

Between the Lions

By DAVE COLTON
Assistant Sports Editor

The secret has been broken, and the scandal revealed. The Daily Collegian sports staff has finally figured where "Fearless" Bob Vosburg, assistant sports editor, gets his inside information for his predictions in the Pigskin Pipe Dreams football contest.

Vosburg has been leading the prognosticators most of the year and has a .551 percentage. Last week he came into the Collegian office and couldn't figure whom to select in the Baylor-Texas game. So he whipped out a coin and flipped it into the air. "Heads, it's Baylor," he shouted. Heads it was—so he selected Baylor, and was the only contestant to pick the game correctly.

Wonder how many persons noticed the act Tom Lehr, senior Syracuse end, performed at the end of the first half Saturday? Lehr didn't know the clock was running out, so he fell to the ground in mock pain in an effort to stop the clock and give the Orangemen time for another pass. As soon as the referee blew his whistle to signify the end of the half, Lehr jumped up and was one of the first players off the field.

It's strange what a difference one player can still make in a team-work game. Freshman Jack Pinezich returned to Penn State's soccer lineup Saturday and his sparkling play helped the booters look better than they have all season. And the return of full-back Paul Anders after an absence of three weeks gave the football team the added punch it needed to look like a well-balanced outfit.

We see that Coach Joe Bedenk's old baseball nemesis, Ray Van Cleef, former Rutgers center-fielder, has been signed by the Detroit Tigers. Van Cleef was named to both the 1950 and '51 All-American collegiate baseball teams. In 1950 when Rutgers represented the district in the NCAA playoffs he batted .408 and was voted most valuable player in the tourney. The Tigers have assigned him to their Williamsport, Class A Eastern League farm. He received a bonus for signing.

George Lazar, Latrobe, won the PIAA cross-country meet at the College course, Saturday. He ran the two and one-eighth mile course in 11:02.6. Altoona upset the dope and defeated defending champion, Mt. Lebanon, of Pittsburgh, for team honors. Altoona finished with 66 points, while Mt. Lebanon was runner-up with 80.

No Corner Sitter

Jack Horner Cross-Country Mainstay

By JAKE HIGHTON

Jackson Horner, one of the five cross country runners who will carry Penn State chances for a repeat victory in the Inter-collegiate Monday, took a gamble last year on bigger running stakes and was proved enough to win on it this year.

After graduation from Johnstown High School where he was District VI mile and half-mile champion in 1948, Jack received a part scholarship to West Virginia Wesleyan College. But after one year there, he decided to transfer to Penn State because it posed a "better chance to get ahead" in the track world.

But Jack took the chance and won dividends for himself and Penn State. Capably filling in one of the many holes left from last year's national championship team, Jack could be instrumental in bringing another such running laurel to the Nittany Vale.

Ineligible last fall as a transfer student, Jack ran all season and often well enough to have been sixth or seventh on the team if eligible.

Now in this his first cross country year for the varsity, "little Jack Horner" has not been content to sit in his corner. Rather he has run so well for the Lion harriers that he has never been worse than fourth man on the team in six dual meets.

Jack tied for first against Cornell. Then against Michigan State he tied for fourth in 26:26.5 and was one of three Lions who as fifth finisher on the team made a faster clocking than any other previous Nittany team.

Jack, a sixth semester physical education major, plans to graduate in February, 1952, which leaves Coach Chick Werner a valuable asset for the coming indoor and outdoor track and also next fall's cross country seasons.

Horner's Corner: Captain of Johnstown High's track team during his senior year, Jack added the District VI mile and half-mile crowns to the half-mile gold medal he won as a junior . . . This winter and spring Jack will concentrate on the mile and two mile . . . Jack's a Theta Chi, 22, weighs 145 and is 5'11" . . . His ambition is to coach cross country and track.

Carter, Aragon Meet for Title

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13—(AP)—The lightweight boxing division, which has been slumbering quietly for many months, should awaken with a good sized jolt tomorrow night when Champion Jimmy Carter and Challenger Art Aragon collide in a unique "dinner hour" brawl for the title.

Promotor Cal Eaton is staging the 15-round-or-less match at the unorthodox time of 7 p.m. (Pacific Standard Time).

The reason for this is that the bout will be televised—not within a 150-mile radius of Los Angeles—but to the rest of the nation over Columbia Broadcasting Company's network, hitting the screens at 10 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time.)

Use of Ineligible Player Results in Dorm 41 Loss

Another case of an ineligible player turned up in Monday night's IM basketball games and resulted in a team forfeiting a game to its opponent.

Ford City was leading Dorm 41, 19-14, when it was discovered that Dorm 41 was using an ineligible player and Ford City was immediately awarded a forfeit win.

Dorm 36 piled up a commanding 17-3 halftime lead over the Mercuries and then coasted to an easy 37-9 victory.

In one of the lowest scoring games of the year, Simmons Hall bested the Alcoholics, 13-10.

With none of their players scoring more than four points, the Hawks overcame a 7-6 halftime deficit to defeat Dorm 24 by a close 19-17 score.

In another one of the night's tight games, Dorm 35 and Dorm 26 battled down to the final whistle with Dorm 35 coming out on top, 18-17.

McElwain Hall overcame Dorm 5's slight 6-5 halftime lead and went on to eek out a 17-15 victory.

The Fireballs, newly-crowned IM football champs, eased up some in the second half after leading 21-3 at halftime, but still won easily over the Mustangs, 39-11. Paul Klempay was the high man for the Fireballs with 14 points and Bill Warrender was close behind with 10.

Blose scored 11 points to lead Palmerton to a decisive 27-13 victory over Triple A.

Epars raced to a 26-10 triumph over the Radads.

Bosox, Chisox Swap Players

BOSTON, Nov. 13—(AP)—The straight swap of southpaw pitcher Chuck Stobbs and infielder Mel Hoderlein to the Chicago White Sox for righthanded pitcher Randy Gumpert and outfielder-infielder Don Lenhardt was announced tonight by General Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox.

Cronin, however, declined to comment on how the newly acquired players would fit into new Manager Lou Boudreau's 1952 plans. Gumpert appeared in 33 games, mostly in relief last season, and wound up with a 9-8 record. With the St. Louis Browns and White Sox, Lenhardt played in 95 games and compiled a .265 batting average.

A 11,000 student enrollment once again will bar the public from Penn State's 6000-seat indoor athletic arena.
