

Harvest Ball Queen To Receive Trophy

By PAT NUTTER

One of three excited coeds will be chosen Queen of the Harvest Ball tonight for the first time in the history of the dance. The queen, who will be chosen by audience applause, will be crowned with a garland of roses during intermission. She will also be presented with a trophy. The two-runnersup will receive loving cups.

The three finalists are Margie Perry, Nancy Showers, and Alma Street.

Miss Perry, a 20-year-old brunette from Highland Park, N. J., transferred to the College from Baldwin Wallace College in Ohio. She is a second semester sophomore, and is majoring in elementary education.

Pink With White Net

The blue-eyed coed, whose photograph was submitted by Alpha Gamma Rho, has spent her summers as a camp counselor in New York, and as a resort waitress. Her hobbies include music, swimming, and picnics.

Miss Perry will wear a pink taffeta gown with a white net overskirt at tonight's dance.

Miss Showers, a 20-year-old junior majoring in medical technology, is the second finalist. In her Williamsport High School class, she was chosen by Bing Crosby as one of the prettiest girls. Last year Miss Showers was Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Hospital Laboratory

Sponsored by the Rod and Coccus Club, Miss Showers is a member of Alpha Chi Omega. Last year she was secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class.

During the summer, the blue-eyed blonde worked in a Williamsport hospital laboratory. Her hobbies include classical music, bridge, and swimming. Tonight she will wear a white satin and net strapless gown.

Miss Street, the youngest finalist, is an 18-year-old freshman majoring in liberal arts. This blue-eyed brunette hails from Cheltenham. This fall she received another beauty honor when she was crowned "Queen of Cheltenham."

Collects Souvenirs

Miss Street explained that the occasion was the 260th anniversary of the Pennsylvania township. The mayor of Cheltenham, England, was present for the celebration, during which Miss Street was selected queen.

Sponsored by Kappa Sigma, Miss Street plans to be an airline hostess. Last summer she was a typist for Franklin Arsenal. Her hobbies include dancing, swimming, and collecting souvenirs.

At the dance she will wear a white ballerina strapless gown scattered with silver dust.

Harvest Ball To Have Queen, Garden Theme

Greenhouse plants and evergreens, encircled with a white picket fence, will transform Recreation Hall into a garden for tonight's Harvest Ball.

Green and gold will be the predominant colors in the decorations for the semi-formal dance, which will be held from 9 to midnight. Jack Huber's orchestra will provide the music.

Dr. W. C. Paddock, assistant professor of plant pathology, will be master of ceremonies for the coronation of the first Queen of the Harvest Ball. The dance is sponsored annually by the Agriculture Student Council.

Five student council presidents have been selected to judge audience applause, which will be the method used to determine the queen from three finalists.

The council presidents are Bryson Craine, Chemistry and Physics; Ralph Egolf, Education; Charles Falzone, Engineering; Edward Shanken, Liberal Arts; and Millard Rehburg, Mineral Industries.

Soph Honorary Taps 14 Coeds

Fourteen women were tapped yesterday by Cwens, sophomore women's activities honorary. The tappers are Peggy Crooks, Sally Fischer, Virginia Hinner, Linda Jacobs, Jane Mason, Diane Miller, Carolyn Pelczar, Patricia Rile, Elizabeth Stuter, Margaret Troutman, Marian Ungar, Barbara Wallace, Barbara Werts, and Nancy White.

The 14 sophomores and retiring members of Cwens attended a breakfast yesterday at McElwain dining hall, at which the tappers received gifts.

Requirements for membership in Cwens are a 1.5 All-College average and participation in at least two major activities in the freshman year. Before the years when coeds were sent to freshman centers, tapping for Cwens was done in the second semester. In recent years, tapping was postponed until the fall when women arrived on campus for their third semester.

In order to choose new members while they are still freshman, according to the earlier policy, Cwens will tap present first semester freshman this spring.

After initiation the new members will become active to replace last year's retiring group.
