

Education Week Starts Tomorrow

Purpose of the 31st National Educational Week, which begins tomorrow, is to drive home to the nation the importance of public schools, according to Dr. Robert Patrick, associate professor of education.

"Unite for Freedom," theme for the week, was chosen because "people must struggle for survival of the free world," Dr. Patrick said, "and this can only be done through educating our youth."

College Alumni Will Receive Basic Training

Nine former students of the College have completed processing at the 2053rd Reception Center at Fort Meade, Md., and have been assigned for Army basic training.

Pvt. Joseph Allewa, who attended the College and was employed by the Bryn Mawr Feed Company, Bryn Mawr, Pa., has been assigned to the Third Armored Division at Fort Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Thomas Andress, who graduated last June with a B.S. degree, has been assigned to the Fifth Infantry Division at the Indian-town Gap Military Reservation.

Pvt. Joseph Breu, assistant sports editor of last year's Daily Collegian who graduated with a B.A. in journalism, has also been assigned to the Fifth Infantry Division at Indian-town Gap.

Pvt. David Fitzcharles, who graduated from the College last June with a B.A. in Commerce, has been assigned to the Third Armored Division at Fort Knox, Ky.

Pvt. Glenn Gamble, who graduated from the College with a B.S. in agriculture, has been assigned to the 101st Airborne Division at Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Pvt. Leroy Larson, who attended the College, has been assigned to the Fifth Armored Division at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Pvt. Lee R. Thierwechter, who graduated from the college with a degree in Biology in June has been assigned to the Third Armored Division.

Pvt. William R. Lockhart, a former member of the track team last year, has been stationed with the Third Armored Division.

Pvt. Howard O. Plasan, a former student at the college is also serving with the Third Armored Division.

Pvt. Gamble will receive eight weeks basic training. Other men will receive 16 weeks training.

Air Force Officer Program Released

A new program to train commissioned officers in aviation, bombardment, radar operation, and air force performance engineering has been announced by the U.S. Air Force.

The basic phase of the training lasts 27 weeks and the advanced phase varies in length depending on the specific course. All successful candidates are commissioned after approximately 52 weeks of training.

The program is open to men from 20 to 26 and one-half years of age who have completed two years of college. All applicants must be single.

Further information may be obtained from M/Sgt. Clair H. Costlow at the Bellefonte Army and Air Force recruiting station.

MI Scholarship Committee Chosen

A committee to screen possibilities for three $50 scholarships was appointed by the Mineral Industries student council, Thursday.

The scholarships will come from a $1500 donation left to the School of Mineral Industries by R. W. Rugh. Other scholarships will be awarded next semester.

The committee consists of Donald Harrison, chairman; Millard Rehburg, president; Clark Breading, and Norman Bowne. Anyone wishing to be considered for the scholarships should turn his name into Profs. F. R. Matson, William Spackman, or H. M. Davis.

Hours For Women

Freshman women will have 12 o'clock permissions tonight. Upperclass women have the usual one o'clock permission.

16 Freshmen Receive Sears Scholarships

Sixteen freshman students have received $100 scholarships from Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation of Chicago.

In order to be eligible for the scholarships, the students must be freshmen enrolled in the School of Agriculture in either the four-year or two-year course, rank in the upper two-fifths of their graduating class in high school, and live on a farm.

The students receiving the awards were John Allison, Paul Boyd, Robert Brown, Max Demianovich, Peter Dinger, Charles Ely, Jacob Guffey, James Jones, James Kradel, David McAlpine, Donald McCandless, Dale Mauver, Joseph Miller, Samuel Thomas, Henry Gruber, and Roger Strait.

Carl Emuls, was awarded a $100 Pennsylvania Power and Light Scholarship.

College Chosen As Test Center

Penn State has been designated as a testing center for the 1952 nation-wide administration of the National Teacher Examinations next February, Dr. Hugh N. Davison, professor of educational research, said today. Application deadline for the tests is Jan. 18, 1952.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered annually by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J.

Dr. Davison pointed out that a Bulletin of Information describing registration procedures and containing sample test questions as well as application forms for the examinations may be obtained in 111 Burrowes.

Last year, Dr. Davison said, 55 students and teachers took the examination at the College to help them to qualify for positions in Philadelphia, Erie, Pittsburgh, Scranton, and other communities in Pennsylvania.

Sigma Xi Lecture

Dr. Hans A. Panofsky, associate professor of meteorology, will speak on "Weather Forecasting as a Physical Science" at the Sigma Xi lecture at 8 p.m. Monday in 119 Osmond Laboratory.

Fundamental purposes of our schools that need to be understood by the public have been chosen as individual themes, he said.

Special Program

Daily themes are: Sunday, "Our Faith in God"; Monday, "Schools and Defense"; Tuesday, "Schools Keep Us Free"; Wednesday, "Education for the Long Pull"; Thursday, "Teaching the Fundamentals"; Friday, "Urgent School Needs"; and Saturday, "Home-School-Community."

Special programs have been arranged to dramatize the event. Local pastors will emphasize the importance of education in their services tomorrow. Movie runners will be shown all week at the downtown theaters.

Skits To Be Given

Alice Murray, a member of the Future Teachers of America, will give a short talk to the State College Parent-Teachers Association Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Two radio skits will be presented over WMAJ Thursday. The first will be from 4:55 to 5 p.m. and the second from 6 to 6:15 p.m.

FTA will present a special program Thursday at 7 p.m. "Assignment Tomorrow," a motion picture produced by the National Education Association, will be shown. Following the movie, Ed 52 students and two professors will take part in a panel discussion. The topic is "Strengthening Our Schools for the Pull Ahead."

GE Sales Course To Be Offered

A training course for a career in sales of electrical apparatus is being offered by the General Electric Co., according to William O'Brien, general manager of the apparatus sales division. A shortage of engineers caused the company to train liberal arts and business administration graduates for positions usually requiring graduate engineers.

Company schools throughout the country will provide the sales training. This will consist of a nine week course in basic electricity, a year's work on the company's test course, and two years of specialized sales training.

Schedules provide for eight hours of classes, supplemented by laboratory work. At present there are 29 trainees.

Eisenhower to Address Ag Association in Texas

46 Forum Tickets Are Still Available

Forty-six season tickets for the Community Forum series are still available at the Student Union desk in Old Main. They are $3 apiece.

Eric Johnston, economic stabilizer, is scheduled to appear before the forum Nov. 28. Other speakers scheduled are Arthur Schlesinger, Kurt Von Schuschnigg and Dr. Bernard I. Bell. A bonus speaker this year is a "possibility but not a probability," according to Clayton H. Schug, forum chairman.

Dance Class Canceled

Next Friday's meeting of the dance classes jointly sponsored by the Counseling and Student Union services has been canceled.

Members of this class may attend the Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday meetings of the group in place of their regularly scheduled meeting.

President Milton S. Eisenhower will address the agricultural division of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities at its 65th annual meeting next Tuesday in Houston, Texas.

President Eisenhower, who served from 1944 to 1947 on the executive committee and in 1946 as its chairman, last year was elected to the committee.

Dr. M. A. Farrell, acting director of the Agricultural Experiment Station; Dr. Russell B. Dickerson, vice-dean of the School of Agriculture; Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture; Dr. F. F. Lininger, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station; and Dr. Grace M. Henderson, dean of the School of Home Economics, will attend special meetings.

Other faculty members attending are J. M. Fry, director of the Agricultural Extension Service; Amos E. Neyhart, head of the Institute of Public Safety; E. L. Keller, executive assistant in Central Extension; Dean Ben Euwema of the School of Liberal Arts; Dr. Eric A. Walker, dean of the School of Engineering, and Dr. Helen R. LeBaron, assistant dean of the School of Home Economics.

Jazz Artists Find Outlet for Talent

By LIX NEWELL

Speaking of outlets for those interested in promotion, radio work, publicity, or other fields, there is now a way for people to cut loose with their particular musical instrument.

In the pre-jam session era, people who liked to join a small group and improvise on popular songs had only fraternity houses or Carnegie Hall to use. Since space was limited and not always available, there were a lot of frustrated musicians on campus.

Selection of Participants

Jack Huber, jam session director, has a dual role, in that he is a dormitory counselor in the Nittany-Pollock area and is co-musical director at the College. Knowing that the jam sessions would carry out both services, he organized them in cooperation with the Dean of Men's office to give his boys something to do on Sunday afternoon and to give all interested musicians a chance to keep in shape.

Selection of participants doesn't depend on who signs up first, as so many students believe. Music, played by a combination of, say, two jazz men, three bebop men, and three dixielanders would be pretty hard on the ears, so players must be chosen for the type of music they play.

Improvised Harmony

After the "chosen ones" get themselves situated at the TUB, one of the audience calls out a song title and the musician who knows or likes the song starts to play. It's not at all unusual for one song to be played by the same musician three or four times because there are so many possible variations.

The other members of the group may either chime in with an improvised harmony or just absorb it. Some good combinations come out of those three-instrument choruses.

Response to the sessions has been good, with almost capacity crowds coming every Sunday. With this in mind, plans to expand, which include the appearance of an out-of-town guest artist at each session have been made.

Dr. Noble to Be Chapel Speaker

Dr. Charles C. Noble, dean of Hendricks Memorial Chapel, Syracuse University, will speak on "What is in the Future for You?" at the Chapel service at 10:05 a.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The Chapel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa Taylor, will sing "Ave Maria" (Franck) as the anthem, "My Inmost Heart Now Raises" (Bach) as the introit, and "Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord" (Mendelssohn) during the service of prayer.

Theta Kappa Phi will give the flowers for the altar and attend Chapel en masse.

Eight Councils Given Budgets

Budgets for each of the eight councils were released at a recent meeting of the Inter-Student Council Board of Edward Shanken, president of the Board.

Each council will fix a budget for the semester with the amount given to them. The money will be used for newsletters, open houses, and other activities taken up by the councils.

Each council receives an equal share from 75 per cent of $1000, given by All-College Cabinet. The other 25 per cent is divided per capita, according to the number of students in its school.

The budget as released by Shanken is as follows:

Liberal Arts, $163.05; Engineering, $138.55; Agriculture, $133.35; Education, $128.55; Chemistry and Physics, $114.65; Home Economics, $113.85; Mineral Industries, $106.55, and Physical Education, $101.45.

Services Scheduled For Tomorrow

The Lutheran Student Association will conduct a service of meditation and prayer with colored slides of Biblical pictures at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Lutheran student house.

Pastor Asendorf, of the Faith Reformed church, will preach on the theme "The One Way Out" at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow. Miss Carol Reber, a student of the college, will tell of her summer experiences in work with underprivileged children at the weekly United Fellowship Student meeting at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Brother Homer of St. Barnabas Brotherhood, Gibsonia, Pa., will be guest preacher at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow. Sanford Cook, a college student, will assist with the services. Brother Homer will also address the Canterbury Club at 6:30 p.m.

SALES and SERVICE
ON FUEL OIL
& OIL BURNERS
Call
STATE GAS & OIL
PHONE 4355

Movie "A WONDERFUL LIFE" Outstanding Religious Film Award of 1951
Nov. 11th Sunday Evening - 7:30 Nov. 11th
THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
State College, Pa.
Morning Worship 10:45
Sermon by Mr. Newcomer, "THINK BEFORE YOU GIVE"

Brighter Shines
WITH 1/2 THE RUBBING
COVERS SCUFF MARKS! GIVES SHOES RICHER COLOR! Black, Tan, Brown, Dark Tan, Mid-Tan, Blue, Oxblood, Mahogany, and Neutral

Ask any G.I. about
KIWI
(KEE-VEE)
SHOE POLISH