

College Professors Attend Meetings During Holidays

Many conventions featuring members of the College faculty were held during the Christmas vacation.

Six members of the Speech Department participated in the annual convention of the Speech Association of America in Chicago last week.

Dr. Eugene T. McDonald, a member of the executive council of the American Speech and Hearing Association, presented a paper on "Factors Affecting the Reliability of Phonetic Analysis."

Serve on Committees
Five other members of the department, David R. Mackey, Joseph F. O'Brien, Clayton H. Schug, Dr. Bruce M. Sigenthaler and Harold P. Zelko, also presented papers at the convention. Dr. C. Cordelia Brong and Dr. Ruth A. Sydney also attended the convention.

The Midwest was also the scene of the Modern Language Association meetings, which were held in Detroit. W. L. Werner, professor of American literature, and Samuel P. Bayard, associate professor of English Composition, served on two committees.

Werner was chairman of the executive committee of the Anglo-German Group of the Modern Language Association and also acted in the same capacity with the College English Association's committee.

Attend Meetings
Bayard served on the association's committee on popular literature and folklore.

Six members of the Department of Philosophy attended meetings in Philadelphia and Bryn Mawr College. They were Dr. John M. Anderson, Ralph Cromleigh, Dr. Henry A. Finch, Dr. E. H. Freund, Dr. John A. Mourant, and Dr. Leslie M. Pape.

Arthur W. Einstein, associate professor of marketing and retailing, presented a paper before the annual meetings of the American Marketing Association in Boston.

Discusses Collective Bargaining
Dr. Joseph Marin, professor of engineering mechanics and research professor of engineering materials, was elected first vice-president for the coming year of the Society for Experimental Stress Analysis.

Dr. William N. Leonard, head of the Department of Economics and Commerce, discussed "Collective Bargaining in the Regulated Industries" at meetings of the American Economic Association in Boston over the vacation. Dr. George L. Leffler, professor of finance, discussed "Outlook for Securities Market for the Coming Year" before a meeting of the American Finance Association in Boston.

Study Published
Dr. Carl P. Schott, dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, was named to the finance committee of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference and Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, to the television committee, it was announced yesterday.

A study by Dr. V. E. Mares, associate professor of economics, on the necessity of cartels was published in the December issue of Current History magazine.

Three representatives of the Penn State chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, professional education fraternity for men, attended a council meeting in Chicago over the weekend. They were Frank Anthony, Department of Agriculture Education; John Masley, physical education; and Thurston Reeves, audio-visual aids.

Polansky Chosen Head Of Chemical Group

Dr. Theodore S. Polansky, assistant professor of fuel technology, was recently named chairman of the Central Pennsylvania section of the American Chemical Society.

Other officers chosen include Ralph P. Seward, associate professor of chemistry, vice-chairman; Dr. Albert H. Holtzinger, associate professor of chemistry, treasurer; Dr. Gordon H. Pritham, professor of physiological chemistry, secretary; Dr. Nollie B. Guerrant, professor of biological chemistry, councillor; and Dr. Donald N. Rockwell, Juniata College, alternate councillor.

Dr. Arthur Rose and Dr. Lester Kieft, Bucknell University, will continue as councillor and alternate councillor respectively.

Skiers to Enter Essay Contest

Skiing enthusiasts may enter the State of Vermont's third annual "Why Ski?" competition. Any undergraduate in good standing of any accredited two or four-year college in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, or Maryland is eligible.

Entries should be 100 words or less, prose or poetry, on the subject "Why Ski?". They should be sent before midnight, Jan. 24, to Why Ski Editor, Statehouse, Montpelier, Vermont.

The ten winners, five men and five women, will be Vermont's guests for seven days, Feb. 3-9, with all meals, lodging, travel within Vermont, entertainment skiing and instruction provided.

Management Training Supervisor Named

Paul S. Beaver, assistant professor of management in extension, is the new acting supervisor of management training, succeeding J. E. Kennedy.

The management training program directs courses for supervisors of business organizations and industrial plants throughout the state.

Naval Flight Training

Naval reserve officers will be able to take flight training at the Williamsport airport, the Navy has announced. They will be among 28 officers who will take the once-a-month drill training. Interested officers are requested by the Navy to contact the Navy reserve training center in Williamsport.

Selective Service Releases Figures For '52 Induction

Figures governing Selective Service calls for January and February have been released by Cpl. Joseph Mehalow of the Bellefonte Army and Air Force recruiting station.

The Marine Corps will be assigned 30 per cent of the 59,000 men to be called in January, while the remainder will be assigned to the Army.

The February call will total 55,000 men with 75 per cent assigned to the Army and the remainder assigned to the Marine Corps.

Pre-inductees who have not as yet received induction notices have been extended the privilege of enlisting in the services of their choice by the Selective Service.

Pre-inductees are defined as men who have already passed draft examinations and are awaiting notice to report for induction.

Examinations for all men and women who volunteer or who are inducted will be given at the newly-established Armed Forces examining station at New Cumberland.

NSA Plans Student Government Newspaper

The National Student Association is tentatively planning to publish an intercollegiate student government newspaper, Walter Sachs, regional director of public information for NSA, said yesterday.

Marie Minnick, president of Women's Student Government Association at the University of Pennsylvania, will work with Sachs in planning the newspaper.

Fincke Will Address Bible Group Tonight

The Rev. Luther P. Fincke will address the Penn State Bible Fellowship, chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, in 405 Old Main at 7:30 tonight.

Rev. Fincke is a graduate of Williams College, Westminster Theological Seminary and Western Theological Seminary. He has served as director and as speaker for young people's conferences at Stony Brook, Long Island and at Silver Bay on Lake George, New York. At present he is pastor of the Point Breeze Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh.

New Ag Eng Head

A. W. Clyde, professor in the School of Agriculture at the College since 1929, has taken over as acting head of the Department of Agricultural Engineering. He succeeds Prof. R. U. Blasingame, who retired Dec. 31.

CLASSIFIEDS

MISCELLANEOUS

IF YOUR Typewriter needs repairs, just call 2492 or bring machine to 633 W. College Ave. Mr. Beattie's 28 years experience is at your service

LOST

HAMILTON WATCH in Hort. Building on Dec. 12. Finder please return to Student Union desk. Reward.

FOR RENT

SINGLE ROOM — immediate possession and also double rooms at second semester. Call 2919.

FOR SALE

1930 4-DOOR CHEVE sedan. Good shape with good tires and late inspection. Weiser Motor Co., 217 S. Atherton.
4x5 SPEED GRAPHIC, pola screen—filters, two lenses etc. Call Ralph 4645.

Professor's Book To Be Released

Dr. Chester T. McNerney's new book, "Educational Supervision," will be released today by the McGraw-Hill Book Co., New York, N.Y. Dr. McNerney is an assistant professor of education at the College.

"Educational Supervision" presents the modern theory of supervision and shows, through the use of many examples, how to translate this theory into practice and thus increase the effectiveness of the educational process. The book is a value to supervisors, administrators, and teachers at all levels of the educational system.

Winning Year—

(Continued from page seven) borrowed a Harvard javelin, and by tossing the rival spear 211 feet captured the IC4A championship at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

Finally on a frigid windy day in December, Bill Ashenfelter became the seventh Nittany champion of the year whipping Olympic potentials, Fred Wilt, Curt Stone and brother Horace Ashenfelter in the National Amateur Athletic Union 10,000 meter cross country championship.

Young Men's Shop Store wide Clearance Sale

All Wool
GREY FLANNEL SLACKS

$6⁸⁷

All Other Slacks 20% Off

SPORT SHIRTS

REGULAR	NOW
$7.95 & $6.95	$5.89
$5.95	$4.69
$3.95	$3.19

Famous Brand COLORED SHIRTS

$2⁸⁷

Full Size Range

Campus Wool Award
Sweaters . . . $4.89
ALL WOOL
Pullover . . . $5.49
All Other Sweaters . . . 20% Off

20% off Regular Prices
Belts • Suspenders • Jewelry
Dress Socks • Topcoats • Jackets
Sport Coats

ALL SUITS . . . 25% off

Young Men's Shop

127 S. ALLEN STREET