

Hillel Speaker Will Discuss Jewish Faith

Will Herberg, one of the Religion-in-Life Week leaders, will be guest speaker at Sabbath Eve services at 8 tonight at Hillel Foundation.

His subject will be "Religion and the Jews: Can They be Separated?"

Rabbi Benjamin M. Kahn, director of the foundation, will officiate at the services. Members of Phi Epsilon Pi will assist him and will serve as hosts at the reception following the services.

At 3 p.m. tomorrow Herberg will be guest at a tea and will lead a discussion group in Hillel lounge.

Herberg has a long career in labor relations, education, and writing. He has for many years been connected with a large American Federation of Labor union as director of research and education and now serves them in an advisory capacity, devoting most of his time to writing and lecturing to students at leading academic institutions.

Herberg is an editor of "Judaism: A Quarterly Journal of Jewish Life and Thought," a new publication. He recently published a book, "Judaism and Modern Man: An Interpretation of Jewish Religion." This book is a systematic attempt to bring into focus the fundamentals of Jewish faith in the light of modern life and thought.

'Tartuffe' Ends At Center Stage This Weekend

Players' interpretation of "Tartuffe" will come to life at Center Stage this weekend for the last time.

Final performances are scheduled for 8 tonight and tomorrow night.

"Tartuffe" is a typical Moliere play, ridiculing the follies and the pretenses of social types of his day. It was banned by the clergy after its first performance in 1664.

A limited number of tickets are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main. They are priced at 90 cents for tonight and $1.25 for tomorrow night.

Jay Broad, Helen Jaskol, Lee Stern and Sonia Goldstein are cast in principal roles.

Nancy May is now playing "Flipote," originally portrayed by Yvonne Badwey. Miss Badwey is student teaching for eight weeks.

Others in the cast are Guyla Woodward, Moylan Mills, Jane Montgomery, Kaye Vinson, Richard Haynes, Sy Rubinfeld and Michael Forgacs.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 34...THE FERRET

Let's dig a little deeper

Descended from a long line of distinguished researchers, this studious scholar has burned too many gallons of midnight oil to gloss over a subject lightly. Especially such an important item as cigarette mildness. He burrowed into the matter with his usual resolution and concluded that a "quick puff" or a "fast sniff" doesn't offer much evidence. Millions of smokers agree there's but one true test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Camel leads all other brands by billions
