

Time To Drop
Party Platforms?—
See Page 4

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

Campaign Has Bad Points—
See Page 4

VOL. 52, No. 45

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 14, 1951

PRICE FIVE CENTS

WRA Board Recommends Vote Release

The Women's Recreation Association Executive Board last night went on record as favoring the release of its election returns to the public.

The action was merely a recommendation. It is not binding for next year's executive board, Marilyn Williams, president, said. Last spring WRA released its returns. This fall it went along with the Women's Student Government Association in withholding its results.

The recommendation followed the board's defeat of a motion to amend its constitution. The proposal would have made it mandatory for WRA to follow the results of the recent WSGA poll concerning the release of election figures. Under the action, WRA would have to withhold its election figures.

In the poll 58.7 per cent of the women polled opposed releasing the vote count. About 85 per cent of the dorm women were polled. No attempt was made to get town women's opinions.

Leonides, independent women's organization, and WSGA still are not releasing their election returns to the public.

Peters, Kidd Elected to AIM

George Peters and Jerome Kidd were elected representatives-at-large to the Association of Independent Men Board of Governors from the West Dorms.

Peters, a seventh semester horticulture major, polled a plurality of 203 votes. Kidd, who was elected with 181 votes, is a first semester architectural engineer.

The two defeated Charles Croford, 151 votes, and Ellis Patish, 115 votes.

A total of 650 residents of the West Dorms voted in the election between 9 p.m. and 12 midnight Monday.

Tribunal Places 2 On Probation, Fines Parking Violator

Of the four cases Student Tribunal heard last night, two were placed on probation, one was given a suspended fine of $1, and the last one was released.

The most serious case was that of a student who was speeding on Shortlidge Road last Saturday evening near the Creamery. The student admitted seeing a patrolman and turning off his car lights in order to avoid detection of his license number.

Tribunal decided to place the student on probation with the Dean of Men's Office. The student will be notified by the Dean of Men's Office what he is supposed to do.

Another student was placed on probation with Tribunal for setting off a rocket in the Nittany Dorm area.

A fine of $1 was given to a student for parking illegally behind Old Main, but because the student had an excuse to go to the dispensary the fine was suspended.

One student unintentionally misunderstood the directions of a traffic officer. He was given a warning and dismissed.

Service for Warnock To Be Held Tomorrow

Memorial services for Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men emeritus who died Nov. 4, will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium.

The service will be conducted by John H. Frizzell, chaplain emeritus, and Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, chaplain. ROTC classes scheduled for Schwab Auditorium at 4:10 p.m. tomorrow have been canceled.

Chest Officials Refuse to Talk On Progress

Campus Chest officials, who have been giving reports of "poor progress" in the Chest drive since it started over two weeks ago, would not comment on yesterday's campaign developments.

Drive leaders, who expressed slight optimism concerning the drive for the first time Monday, said new totals in drive income would not be available until Thursday. The drive, aiming for $12,000, was extended last week until next Tuesday when leaders felt it would not reach its goal. Monday's contribution total was $6800.

Officials said Monday that income during the extended drive was better than expected. They indicated new solicitation procedures later this week.

Meanwhile, the faculty drive, which will benefit the Penn State Christian Association and the World Student Service Fund, continued yesterday. The faculty drive began Monday and will end Friday.

Pa. Railroad Offers 28% Student Reduction

The Pennsylvania Railroad is offering a 28 per cent reduction in railroad fares for students during Thanksgiving vacation.

This reduced rate will not be possible, however, if there are not at least 25 students leaving for the same place at one time.

Any student wishing to take advantage of this offer may place his name, address, phone number, destination, and time of departure in Edward Shanken's box at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Shanken announced that only a few students have signed up for the trains which will leave from Lewistown.

Wiggins' Talk to Open Intercollegiate Colloquy

J. R. Wiggins, managing editor of the Washington Post, will deliver the opening address at the intercollegiate colloquy, "The Loyalty of Free Men," to be held this weekend at the College.

Wiggins will speak on "A Free Press and a Free Society" at the opening banquet, 6 p.m. Friday, at the Nittany Lion Inn. Reservations for the banquet may be secured by students for $2, but only a limited number are available.

Banquet reservations and registration are being handled by Student Union and the Penn State Christian Association office, 304 Old Main. The registration fee is $1.

The colloquy, which is sponsored by the PSCA will explore the relevance of religion to politics and government. The title is taken from a book, "The Loyalty of Free Men," by Alan Barth, Washington Post editorial writer.

Seven men prominent in either religion or politics will conduct four panel discussions on aspects of the subject. Richardson Dilworth, newly-elected district attorney of Philadelphia, will speak on "Individual Rights and a Free Society."

Father Charles Owen Rice of Duquesne University and Dr. (Continued on page eight)

Party Campaigns Enter Final Day

Blood Donor Relaxes

CHARLES KRUGER, senior, was one of 168 students to donate a pint of blood yesterday at the TUB. Elizabeth Jankowiak, a Red Cross nurse, smiles encouragement.

Red Cross Pleased With Blood Pledges

By DAVE JONES

Red Cross officials said yesterday they were pleased with the "remarkable" reaction of Penn State students to the blood drive now being conducted at the TUB. The donation period began Monday and will end tomorrow.

Dorothy Cornelius, chief nurse of the Johnstown Red Cross unit conducting the operations, said her staff was "pleased and surprised" with the number of pledges, which yesterday rose to 987. She said reaction was not usually so good.

Yesterday 168 students donated blood in the second day of the drive. The Red Cross unit is capable of handling 192 donors in a normal six hour day. Drive officials yesterday said the unit will return Dec. 13 to secure donations from 200 students who have not been scheduled because of time limitations. The unit will be located at the State College American Legion post on that day.

Miss Cornelius said student reaction to the operations was "really excellent," adding that donors have been very cooperative.

She also said that "remarkably few" students have been turned away for health reasons. She pointed out that only a few of the donors were failing to keep their appointments.

"Most students," she said, "are surprised at how simple the whole donating procedure is." The Red (Continued on page eight)

Veterans' Receipts Will Be Refunded

The first refund of veterans' book checks will be made tomorrow and Friday at the bursar's office.

Veterans from A to M will be paid tomorrow and N to Z Friday. Where book receipts are sufficient, class dues have been deducted and a check for the difference has been written. Where the book receipts submitted are insufficient to cover class dues, a bill for the remaining amount has been charged against the student's account and is payable immediately at the bursar's office.

12 Candidates Meet Students, Explain Planks

With the passing of two of the three campaign days for the freshman and sophomore class elections, both political parties stepped up activity yesterday in attempts to get votes.

All 12 candidates, six from each party, were visiting living units to meet prospective voters and explain their party platforms.

Voting will take place in the second floor lounge of Old Main from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Candidates Freshman Class

President
David Lewis (S)
Robert Smoot (L)

Vice President
Barry Kay (S)
John Apgar (L)

Secretary Treasurer
Phoebe Powell (S)
Dorothy Ebert (L)

Sophomore Class

President
John White (S)
Donald Herbine (L)

Vice President
Harry Solomon (S)
Charles Obertance (L)

Secretary Treasurer
Lolita Robinson (S)
Virginia Moore (L)

Election committee officials will be in charge of the ballot casting.

Members of the elections committee will meet at 5 p.m. today in the student government room to discuss procedure.

Ray Evert, Lion Party clique chairman, reported to All-College elections committee chairman Carroll Chapman that his party posters were being torn down in the West Dorms area and in town. Chapman said such actions could hurt a party instead of helping it. It was stressed that if anyone was doing it to aid a party and to hinder another, the strategy may well backfire.

Robert Amole, State Party clique chairman, said no one in the party was tearing the posters. (Continued on page eight)

Klisanin to Attend WSSF Meeting

William Klisanin, National Student Association chairman, is one of the six Americans attending the first 1951-52 meeting of the general committee of the World Student Service Fund today in New York.

Klisanin is representing NSA as president of the Pennsylvania Region of United States NSA.

NSA is sponsoring WSSF along with Hillel, Newman Club Federation, and the United States Christian Council. These organizations and education leaders are represented on the general committee which decides the policy and disburses funds of WSSF.

Staff executive reports, campaign plans, world university service, and displaced persons are on the committee's agenda.

MI LaVie Pictures

Seniors in the School of Mineral Industries will have pictures taken for the 1952 LaVie starting today and ending at 4 p.m. Friday at the Penn State Photo Shop.

TODAY'S WEATHER

CLOUDY,
WINDY,
AND MILD
WITH SHOWERS

J. R. Wiggins