

The World At a Glance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—President Truman today appointed Lieut. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., as commandant of the Marine Corps, effective January 1. Shepherd will replace Gen. Clifton B. Gates.

TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 5—(AP)—The government of Iran announced today that with God's help and no foreign engineers it is operating part of the old Anglo-Iranian Oil Company refinery temporarily to supply domestic needs.

An official said if foreign customers show up with their own tankers to take away oil the operation may be expanded and kept going.

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 5—(AP)—The Nobel Peace Prize for 1951 has been awarded to Leon Jouhaux of France, the Norwegian Nobel Institute announced tonight.

Jouhaux, a militantly anti-Communist labor leader, is the 50th recipient of the prize.

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Tuesday, Nov. 6—(AP)—Allied troops—supported by tanks, artillery and waves of planes—launched a second furious counter-attack Monday to regain two key western front positions lost Sunday in a sudden Communist thrust.

Heavy Red casualties were indicated, one Allied officer estimating it would take 1000 men just to count the Communist dead.

BERLIN, Nov. 5—(AP)—An anti-Communist Russian underground said today it has smuggled into the headquarters of Soviet Gen. Mander-in-chief, an open letter urging him to lead his Soviet Vassily Chuikov, East zone commander in a desertion from Moscow.

The refugee group, calling itself "the revolution staff," said the letter was sneaked into Chuikov's staff headquarters at Bebelberg and that copies were being circulated among Red army soldiers in East Germany.

The letter urged Chuikov to become a "hero of the people" by leading a move to oust Stalin and the Politburo from power.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5—(AP)—A no-holds-barred Democratic effort to end the 68-year-old Republican rule in Philadelphia goes before the electorate tomorrow with the Democrats regarded as having a better than ever chance of succeeding.

The election of a mayor and district attorney in this city is the principal contest in Pennsylvania, where two Congressional seats also are at stake.

Mad Rush Climaxes Dance Preparations

Friday night brings to campus the first big dance of the year, and with it a great hustle and bustle of preparation on the part of coeds. Preparations for the dance will begin about two days ahead of time, and will climax Friday night in a rushed frenzy of dressing.

This is the night on which the dormitories will be transformed into a setting similar to that found backstage at a fashion show. Gowns, shoes, and wraps of all types will be carefully draped all over the place, waiting motionless for the Junior Prommer to put them on.

IM Play Starts Third Week

Intramural play began its third week last night at White Hall. Leonides took scoring honors for the evening by trampling Town 35-9. Ann Miller, with 15 markers, and Betty Gleim, who scored 12, led the winners.

Two other victors, Co-op and McAllister, also found the victory path easy. Co-op netted a 29-17 win over Ath East. The Atherton girls led after the first period of play, but with Jane Whitney dunking 17 points, Co-op got going and won out.

Jo Graves led the way with 16 points as McAllister made it a complete blank for Atherton, dropping Ath West, 22-12. Women's Building won by forfeit over McElwain.

In table tennis, Leonides defeated Town, McElwain conquered Women's Building, Thompson B downed Thompson A, and Ath West swept to a victory over Alpha Gamma Delta.

Simmons and McAllister both won by forfeit, Simmons gaining a win over Thompson C, and McAllister over Ath East.

Although everyone knows that the dance will be mobbed and the gowns and stoles will become crushed and wrinkled after a few minutes in Rec Hall, much pressing, sewing, pinning, and pre-dance modeling will be going on this week.

Velvets Also
Ballerina length gowns seem to be the favorite this year. The most fascinating material worn will be iridescent taffeta which rustles and whispers with every movement.

Velvet, a soft, silent fabric for evening gowns, will be giving taffeta some competition.

Stand-out silhouettes are the fashion, with crinoline skirts replacing the standard hoop, and giving gowns a stiffened bell-like form.

Due to the shorter skirt length of the ballerina, dressy shoes and sheer, sheer stockings will be on view.

A Kaleidoscope
Stoles, those frothy pieces of material which add highlights of femininity to any dress, will be doing just that to many gowns this weekend.

Distinctiveness, with gowns chosen to compliment the personality and coloring of the wearer, will be the style keynote for the dance. Hundreds of couples together, the men with their dark suits, and women with their varied hues, will be a shifting kaleidoscope of color as they dance the night through at the Junior Prom.
