

Bisons' Fast Break May Trouble Lions

Local basketball fans will have their last opportunity to see Penn State's cagers in action before Christmas vacation when the Lions host a fast-breaking Bucknell team in Rec Hall Wednesday night.

Besides the Bison encounter, Coach Elmer Gross' squad has only one other game before the holidays. Saturday the Lions will travel to Washington, Pa., to battle a strong Washington & Jefferson quintet.

Bucknell will have participated in one more game than State when the two rivals clash Wednesday night. Coach Jack Guy's dribblers downed Juniata 65-50 in their opener Wednesday. Tonight they meet Western Maryland on the Bisons' home court. State opened Wednesday with an easy 51-21 win over winless Ithaca.

Seek Revenge

Bucknell will come to State prepared to gain revenge for two setbacks administered them by last season's Nittany outfit. The Bisons have a veteran lineup spearheaded by sharp-shooting forward Joe Gallagher, who averaged 18 markers a game last season. Bucknell rooters moaned and groaned when State pulled a "freeze" at Lewisburg last winter and thwarted the Bisons' offensive tactics to win 25-15.

Gross switched style and had the Lions play their usual game in the return match in Rec Hall and the Lions swamped the eager Bisons, 67-53.

In practice drills since the Ithaca lidlifter, Gross has been using the same five which started against the Bombers: Co-Captain Hardy Williams and Joe Piorowski, guards; Tiny McMahan, center; and Herm Sledzik and Whitey Makarewicz, forwards. Makarewicz didn't perform as well as expected in the opener, but Gross believes it was just an "off-night" for the lanky forward.

Reserves Surprise

Gross was satisfied with the play of his reserves and has assistant coach John Egli working with the same seven players who saw varsity action for the first time against Ithaca. Included in the seven are two sophomores, Jack Sherry and Ed Haag, and freshman Jesse Arnette, Jim Blocker, Frank De Salle, Jim Hill, and Ronny Weidenhammer.

Johnny Yuha Still In Critical State

NEW YORK, Dec. 7—(AP)—Johnny Yuha, Elders Ridge High School grid star who suffered a broken neck in a game last Nov. 3, today continued in a critical condition at New York University Medical Center.

The 17-year-old football player, injured in a game with Bell Township High School, was operated on at Indiana, Pa., hospital and brought here for further treatment. Doctors at the medical center said another operation is warranted when Yuha's condition permits.

Klaus Elected 1952 State Soccer Captain

Center halfback Kurt Klaus, a junior from Philadelphia and one of Coach Bill Jeffrey's most consistent performers all season, has been elected captain of the 1952 Penn State soccer team.

Klaus, who is in Philadelphia with Captain Ron Coleman for the Olympic tryouts, was elected by his teammates Tuesday night at a locker room meeting.

Even though he scored only one goal this season, Klaus more than made up for it by his passing off to teammates up front.

Lose Coleman, Simmons

Dick Stanley was named head manager next season.

Of this group, only Coleman and Simmons will be lost to the Nittany Lions for the next season. Both will be lost via graduation.

Jeffrey, however, will have a tough task finding replacements to fill those big shoes.

Possible All-American

Coleman paced the State scorers this year with 11 goals, all of them coming against four clubs—Bucknell, Army, North Carolina, and Gettysburg. Coleman's 11 goals were five better than Pinezich, the runner-up.

Coleman, who was nominated to the second All-America team last year and whose picture appeared on the cover of the 1950 edition of the NCAA Soccer Guide, seems a good bet to make the All-America first team this year.

Simmons, on the other hand, was one of State's most underrated performers. The fullback got very little chance to show himself as the Lion offense usually dominated the picture.

Eastern Ring Tourney Here

A skeleton dual-meet menu topped by the Eastern Intercollegiate matches at Rec Hall March 7 and 8, plus the National championships at Madison, Wis. has been scheduled for Coach Eddie Sulkowski's Penn State boxers.

The dual meet schedule will send the Lions against Catholic U., Army, Syracuse, Wisconsin and Virginia on successive weekends.

The schedule: Feb. 2, at Catholic University; 9, at Army; 16, Syracuse; 22, at Wisconsin.

Mar. 1, Virginia; 7-8, Eastern championships. Apr. 3-5, national championships.

Stanky-Card Trade Talk Continues

NEW YORK, Dec. 7—(AP)—The Eddie Stanky-to-manage-the-Cardinals deal still hung fire today as the footsore baseball crowd arrived from Columbus for a four-day stand.

This was an official off day for the majors with the American and National Leagues scheduled to resume action in separate sessions tomorrow. They will complete unfinished business Sunday and get together for a joint meeting Monday.

With the New York Yankees promising a definite announcement on Joe DiMaggio's future plans Tuesday or Wednesday, top baseball news is expected to pop.

Want Pitchers

Reports persist that the New York Giants and St. Louis Cards finally will make their much-discussed deal of Stanky for outfielder Chuck Diering and pitcher Max Lanier.

Brooklyn is looking toward Cincinnati or Boston for pitching help with Don Newcombe's draft status still indefinite. At Columbus, the Dodgers and Reds almost got together on a deal for pitcher Howie Fox that would have sent infielder Rocky Bridges, outfielder Cal Abrams and catcher Steve Lembo to Cincinnati. Brooklyn's insistence on also getting catcher Joe Rossi, Portland draftee, killed the deal.

Spahn On Block

The Brooks were after pitcher Herm Wehmeier and mentioned infielder Bobby Morgan in another long conversation with Cincinnati. They never got together.

Brooklyn also showed interest in pitcher Vern Bickford of the Boston Braves and Bob Rush of Chicago.

Schools Must Control Athletic Aid-Hannah

By ERNIE MOORE

Whatever aid is given to college athletes must be controlled by the institution, Dr. John S. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, said yesterday.

"If alumni groups raise money for the purpose of athletic scholarships, the money should be turned over to the college," he said.

Dr. Hannah was here for the annual Faculty-Trustee dinner last night at the Nittany Lion Inn. He was the principal speaker.

Dr. Hannah, who is also chairman of the committee appointed by the American Council on Education to investigate college athletics, expressed the opinion in an interview that there is "far more good in college athletics than evil. But we're not in the entertainment business."

Part of Education

Dr. Hannah said he believed that the evils of college football could be placed into three classifications:

1. The fact that many men who make up the teams often have already used up their eligibility; 2, recruiting and subsidizing; 3, gambling.

"Athletics must be part of education," he explained. "We want to make certain that all the men who make up athletic teams are eligible, are full time students, and are working toward a degree."

Scholarships Okay

Dr. Hannah pointed out that too much publicity, bowl games, the platoon system, and tenure of coaches were the major reasons for the recruiting and subsidizing done by the colleges.

He implied that legitimate athletic scholarships were all right as long as they were controlled by the college and not the alumni.

Minimum Standards

The special committee set up by the American Council on Education to investigate and make a report of its findings is sched-

U.S. Net Team Cops Doubles

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 7—(AP)—Hopes of the United States to recapture the Davis Cup from Australia took on a brighter hue today as Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won the doubles final of the Victorian Tennis Championships.

The new American combination, unsteady in the first set, rallied after being down 1-4, to blast Adrian Quist and Geoff Brown of Australia, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3.

Now, the Americans are pulling for Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., to upset the favored Australian No. 1 ace Frank Sedgman in the singles final tomorrow.

Kooyong stadium is expected to be jammed to its 7,500 capacity for the finale between Sedgman, winner of the U. S. Nationals at Forest Hills, N.Y., last fall, and Savitt, who holds the Australian and Wimbledon singles crowns.

uled to meet again next week in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Hannah explained that the objective of the council was to set minimum standards of what is proper behavior in intercollegiate athletics that will be endorsed by educational institutions. He said he hoped that the committee would meet every two or three weeks in the future, and that the problem could be ironed out in a few months.
