seventh week. The sportswriters are out in front with a .655 percentage while the football team has a .598 average.

Tony Rados, quarterback for the Lions, will attempt to continue the good work of Joe Gratson. Last week Gratson picked ten correct to defeat the writers, and raise the gridgers' percentage.
