FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 52, No. 46

STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 15, 1951

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

1st Semester Frosh Barred From Suites

No first semester freshman woman will be permitted in any sorority suite at any time until the end of this semester according to Marilyn Levitt, president of Panhellenic Council.

Organized parties, hayrides, slumber parties, or other affairs sponsored by a sorority or by any of its members are also taboo for these women, Miss Levitt said.

Last year, freshman women were allowed to regard the sorority suites as a regular part of the dormitory and visit them at any time, but this privilege gave rise to "dirty rushing" by the sororities, Miss Levitt stated.

She also said penalties for illegal rushing will be meted out to any sorority disobeying the rulings.

Three Weeks Penalty

Social probation is used by the council as punishment for illegal rushing methods. Probation is a strict ruling preventing any social function or entertainment by the sorority penalized.

Three weeks of social probation is the penalty for the first rushing infraction; six weeks for the second offense; and social probation for a complete semester, for the third offense.

A sorority will be reported in the following manner:

1. One signed and one unsigned accusation will be given to the Panhellenic Judicial committee. The unsigned copy will be shown to the accused sorority, while the signed copy will be kept by the committee.

2. The accused sorority will be given a chance to present its case.

3. After the facts have been

New Group Accepted By IFC

The Interfraternity Council last night unanimously accepted the petition of Kappa Alpha Psi for membership in the IFC.

The fraternity has been recognized by the College as a local chapter, and will become eligible for national recognition in April. Kappa Alpha Psi is a non-discriminatory fraternity. The local chapter has nine members at present.

The council also discussed orchestras for the IFC-Panhel Ball to be held April 4. Five bands were selected by the group for study. The five, in order of preference, are: Ralph Flannigan, Les Brown, Sammy Kaye, Tommy Dorsey, and Ray Anthony.

Establishment of standing committees of rushing and social chairmen was approved by the council. The rushing committee will be limited to from four to six members. Recommendations for the establishment of the committees came as a result of the IFC Workshop program.

An investigation committee to study a safety program proposed by the Dean of Men's office was appointed, and report on the Fraternity Management Association and a summary of the IFC Workshop were presented.

Cabinet Will Hear Junior Class Plan

A proposal to establish a permanent junior class weekend committee is expected to be introduced before All-College Cabinet tonight by Junior Class President Michael Hanek.

All-College President James Worth said that the committee if established, would be empowered

Tentative Agenda

- Roll call
- Minutes of previous meeting
- Adoption of agenda
- Reports of officers
- Reports of committees:
 1. Lawn decorations
 2. Junior prom
 3. Inklings
- New Business:
 1. Junior class weekend
 2. Appointments of committees

ed to plan an annual junior weekend program such as the one held this year.

The meeting will be held at 8 tonight in 204 Old Main.

A report from the lawn decorations committee, which annually conducts a contest among architecture majors to choose the Christmas display to be set up in front of Old Main, is also on the tentative agenda.

Stan Wengert, Interfraternity Council president, is expected to make the report.

Cabinet also is scheduled to receive a financial report from Merritt Dinnage on the Junior Prom and a report by Florenz Fenton on the Inklings.

Last Showing Of 'Candida' At 8 Tonight

"Candida," a three-act play by George Bernard Shaw, will be presented for the last time at 8 tonight.

The play opened at the Little Theater in the basement of Old Main Tuesday night under the direction of graduate student Edward Menerth as a partial requirement for his M.A. degree.

Joe Bird plays the "moralist and windbag," Rev. James Morell, husband of Candida, played by Francine Toll. Myron Cole enacts the part of the wild-eyed, dreamy poet Eugene Marchbanks who tries to win Candida through his weakness as opposed to the strength of Rev. Morell.

Margaret Mulligan plays the secretary, Prosperpine Garnett; John Pakkanen portrays Rev. Alexy Mill, and Bill Sample has the part of Candida's father.

Pakkanen also serves as the stage manager for the play and Ed Rolf has charge of properties. Lighting is in charge of Dick Patterson, Thann Tranter and Pat Marsteller.

Ruth Harding and Charles Schulte handle the costumes, Don Barton and Ivan Ladizinsky the house, and Kelly Yeaton is faculty adviser.

Colloquy to Hear Two Theologians

Father Charles Owen Rice of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, and Dr. John Bennett of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will deal with the problem "The Religious Basis of Freedom" at the intercollegiate colloquy on "The Loyalty of Free Men," to be held at the College this weekend.

This discussion will take place at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in 121 Sparks, where all colloquy discussions will be held. An open discussion will follow the talks, in which all delegates to the colloquy may participate.

Approximately 40 delegates from four other colleges—Albright, Allegheny, Juniata and Wilson—will attend the conference.

Father Rice, on the faculty at Duquesne University, was one of the speakers at last year's colloquy, also sponsored by the Penn State Christian Association.

Dr. Bennett has participated in religious activities throughout the world. He was secretary of the section on the church and the disorder of society at the Amsterdam Assembly in 1948. In the summer of 1950 he went to Japan at the invitation of the United Council of Christians and Jews and the National Council of Churches to "interpret the theological basis for social responsibility."

Dr. Bennett has also written many books on Christianity and social responsibility.

Student committee for the colloquy includes Joseph Geiger and Miriam Kugelman, co-chairmen; Irene Jeffress, Joseph Galati, Florenz Fenton, Moylan Mills, Charles Douds, Susan Neuhauser, and Edward Gildea.

The faculty committee includes Dr. Wallace Brewster, Dr. John Ferguson, Harry Butcher, Prof. William Edgerton, Lee Carter, Dr. Neal Reimer, Dr. William Mather, Wayne Glick, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby, Dr. W. Conrad Fernelius, and Prof. Arthur H. Reede.

FTA Broadcast To Be Today

"Education for Crisis" will be broadcast over WMAJ from 4:55 to 5 p.m. today in conjunction with American Education Week.

Students in the cast are Anne Rebholz, Jock Harris, Connie Taylor, John Citron, and Jay Murphy, Julian A. Cook Jr., will direct the program.

The Future Teachers of America will present a special program at 7 tonight in 2 and 3 Carnegie Hall. "Assignment Tomorrow," a motion picture produced by the National Education Association, will be shown. Following the movie, Education 52 students and two professors will take part in a panel discussion.

Lion Will Try To Break State Election Grip

By BOB FRASER

The Lion party will attempt to break the four year grip of the State party on fall elections today when freshmen and sophomores go to the polls to choose class officers.

The State party has been victorious in every fall election since 1947.

The balloting will take place in the second floor lounge of Old Main from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Over-Expenditure Charged
A total of 5199 freshmen and sophomores are eligible to vote.

Enrollment figures show 2744 freshmen and 2409 sophomores may cast ballots. All that is required to vote is a matriculation card. Elections committee members and members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will officiate at the polls.

At an elections committee meeting yesterday, Robert Amole, State Party clique chairman, charged the Lion Party with exceeding the $150 budget set for party expenditures by the elections code. He claimed a gift made by the father of one of the Lion Party candidates was not included in the budget and that it should have been. In that case, he said, the party would exceed the limit.

Ray Evert, Lion Party clique chairman, admitted accepting the gift, but said such a gift was done at no expense to anybody and should not be counted in the budget.

Decision Tonight

Evert said he had proof that a member of the State Party had torn down his party's campaign signs. He said he has a statement

Rutgers Game Rally Planned in New Jersey

Students going to New Jersey for the Rutgers game this weekend have been invited to attend a Penn State rally to be staged tomorrow night by the Northern New Jersey Alumni Club.

The rally will begin at 8 p.m. at the Newark Athletic Club in the Military Park Hotel, 16 Park Place. The Blue Band will play at the rally, and also at a special concert at 7:15 p.m. in Military Park, located at Broad street and Park Place.

Coach Engle and former Penn State gridiron greats will also attend the rally. Steve Hamas, '29, one of Penn State's all-time athletes, and All-American griddler Leon Gajecski, '41, are among the athletes who are expected to attend.

About 300 alumni from New York and New Jersey will welcome the College delegation.

Refreshments will be served at the affair. The cost will be $2 per person.
