

'Heiress' Tickets On Sale

Tickets are now on sale at the Student Union desk for "The Heiress," Players' third production of the season, which opens Thursday in Schwab Auditorium for a three-night run.

Prices are 60 cents for Thursday night's performance and one dollar for Friday and Saturday nights.

The two-act play, directed by Walter H. Walters, dramatics instructor, concerns the plight and character development of a plain, shy girl worth $30,000 who falls in love with a fortune-hunter.

Rathbone Played Father

It was written by Ruth and Augustus Goetz from the Henry James novel, "Washington Square."

With Basil Rathbone in the role of the heiress' father, Dr. Austin Sloper, the play opened in New York in September 1947 and was "quite successful," according to Walters.

This run was followed by a year and a half on tour. Several years later Hollywood adapted it and produced a moving picture with Olivia DeHaviland in the title role.

Change of scenery has been avoided, as the entire action of the play takes place in the front parlor of Dr. Sloper's house in Washington Square. Scenery was designed by Walters.

Kesdekian Technician

Charles Schulte, in addition to portraying Dr. Sloper, is costume supervisor. All costumes except those of the maid and dressing and nightgowns have been rented from Philadelphia.

Mesrop Kesdekian, veteran of many Players' productions, is technical director.

Kathryn Scheetz, whose last role with Players was Angelina Esposito in "The Gentle People," will play the heiress. The cast also includes Carl Wagner as the fortune-seeking lover; Fran Stridinger as Lavinia Penniman, the coquettish aunt; Isabelle Cooper, Maria; Yvonne Voigt, Elizabeth Almond; Arthur Chadwick, Arthur Townsend; Regina Friedman, Marion Almond, and Betty Lou Morgan, Mrs. Montgomery.

Reece Takes Post In Glass Company

Allan Reece, for four and a half years supervisor of student employment here, has accepted a position with the personnel department of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Pittsburgh.

Reece will take over his new job Monday. The work will include selection procedures for plant workers. Reece, his wife, and their two sons, will reside in Scott Township, near Mt. Lebanon.

A graduate of Allegheny College, Reece took graduate work at Penn State.

Meeting of ASAE Here This Spring

The College has been chosen as the site for the annual spring meeting of the Pennsylvania Section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Albert Best of the New Holland Machine Company, New Holland, chairman of the program committee, announced yesterday that sessions are scheduled for April 10 and 11.

Named chairman of the committee on local arrangements for the statewide meeting was C. H. Bingham, extension specialist in agricultural engineering. Assisting him are John Perry, agricultural engineering instructor, and Albert S. Mowery, assistant professor of agricultural engineering.

Working for Argosy

Harry Henderson, former editor of The Daily Collegian, and Edward Zern, former art editor of the Froth, are now working for Argosy magazine.

Henderson is writing the column "Court of Last Resort" and Zern is starting a series of humorous columns.

Frankel, Ryder Question Visitors On Performance

"What did you like and what should we throw out?" This question greeted backstage visitors after the performance of Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder, modern dance team, when they appeared here last Saturday.

Since this performance was a pre-New York try-out, Miss Frankel and Ryder were trying to perfect their program before being judged by New York critics.

When asked what dance they like most, Miss Frankel said she likes one in particular, "Biography of Fear," because she can lean on Ryder through most of it.

One thing the back-stage visitors found out, however, is that Mark Ryder is an assumed name. Ryder's real name is Sasha von Liebach. He changed it to Mark Ryder because Sasha sounded too much like a dancer.

Carlson--

In the Middle East, white man rule is out and black supremacy exists, Carlson said. The author, who was in Egypt in 1948, said he had to stay out in the Nile sun for three weeks and grow a mustache in order to go about unnoticed and unharmed.

The United States must organize an intelligent foreign policy towards this part of the world, Carlson said adding that at present it has none.

The Moslem brotherhood, a group of fanatics, rule the Arab states, Carlson asserted. Adding that in Egypt they killed a police chief and judge for arresting some of them and a prime minister for speaking against them.

In Israel where almost everyone belongs to the middle class, a democracy exists which is resisting Communism, Carlson said. He pointed out that Arabs are treated equally there, even having four seats in Parliament. The Arabs hate Israel because it is a symbol of the West, Carlson explained.

Fire Alarm--

No special attire is required for a fire drill. In fact one is run on the order of a "Come-As-You-Are" party. Since the bell is invariably rung at such an inopportune time, it catches 75 per cent of the women looking like the last five minutes of a misspent life.

Vocal complaints about the ridiculous time to have a fire drill, about the cold, the snow, all the homework to be done, the inconvenience of being caught in a shower, and the interruption of the first good night's sleep in ages, rise and fall with the regularity of breathing.

Eventually all the coeds who haven't hid in the showers make it out of the building. For safety's sake they are counted on the way out and on the way in. The clang stops clanging. The coeds go back into the building, meditating on ways to take advantage of getting out after hours, unwillingly settle down to pre-alarm business, and thus passes into the records another fire drill.

3 Students Injured In Coleville Accident

Three college students were injured in an accident in Coleville Saturday night.

The accident occurred when the car operated by Ronald Weaver collided with another car, police said.

Weaver received back injuries and bruises and is expected to be dismissed from the College infirmary today. Joseph Kelly was injured in his left shoulder, head, and right knee, and Ralph Christiansen received an injury in his left ear. He was dismissed from the infirmary the morning after the accident.

BENNY GOODMAN TRIO

Benny Goodman gave bite and freshness back to jazz. Here the trio plays clean and full of taste the music that had the saddle shoes of '36 jumping in the aisles.

Tiger Rag • After You've Gone • China Boy • Someday Sweetheart • Body and Soul • More Than You Know

GREAT TRUMPET ARTISTS

From Bunk Johnson to Dizzy Gillespie... with Armstrong, Newton, Baidarbecke and Berigan. Hear the trumpets—every jazz horn style.

Basin Street • From Monday On • Frankie and Johnny • When the Saints Go Marching In • The Blues My Baby Gave to Me • Anthology

Sydney Bechet

When Sydney Bechet points the bell of this soprano sax at the roof, nobody leads but him. So listen to the master.

Sweetie Dear • I'm Coming Virginia • The Moche • Strange Fruit • Rose Room • Oh, Lady be Good

Lionel Hampton

Remember the mid-forties, when "The Hamp's" frenzied showmanship jammed the dance halls with couples too excited to dance? Listen for that splashy vitality on these earlier sides.

On the Sunny Side of the Street • Gin for Christmas • Buzzin' Round With the Bee • Don't Be That Way • Jivin' the Vibes • Shoe Shiner's Drag

Jelly Roll Morton

Back in 1905, Mr. Jelly Roll ("I invented jazz") dreamed up the "riff." On these historic sides, you're listening to the man who actually cut the patterns for jazz.

The Chant • Pontchartrain • Doctor Jazz • Original Jelly Roll Blues • Georgia Swing • Black Bottom Stomp

*Prices include Federal excise tax. Add local tax. Subject to government price ceiling regulations.

GREAT TENOR SAX ARTISTS

In 1923, Coleman Hawkins blew precisely on his tenor sax. Everyone wanted to be great on the new horn. Hear six who were.

High on an Open Mike • Cotton Tail • Sweethearts on Parade • The Eel • Crazy Rhythm • Black Velvet

ARTIE SHAW

Artie Shaw put strings in a jump band and the jazz purists hooted. But his arrangements of beloved show tunes turned the hoots into whistles.

Indian Love Call • Carioca • Rosalie • What is This Thing Called Love? • Donkey Serranade • Softly, as in a Morning Sunrise

EARL HINES-BILLY ECKSTINE

Hines was the first to cut his right hand free... to make the piano a solo instrument. Twelve years ago a young singer named Eckstine came along. This is what they did together.

Stormy Monday Blues • Water Bay • I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good • Somehow • Jelly, Jelly • Skylark
