

Committee Set Up To Help Enforce Anti-Discrimination

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—(AP)—President Truman named today the six members of a new committee he has set up to help enforce anti-discrimination clauses written into government contracts with private firms.

He announced on Dec. 3 that such a committee was being set up. The White House said then the members would be named within a week, but the President did not announce them until his news conference today.

Standard in all government contracts is a clause saying the contractor, in hiring people to work on government orders, shall not discriminate against anyone because of race, creed, or color.

The new committee will work with representatives of the big government purchasing agencies to seek ways of strengthening compliance with those clauses. It will have no authority to enforce its recommendations other than cancellation of contracts, a step which presumably would be taken only in extreme cases.

Jazz--

They've both decided to forego their jazz this Sunday, though, for they will be playing when the Symphony Orchestra gives its concert at 2 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium.

The orchestra, conducted by Theodore K. Karhan, will play four numbers. They are Overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" (Nicolai), "Seigfried Idyll" (Wagner), Micaela's Aria from "Carmen" (Bizet), and "Symphony No. 8" (Beethoven).

Radio Day--

Other directors were Kathryn Scheetz, Marcia Yoffe, Phyllis Brenckman, and Patricia Hathaway.

The production director was John Price. Thanks to the students who tried out for the show and didn't make it, as well as the ones who did work on the program, was extended by Eugene Kolber, chief engineer. "If we didn't use you this time," he said, "we hope you can make it in our future productions."

Martin to Announce Candidacy for Senate

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10—(AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) is expected to announce his candidacy for re-election tomorrow.

The 72-year-old former Pennsylvania governor called a news conference for 4 p.m., tomorrow to make the announcement, said one of his aides who declined quotation by name.

His candidacy will likely be endorsed by the Republican state committee at a special meeting Saturday.

Infirmary Changes Old Visiting Hours

Visiting hours for friends of patients at the College Hospital have been changed by Dr. Herbert R. Glenn, director of the College Health Service.

New visiting hours will be from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. instead of from 2 to 4 p.m. as previously. It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Daily Collegian that new visiting hours would be from 2 to 4 p.m.

The change was made to enable more students to visit their sick friends at the hospital, Mrs. Carol H. Burt, infirmary superintendent, said. Parents' visiting hours will not be changed, she added.

Bishop Heistand To Give Address

The Right Rev. John Thomas Heistand, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese of the Episcopal Church, will speak in Chapel at 10:55 a.m. on "Religious Faith in a Changing World."

Dr. Heistand was formerly dean of St. Stephens Chapel, Harrisburg. He was graduated from General Theological Seminary, New York City.

During World War I Dr. Heistand served in the Armed Forces and was wounded in action. His entire ministry has been with the diocese of Harrisburg.

LA Faculty--

(Continued from page two) ready in effect in his department. He said that essential, real differences in revised editions are often important enough to warrant the purchase of new books.

The subject of academic freedom was broached by P. R. Senn, assistant professor of economics, who said, "To have a true university you must allow the professor complete freedom."

Also agreeing with the measure was D. K. Merrill, professor of English literature, who said he felt that all classes should use the same textbook.

CONFERENCE IN THE CLOUDS

Among the undergraduates on any college campus, you'll find the talk reaching up to the clouds. And once in a while—in a classroom, around a study table, or even in a bull session—a really big idea is born.

Big ideas come, too, from the men and women in laboratories, business offices, shops. But often these professionals are exploring a path first glimpsed in college.

How do we know? Because of the many college people who have come into the Bell System, where big ideas and a lot of dreams have taken their place in progress. The human voice, carried along a wire, first across a town, then a state, a nation, and now the world. Music and pictures and things happening delivered into cities and hamlets all across the land by radio and television networks.

We're always looking for the men and women who get big ideas—whether they're about people, or machines, or ways of doing things. It's the only way the Bell System can keep on giving this country the best telephone service in the world.
