

Lion Boxers, Matmen Host Syracuse Tonight

Piety Hillers Pose Threat To Mat Record

By JAKE HIGHTON

It's unbeaten against unbeaten at 7 tonight in Rec Hall when Penn State's wrestlers hook up with Syracuse in a match which could forecast the future EIWA champion.

Syracuse (3-0), a real threat to stop the Lions' 16-match dual meet winning streak, comes with a team almost as strong as the 1950 squad which last defeated the Nittanies, 18-6, and went on to win the EIWA title.

Since that day in Rec Hall two years ago, State has not lost a dual meet. Adding to last season's unbeaten eight-match record and Eastern crown, the Lions have piled up five straight wins so far this season.

wrestling high road again after a disastrous season last year, also own victories over Rutgers, 15-9, and Cortland, 32-0.

State has been little pressed, other than by Army, on the way to its five victories this season. The Nittanies opened with a 20-5 win over always-tough Lehigh and followed with wins over Virginia, 34-0; Pitt, 25-5; Maryland, 22-8; and Army.

Adding more flavor along unbeaten angles, Syracuse, coached by three time NCAA 121-pound champ Joe McDaniel, has six unbeaten individuals to stack up against Coach Charlie Speidel's five undefeated wrestlers.

Toughest Yet

The Orange lineup packs three lightweight giants (123 through 137) and three middleweight freshman (147 through 167) who have shown great strength.

It's the "little giants" group which has all the indications of sterling duels featuring unbeaten and outstanding wrestlers.

At 123, Nittany frosh Bob Homan, without loss in five starts and victories over the two of the East's best in his division, again is faced with what should be his toughest yet. Bob's Syracuse foe, Bob Gerbino, is a 1950 Eastern champ who has a 3-0 record this year.

State's sparkling undefeated soph Dick Lemyre has Syracuse captain and EIWA runnerup Lou Tschirhart (2-0) in his path to his sixth straight.

Meets Frosh

Nittany Gerry Maurey and Syracuse's Bob Bury will come together at 137 also with unbeaten season marks. Gerry, pin victor (1-4) in his first varsity start against Army, will be out to keep his high school and freshman college unbeaten record intact. Bury, fourth in the Easterns last year, is 3-0 so far.

Still without dual meet loss in two seasons, rugged Don Frey with 5-0 on the season and 13 all totaled, meets 147 pound freshman Ed Rooney with a 2-0 record.

Lion Doug Frey has freshman Lee Martin (2-1) attempting to block his second straight try for his third win at 157.

Joe Lemyre at 167, loser his last two bouts, has to get by freshman Tom McDougal (1-0) for his fourth win of the year.

Nittany Hud Samson will attempt to regain his winning ways after his four match streak was stopped last week against 177 pounder Enzo Marinelli (1-2).

Heavyweight Lynn Illingworth, unbeaten in five starts, is matched up against Orange football tackle Dick Beyer (2-0-1) whose chief distinction is a draw with Army's Al Paulekas, a weight below.

Courtmen Oppose Army At West Point Today

Special to The Daily Collegian

Coach Elmer Gross' cagers hopped down from Kingston, R. I., where they played Rhode Island State last night, to match buckets with Army at West Point, N. Y. The game will start at 2 p.m. today and is the final contest on this trip.

The Cadets split even in their first 12 games, which was about what was expected. The West Pointers have a new coach, a new system, and virtually an entirely different squad this campaign.

Elmer Ripley took over the coaching reins of a team which had only one returnee. Despite these obstacles Army has defeated Ithaca, Puerto Rico, Lehigh, Brown, Colgate and Swarthmore. The Cadets defeated Ithaca, a 30 point loser to State, by a 66-50 decision. Their 58-52 upset of Colgate was their best performance of the year.

The outstanding newcomer on Ripley's aggregation is Bill Hannon, who has developed into one of the best centers in the East. The 6-3 sophomore grabbed an average of 21.2 rebounds in the first ten games, to lead the country.

The 200-pound sophomore from Indiana has also scored over 20 points consistently throughout the year besides his yeoman work under the boards. Other Cadet starters are Vince Bailey, Fred Meyers, Lee Poore, and Bill Ritter.

Bailey (5-10) is the only veteran from last year's squad which won nine of 17 contests. Meyers is a six-footer who teams with Poore (5-9) at the guard positions. Poore is a good playmaker and set shot from the outside. Ritter, 6-1 forward, rounds out the starting quintet.

get hot in the third period but Lions were still able to hold a lead of 57-48 at the end of the third quarter.

In the last period, with Joe Piorkowski and Herm Sledzik both out on personals, the Rams, with Fred Congleton and Don Hellwig hitting, began to sift through State's zone defense and narrowed the score to 64-62 with just two and one half minutes left in the game. But shots by McMahan, Sherry, and Williams in the closing seconds were too much for Coach Red Haire's men to overcome.

Kretlow finished with a 73, tying Waner for second place. Originally Waner's score was reported as 74, but a recheck of his card showed he was entitled to a 73.

Bracketed at 74 were coach Dick Bartell of the Detroit Tigers, pitcher Jim Hearn of the New York Giants and George Abrams, once of the Cincinnati Reds.

'Dizzy' Trout Leads 'Players' Golf Tourney

MIAMI Fla., Feb. 15—(AP)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, veteran Detroit Tigers pitcher, scorched the Miami Springs Country Club course with a sizzling four under par 66 today to win the qualifying medal in the Baseball Players' Golf Championship.

"Best round I ever shot in my life," said the bespectacled Tiger right-hander who soon will celebrate his 37th birthday. "Best I ever had before was 71. Then the next day I shot an 84."

Trout was red hot on this flat 6310-yard layout where the professionals cavort in the Miami Open each winter. Steaming around the first nine in 32, he fired pars on three of the first five holes. He added two more pars on the back nine for his fancy score. He was over par only once with a five on the troublesome 17th.

"I just like to show 'em a ball player can shoot a little golf too," said Dizzy, respondent in grey slacks, dark blue sport shirt and a light blue cap.

There was a big seven stroke gap between Trout and the next best in the major league field—Lou Kretlow of the Chicago White Sox and Paul Waner, newly elected hall of famer.

Kretlow, who almost gave up pro baseball for a golfing career, came up with the shot of the day—a dazzling eagle two on the par four 355-yard ninth. His tremendous drive hit the green and rolled about five feet past the cup.

German Team Wins Olympic Bobsled Title

OSLO, Feb. 15—(AP)—A big, steel-nerved bobsledder from Germany and a dashing young skier from Norway scored gold medal triumphs in the sixth winter Olympic games today but the United States clung to a slim lead for the unofficial team championship.

Andreas Ostler, a rollicking 32-year-old inn-keeper of Graunau, made two more daring runs down Frognerseteren's ice-packed slopes to add the Olympic two-man bobsled title to two world championships he already holds.

Bobsledders Second

Meanwhile, some 70 miles to the north at snow-capped Norefjell 24-year-old Stein Eriksen, who learned the art of skiing on these same hillsides, was thrilling a crowd of some 6,000 by winning the men's giant slalom race in two minutes, 35 seconds.

The No. 1 American bobsled, handled by Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N. Y., and braked by 270-pound Pat Martin of Massena, N. Y., finished second in the two-day, death-defying bobsled competition, just 2.35 seconds slower than the winning German sled.

Sixth in Slalom

The second United States sled, guided by Fred Fortune Jr., of Lake Placid with Floyd Whisher of Ausable Forks, N. Y., to steady him, blazed home seventh in the field of 18, representing the greatest bob-sledders in the world.

A 22-year-old Dartmouth University student, Brooks Dodge of Gorham, N. H., made a surprisingly fine showing in the men's slalom, tying Sweden's Stig Solander for sixth place with 2:32.6.

Upset-Minded Boxers Eye Crucial Test

By BOB VOSBURG

A winless but upset-minded Penn State boxing team battles an unbeaten Syracuse team at 8:30 tonight in Rec Hall in the stiffest test thus far for either squad.

If one were to consider the chances of a State victory strictly on the basis of team records the outlook would be extremely dim, for while the Lions experienced rough going against Catholic U. and Army, the Orange handled the same two opponents with ease.

Butler to Start

However, when one compares both teams man-for-man the Lions' chances, if not of winning at least of giving the Orange men a troublesome time, appear a great deal brighter.

Hoping to have the Lions at their top strength for the Orange-men, Coach Eddie Sulkowski has made a second change in the lineup, inserting Sam Butler in the 132-pound spot in place of Joe Reynolds.

Earlier in the week Sulkowski announced that Laz LeMon would replace Gerry Spotts in the 156-pound class.

Had Position Clinched

Syracuse's supposedly weakest weight, the 125-pound class, was bolstered considerably just prior to the Orangemen's trip to State College. Ray Tarrenella, who was scheduled to lead off suffered a nose injury, and Tommy Coulter, a letterman who had dropped boxing in favor of track this winter, was called upon to fill the hole.

This means that Lion 125-pounder, Sam Marino, (1-0-1) will have a tougher time than he bargained for. Coulter would have had the Syracuse lead off spot clinched at the start of the season had he so desired, and his return to the lineup will hardly be welcomed by the Lions.

'Freshman Row'

Another good match appears likely in the 178-pound class, which finds the Lions' hard-hitting sophomore, Adam Kois, meeting Captain George Kartalian of Syracuse. Both boys have one and one records, having lost to the same opponent, Army's Jim McInerney.

Three of Syracuse's frosh quartet form a sort of "freshman row" in the 132, 139, and 147 classes. They are Art Nelson, Johnny Granger, and Gus Fiacco, all undefeated so far with two wins apiece.

Has One Knockout

Nelson, who is lauded as the classiest of the three, will be Butler's man in the latter's first varsity assignment. He is reported to be a good puncher with a "beautiful stance."

Granger, another strong puncher with one knockout to his credit, will be Tony Flore's opponent. Flore (1-1) has looked good in his first two starts, and could prove a match for Granger.

Kozzarek Unbeaten

Fiacco will be going against his toughest opponent of the year in Captain Johnny Albarano (2-0), who is working on a four-meet winning streak over two years. Fiacco also has a knockout to his credit, but getting past the Lions' Eastern 145 champ will probably be a little more than he can manage.

Eastern 165-pound king, Lou Kozzarek (2-0), undefeated since the 1950 season, will take on the Oranges' other frosh, Vince Rigolosi. Rigolosi, fought Army's Jerry Hughes to a draw in his only outing. Kozzarek beat Hughes.

Yeakel vs. Mahar

Syracuse will aim its biggest gun, in the form of Eastern 155 pound champ Bill "Hookie" Miller, at Lion newcomer LeMon. Laz has drawn a real tough customer for his first varsity bout in unbeaten Miller.

Heavyweight Dave Yeakel (0-2) will enter the ring against another unbeaten Syracuse, John Mahar. One of Mahar's wins came at the 178 post where he alternates with Kartalian.
