

Cagers Dump Carnegie Tech, 74-56; Lion Runners Take 3d in 'Star' Relay

State Romps After Rough 1st Quarter; Arnelle Scores 23

By BOB VOSBURG

With a rugged six-game road trip looming bigger than ever, Penn State's basketball team closed out its elongated home stand Saturday night with a ragged 74-56 triumph over Carnegie Tech.

The Lion cagers, who travel to Gettysburg tomorrow night for the first game of a road trip which won't see them appear at home again until Feb. 6, had an easy time of it once the Tartans cooled off after a hot first quarter.

With Tom Craig and Bill Farbacher throwing in set shots from every angle, and Hilary Holste working well under the basket, the Tartans gave the Lions a rougher time than they had reckoned for in the first quarter. Once Craig and Farbacher cooled off, however, and the Lions solved the Skibos' offensive tactics they left little doubt as to the outcome.

Hardy Stars

Coach Elmer Gross chose to give his first stringers a rest, and cleared the bench of substitutes in the last quarter. Big Jesse Arnelle, the Lions' high-scoring centerman, continued his terrific scoring pace with 23 points. Although he sat out the last period and most of the second, Arnelle managed to tally 12 points in the first half and 11 in the second to raise his season total to 123.

Lion co-captain Hardy Williams, playing one of his best games, contributed 14 points and played an outstanding floor game. He was all over the court scooping up loose balls and intercepting passes. Wherever the ball was, Hardy seemed to be.

Freshman guard Ronnie Weidenhammer took a change of heart and, deciding to shoot more, found that it paid off, with six baskets.

Nip-and-Tuck

The Lions started fast and took a 4-0 lead on a jump shot by Arnelle and a one-hander by Herm Sledzik. The Skibos came back, however, on foul conversions by Holste and Craig, and after Arnelle sank a foul, tied the score at 5-5 on a basket and foul by Holste.

Throughout the remainder of the quarter it was nip-and-tuck, with the lead changing hands seven times until a foul shot by Arnelle put the Lions ahead 19-18 at the quarter. Arnelle scored 10 points in the first period.

Carnegie Tech never threatened again after two rapid fire baskets by Williams boosted the Lions' margin to five points. Holste, with three personal fouls, was benched in this quarter, and with their main threat out of action the Tartans lost their spark, and the Lions built up a 35-28 half-time lead.

Same Story

The Lions continued to pour it on in the third quarter with Williams and Arnelle leading the way, and though Holste returned to the game, the Tartans were unable to regain their early form. The Lions led 60-43 at the end of the third.

It was the same story in the fourth quarter, although with the first string on the bench it became a wild and woolly scramble.

In racking up their highest point total of the season, the Lions boosted their scoring average in the first eight games to 62.1, and maintained their defensive average, bringing it to 49.5.

Craig, Holste, and Farbacher were the big guns for Tech, scoring 15, 14, and 12 points. Fran Kuenzig, who had been lauded as one of the Tartans' big threats was held to a single foul shot.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, Herm Sledzik made this layup from behind the bankboard during the second quarter in the Lions' 74-56 win over Carnegie Tech Saturday night. He almost got a bump in the noggin for his trouble, too. Other players in the action are: Hay (extreme left); Kay Thompson, 37; Ackerman (facing Thompson); and Tom Beck (extreme right), all of Tech. Co-captain Tiny McMahan (12) waits for a possible rebound.

Pitt Matmen Boast Good Season Mark

Virginia's wrestling Cavaliers proved extremely mild for the Lions Friday night, but Pittsburgh's matmen should be a considerably more irritable foe for State this Saturday night in Rec Hall.

The Panthers have had four warmup matches to date, winning three and losing one. They defeated Indiana STC, Yale and Michigan but lost to Michigan State.

As to the Lions' 34-0 rout of Virginia, it was noteworthy because of the swiftness and skill of Charlie Speidel's wrestlers who swept all eight bouts, five of them falls.

On the other hand, Virginia was probably the weakest opponent the Lions will meet all year. They could show little strength except in the 157 pound class where the Virginia captain, Joe Wood, gave Doug Frey a tough scrap. Doug's win by virtue of time advantage was his first. The other half of the Frey wrestling duo, Don, continued unchecked in 147 pound dual meet competition. His quick victory was his 10th straight, half by falls, and second of the season.

Joe Lemyre Wins Again
Sophomore Dick Lemyre threw his man in 1:53 Friday to get his second straight win in a manner which impresses the most skeptical.

While not as impressive as his brother, Joe Lemyre continued his winning ways by taking his second of the year at 167. Joe now sports a two year record of 9-1.

topped only by Don Frey's perfect dual slate.

In his return to the lineup, Captain Don Maurey literally used half the holds and tricks in the book of wrestling to pin Wally Williams. Only a first year man, Williams' smile after getting pinned was as much as to say he had never been told of such a kind of wrestling.

Frosh Bob Homan easily scored his second decision of the year at 123 pounds. Nittanies Hud Samson and Lynn Illingworth came up with fall victories to show strength for State at 177 and heavyweight.

Paul Campbell New Williamsport Tigers Pilot

—(AP)—Paul Campbell, 34-year-old first baseman of the Toledo Mudhens, today was named playing manager of the Williamsport Tigers of the Class A Eastern League.

Campbell, former Boston Red Sox and Detroit player, succeeds Linwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, who piloted the Tigers to a sixth place finish last year.

Penn State's relay team captured third place in the two-mile relay at Washington Saturday night, in a meet that featured two record-breaking performances.

Dick Attlesley, holder of the world's record for the 120-yard high hurdles, broke the Evening Star meet standard in the 70-yard hurdles race, set two years ago by Penn State's Jim Gehrdes, with a time of 8.3 seconds. Gehrdes' record was 8.4.

Starters Named For Gym Meet With Tarheels

With the Lion gym team's opening dual meet with the University of North Carolina only two days away, starting positions in all but two events have been virtually decided upon.

The hotly contested rivalry in the parallel bars event between Jean Cronstedt, Bill Sabo, Al Wick, and Dave Douglas is still close, with Cronstedt having a slight margin. However, positions have not yet been decided upon for Thursday's meet.

Like a Veteran

The three starters in the horizontal bar will be Cronstedt, Mario Todaro, and Earle Kerber. Cronstedt, has shown exceptional ability in his performances on the H-bar, and will be the Lions' main threat in this event.

Sophomore Bobby Lawrence is performing like a seasoned veteran on the sidehorse and will get the starter's position in that event. Frank Wick and Dick Shaffer will be the second and third men entered in this specialty.

In the rope climb Dave Shultz will start for the Nittanies against the Tarheels. Shultz has been climbing exceptionally well, recording times of 3.8 and 3.9 seconds in his daily trials.

Undecided Now

Jim Hazen will probably lead Coach Wettstone's charges in the flying rings event Thursday, with sophomores John Hampford and Tony Procopio entered second and third.

In tumbling, Wettstone believes his top man is Bob Kenyon, but hasn't decided who will follow him. The Lion gym mentor said that he would decide the other starters after tonight's final workout.

Wettstone announced that the gym team will not have a standing captain this season, but that a senior captain will be named for each meet. He said that Owen Wilkinson would act as captain Thursday.

Costa Holds Record

Marty Costa holds the Rec Hall one game scoring high of 32 points. He set the mark against American University in the 1949-1950 season.

Don Laz bested the other meet record by leaping 15 feet 3 inches in the pole-vault. It also marked the first time in over a dozen attempts that he has beaten Bob Richards, who was the first man to follow Cornelius Wammerdam over the 15 foot mark. Richards finished second, jumping 14 feet, eight inches.

Penn State's two-mile quartet finished third behind two of the best teams in the East, Georgetown and Seton Hall. Georgetown's winning time was 7:46, as compared to State's time of 7:59. Don Austin, State freshman, who had never run in an official race in his life turned in the creditable time of 2:00 for his leg of the relay.

Bill Ashenfelter, competing in the invitation one-mile run, finished fourth behind winner Don Gehrmann, Warren Druetzler, and Bill Dwyer, Ash's time of 4:16.8 was only 2.8 seconds slower than the winner's.

The mile-relay team wound up fourth behind Morgan State, Seton Hall, and Villanova. Anchor man Ollie Sax ran his quarter-mile in 49.7 seconds, exceptionally good time on a flat-floor track.

Last year's co-winner, in the high-jump, Jim Herb, could do no better than six feet and failed to place. However, recent Penn State graduate Vic Fritts, tied for second with a jump of six feet two and one-half inches. The winning height was six feet four and a half inches, over two inches below last year's record height.

Hurdlers Ed Snodgrass and Lew Waddington could do no better than fourth in their trial heats.

Charles Comiskey Resigns Sox Post

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 — (AP) — Twenty-five-year-old Charles A. Comiskey II today resigned as vice-president and secretary of the Chicago White Sox in an apparent bid for the club presidency held by his mother.

The latest family squabble in the Comiskey clan was disclosed as young Chuck announced he was quitting his dual post because of "long-standing dissatisfaction" with his salary and lack of an office tenure.

The announcement, made by an attorney, said the resignation will be effective Friday when the club board of directors, itself mainly a family affair, will meet to consider acceptance.
