

Windcrest Moppets Show Spirit At Barons' Christmas Party

By ARNIE BLOOM

Over 150 Windcrest youngsters, ranging in ages from three months to eight years, literally ran wild at the Barons' Christmas party at the TUB yesterday afternoon.

The youngsters, bewildered at first because they had so much space in which to run around, romped all over the TUB auditorium until they wined the student directors of the affair. After everyone

Dance Band To Perform Tomorrow

Two vocalists and 17 instrumentalists will strut their stuff at the first concert of the All-College Dance Band at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the TUB.

Directed by Jack Huber, resident counselor of the Nittany-Pollock area, the band was organized through the Dean of Men's office to give its members experience playing with a group of this size and in reading specially arranged music, and to perform concerts for campus enjoyment.

Three original numbers will be featured by the band, plus nine popular songs. The three originals are "Fudge," written by Elmer C. Wareham, associate professor of music, and "The Theme" and "Pleasant Valley," written by Huber.

Patricia Leis, vocalist, will sing "The Man I Love," and "What Is This Thing Called Love?" Ronald Spangenberg, the second vocalist, will sing "Don't Blame Me" and "I've Got My Love To Keep Me Warm."

As the band has been organized only since October, Grant Price has helped coach the saxophone section. Three music education students, James Bortolotto, James Longo, and Samuel Moldovan, are also helping coach the band in its practice sessions.

The band played five numbers to open the "Splinterville Review" last Tuesday.

The jam sessions and the chorus directed by Darrell Rishel, resident counselor in the West Dorms, were all organized in the same program of activities for students.
