

President Asks Arms Reduction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—President Truman tonight called on Russia to join in a "foolproof" system of reducing the world's staggering burden of armaments—including the atom bomb.

He offered the Kremlin a choice of that or of seeing the free West get peace and security by a mighty buildup of military forces.

"If we can't get security and peace one way, we must get it the other way," he said.

Truman proposed that United Nations inspectors be allowed to conduct a continuing inventory or census of all atomic stockpiles and other weapons. The aim would be to find out the true facts about each major nation's military strength and to make sure that disarmament is being carried out equitably.

President Challenges

Heretofore Russia has balked at such inspection by outsiders.

The President issued his challenge in a major address to the nation which was beamed throughout the world by the Voice of America.

His address came just a few hours after the disarmament program was announced by the United States, the United Kingdom and France for submission to the General Assembly of the United Nations meeting in Paris.

Truman laid greatest emphasis on his proposal for "an honest, continuing inventory of all armed forces and armaments, including atomic weapons."

Talks Would Result

He coupled that with the statement that "we shall continue to build strong defenses in Europe and in other parts of the world—just as long as that is necessary."

Under the proposal made by the three nations and expanded in the President's speech the arms inventory would lead into negotiations for actual arms cuts and the carrying out of that reduction in "fairness to all."

"I urge the Kremlin to accept this proposal," Truman said.

"I urge them to make it known to the people of the Soviet Union."

Political Post-Mortem

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7—(AP)—Voters in 34 Pennsylvania communities voted to remove the ban on Sunday movies in their areas in yesterday's general election.

But 22 other municipalities—including the college towns of State College, Selinsgrove, and Lewisburg—voted to retain the ban. Greenville, the home of Thiel College, favored Sunday movies.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7—(AP)—Voters in nine Pennsylvania third class cities ousted incumbent mayors.

The turnover hit Democrats particularly. Such Democratic strongholds as Reading, Easton and York fell to Republicans. Other Democratic mayors lost out in Allentown, Carbondale, Greensburg and Lebanon.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7—(AP)—Spectacular, late gains in suburban sections gave Allegheny Republicans victory today in the district attorney race, with James F. Malone Jr. riding a flood of split ballots into office.

JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 7—(AP)—Republican Fred J. Fees scored a major upset in Tuesday's general election by winning the Cambria County district attorney contest in what otherwise was a clean sweep for the Democrats.

Taylor Calls Senate To Reconvene Soon

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7—(AP)—Sen. M. Harvey Taylor today decided to recall the recessed Senate back to work "about two weeks before the Dec. 10 reconvening date."

Taylor said he was making the move to speed up solution of the state's tax problems and to reapportion the state's 33 congressional districts before the General Assembly adjourns on Dec. 22.

The President Pro Tempore of the Senate said he was still hopeful the long-stalled one-half of one per cent income tax, proposed to balance Gov. John S. Fine's budget, would pass. But Fine was not so hopeful.

Fine also disclosed he would meet with top Republican legislative leaders on reapportionment on Nov. 14 "for the purpose of reaching accord on this situation."

The touchy reapportionment issue reached a head several weeks ago when Fine termed a bill sponsored by Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (R-Lancaster) on the subject "a wailing foundling."

Diehm, chairman of the Senate reapportionment committee, said he has an "open mind" on the matter and would be "perfectly willing to make changes if state leaders think they should be made."

UN Weighs Red Proposal; Troops Get Hill

MUNSAN, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 8—(AP)—The United Nations command today held up final judgment on a new Communist buffer zone which carried a veto clause on adjusting the cease-fire line in Korea.

The Red proposal, offered near the end of Wednesday's sub-committee meeting at Panmunjom, contained certain "ambiguous or mutually contradictory" key phrases, an Allied communique said.

Another meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m. today (9 p.m. Wednesday, EST) to consider the plan.

An allied spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, declared "if there is some clarification . . . that can be obtained from subsequent meetings, perhaps we are closer (to agreement) than we think at the moment."

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Thursday, Nov. 8—(AP)—U.S. infantry in Western Korea yesterday recaptured a commanding height in a chill wind that whistled across the stirring battle front.

Clearing weather snapped the recent calm brought on by wintry rains. The Chinese Communists trying to move back southward in central Korea lost nearly a company of men. They were caught in a trap near Kumsong.

In the air, 114 Red jets sparred in North Korean skies with Allied jets in three dog fights. The Fifth Air Force said no damage was inflicted by either side. (The North Korean radio, however, asserted two Allied planes were shot down. Red claims often are exaggerated.)

Britain's Foreign Buying to Be Cut

LONDON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Winston Churchill's government announced today it is going to cut its buying abroad by nearly a billion dollars a year and make money dearer to borrowers at home in order to get Britain out of the red.

Austerity, which the British have been taking for the 12 years since they got into the war with Germany, is coming in bigger and more bitter doses.

Imports to be cut will include food and stockpiling materials.

R. A. Butler, new Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons the bad news forecast by Churchill yesterday. Churchill said he had found Britain on the road to "national bankruptcy" and "exceptional measures" would have to be taken.

Butler said the nationalized Bank of England is raising its bank rate immediately from the present two per cent to two and one half per cent to check inflation.
