gress passes a special law. In general the measure follows the lines of a plan submitted by a commission headed by former Sen. James Wadsworth of New York. The commission got the planning job, under the bill passed last year in which Congress adopted the principle of UMT. The measure, like the commission's proposal, lays stress throughout on civilian control of the youths in training.

Art Exhibit Open In ME Building

A collection of etchings, lithographies, wood carvings, and aquatints are now on exhibition on the third floor of the Main Engineering Building.

The exhibit, which is sponsored by the Department of Architecture, represents many of America's best-known artists, and is a loan collection from the Associated American Artists Galleries in New York. James Chapin, who holds the Temple Gold Medal for the best painting by an American, given by the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts; Aaron Bohrod, Carnegie prize winner and holder of five major awards from the Chicago Art Institute, and Joseph Hirsch, who holds two Guggenheim Fellowships for painting, are a few of those represented.

The exhibit has been chosen to give a representation of the fine print-making being done by contemporary American artists living and working in this country and all of the works are for sale.

Apparently women are the "weaker" sex where the cold bug is concerned. Polls and surveys show that more women catch colds than men.

College to Host News Seminar

The College will play host to a two-day seminar on local government March 28-29. The seminar is being sponsored by the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors to help newspapermen better understand municipal problems.

Up for discussion will be an explanation of the development of municipal authorities, more realistic assessments, development of greater powers of local taxation and problems of education insofar as they affect local government, taxation, and the consolidation of the school districts in contrast to local school district autonomy.

School officials of the Institute of Local Government will work along with the PNPA in program planning.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 33...THE SHEEP

"They can't pull the wool over my eyes!"

They tried to fool him with the "quick-trick" cigarette mildness tests—but he wouldn't go astray! We know as well as he there's only one fair way to test cigarette mildness. And millions of smokers agree!

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions
