

Morris Pledges Publicity To Corruption Probes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP)—Newbold Morris set up headquarters as the Truman administration's special anti-corruption sleuth today with a pledge against secrecy and a jab at "low" Congressional heckling.

The wealthy New York lawyer, a self-styled "Abraham Lincoln Republican," told newsmen that if his investigation turns up any scandals in the government, it will be announced promptly.

Supreme Court Will Review Kawakita Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review the case of Tomoya (Meatball) Kawakita, a Japanese-American convicted of treason and sentenced to die in San Quentin prison's gas chambers.

He has been accused of brutal beatings of GI prisoners at a Japanese camp where he acted as an interpreter, but the Supreme Court will be concerned only with a legal point.

The high tribunal also said it would review a New York Court of Appeals decision upholding the right of a New York review board to ban the controversial Italian film, "The Miracle" as sacrilegious.

Records of the Justice Department indicate that no person has ever been executed for treason by the U.S. government. Death sentences have been imposed but none carried out. Higher courts have always granted clemency or reversals.

Kawakita appealed to the Supreme Court after the U.S. District Court in San Francisco upheld the decision. The Supreme Court will set a date for his hearing later.

Alumni Club Plans College Guide Service

The Penn State Alumni Club of Centre County has adopted a plan which visualizes its members serving the College as "hosts" or guides during special events on campus.

In explaining the project Frank Neusbaum, vice-president of the club, pointed out that there are many occasions—conferences, conventions, class reunions, Homecoming—on campus when local alumni, with their intimate knowledge of the College, could do a real public relations job by making themselves available as well-qualified guides or hosts.

Eighteen Trailers Ready in Windcrest

Approximately 18 trailers in the Windcrest area are now available for married couples, Mrs. Sarah E. Case, in charge of Windcrest housing, said yesterday.

Those interested in getting a trailer may contact Mrs. Case in 109 Old Main. The trailers are now ready for occupancy, she said.

Couples with children may secure a trailer, Mrs. Case said. Over 140 trailers in the area are now occupied.

Debate Candidates Will Meet Tonight

A preliminary meeting for candidates who wish to try out for the women's debate team will be held at 6:30 tonight in 2 Sparks.

The meeting is open to all women, according to Marian Ungar, team manager. Experience is not necessary, she said. Clayton R. Schug, debate coach, will explain the fundamentals of debating, and the tryout date will be announced.

Liebig Chemical Society

The Liebig Chemical Society will hold a special meeting to elect officers at 7:30 tonight in 105 Frear Laboratory.

Okay Informal Bids

Informal bids may be given to second semester freshmen but actual pledging will not start until 8 a.m. Feb. 16, according to Stanley Wengert, Intergovernmental Council president.

GOP Hits Democrats At Rally

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP)—Republican leaders laid down a campaign-barrage on the Truman administration from a Lincoln day rally tonight, charging the Democrats with fostering inflation and corruption at home and a military stalemate in Korea.

Party differences were left outside as the Republicans gathered at the Georgetown University gymnasium to eat $1 chicken box suppers and build up a head of steam for the approaching Presidential campaign.

Point of No Return
Fifteen speakers in a row attacked the administration and called for a change in the government. The planned six-hour program also included a variety of entertainment.

Senator Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the GOP senatorial committee, said in his prepared address that the Democrats under President Truman had led the country "almost to the point of no return."

"These men have simply been in power too long," Dirksen said. "Costliest Blunders"

The chairman of the Republican congressional committee, Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, asserted "no administration which attempts to corrupt the people with their own money can itself be uncorrupt, and it should be removed from power by the voters at the first opportunity."

Senator Watkins of Utah joined the attack with a charge that the Truman administration "and its predecessor have led America down the costliest course of blunders in all history," winning a war and losing a peace.

Rioting Flares In Tunis Again

TUNIS, Tunisia, Feb. 4—(AP)—Rioting flared anew today in this Tunisian capital. Two Tunisians were killed and several wounded in an outburst of violence by Nationalists who are demanding more home rule in this French protectorate.

There was sabotage and fighting with the French at scattered points throughout the country. Last month more than 50 persons died in rioting and bloodshed set off by Nationalist demonstrations and action of French authorities in trying to maintain order.

Korean Vets Return

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4—(AP)—The transport Gen. William Black docked here yesterday with 2,225 army combat veterans coming from Korea.

Most of the men aboard were regular Army personnel, a number of others were National Guardsmen.

Two Red MIG's Hit; Rail Lines Damaged

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday, Feb. 5—(AP)—Two Communist MIG jets were damaged in a brief fight over Northwest Korea Monday, the U.S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Nineteen F-86 Sabres traded shots with eight of a 50-plane MIG formation over Sinuiju, but the damaged Red planes and the others quickly retired to the safety of Manchuria.

A formation of 60 to 70 MIGs was sighted by the Sabre pilots later in the day but avoided contact.

Other Allied airmen pushed "operation strangle" with full force Monday, hammering at Communist rail arteries.

ROK Plane in Action
The Fifth Air Force said 562 sorties were flown by 6 p.m. last night.

Jet and propeller fighter-bombers swooped low over Red territory and gashed rail lines at 90 separate spots. Some of the F-51 Mustangs were part of the Republic of Korea Air Force.

The Allied attackers also claimed destruction or damage to 29 rail cars, eight enemy mortar positions, four field pieces, a road bridge, and about 50 Red troop casualties.

One F-84 Thunderjet pilot, Maj. James R. Russell of Humboldt, Tenn., said he dropped two bombs on a rail yard between Sonchon and Chongju and added, "Two boxcars went sky-high—they started a string of explosions that damaged six other cars."

Ground Fighting Light
Sub-zero weather gripped the quiet, snow-spotted battlefield.

The Eighth Army's communique Monday night reported only three light actions on the ground front between midnight Sunday and noon Monday.

On the Western front a squad of Chinese infantry opened fire at 1:40 a.m. with rifles on a small Allied advance position west-northwest of Chorwon.
