Heart" he lost his place in the song but nonchalantly covered up, bringing a large round of applause from the audience.

Plays Two Numbers

Max Pfaff, concert pianist, then played two numbers—"Sonatina" by Kabalevsky and "Nocturne in B flat minor" by Chopin. Although the audience was probably not familiar with the compositions, they recognized his piano ability.

A "pop" vocalist, John Pagonis, concluded the first half of the show with two selections "Blue Moon" and "Story of Sorrento." The second half of the show started with a magic act by George Banta. He presented some clever acts, but nothing to bring the house down.

One of the most original of the acts was a Schuhplattler, or German folk dance, performed by members of Circle and Square. The dance was a humorous portrayal of the men trying to steal a kiss from their female partners but always meeting with stubborn resistance—until the very end, anyway.

Frankie Laine Imitation

Jack Timmus then did a fair imitation of Frankie Laine but was unable to keep pace with that "inimitable" voice. He sang "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You" and "My Desire."

The show ended with a vocal septette composed of Ronald Felger, Richard Plummer, Rollin Mann, Roland Zimmerman, Richard Zimmerman, Richard Halton, Richard Tussey, and Jerald Lombardo.

The boys were good, but naturally it's hard to keep seven voices on key all the time.

the copies of the bill they were carrying. Prior to the start of the day's session, the marching band of Post 23, Bellefonte, American Legion, played several marches in the rotunda of the state capitol.

Group Visits Fine

Opponents of the bill, including the CIO, AFL, and teachers' groups, wore large placards reading:

"Pennsylvania Conference Against the Pechan Bill."

Before the session started the top leaders of those opposing the bill conferred with Gov. John S. Fine in a last-ditch effort to change his support of the measure to opposition.

The group which conferred with Fine was headed by Dr. Paul W. Bruton, acting dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 30...THE SQUIRREL

This nimble-minded nutcracker almost tumbled for those tricky cigarette mildness tests. But he worked himself out of a tight spot when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness just can't be judged by a mere puff or one single sniff. Smokers everywhere have reached this conclusion—there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've enjoyed Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions
