

UN Votes Down Reds In China Seating Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 27—(AP)—The UN Trusteeship Council voted down today, 11 to one, the latest in a series of nearly 100 Chinese attempts to throw out the Nationalist Chinese and seat Red Chinese delegates.

The British president of the council, Sir Alan Burns, then banged his gavel and halted the Russian delegate, Alexander A. Soldatov, in the midst of a speech charging the United States with "bloody aggression" in Korea. The public gallery of some 300 persons at this first meeting held in the new UN conference area applauded Burns.

Laborites Suffer from Debate Blow

LONDON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Parliamentary observers generally agreed today that labor party unity suffered a damaging blow from Winston Churchill's disclosures in foreign policy debate.

According to this view, Churchill did more than successfully defend the Korean record of his Conservative government in the House of Commons yesterday.

In time, the wounds Churchill inflicted conceivably could help promote an open break between the leader of labor's left wing, Aneurin Bevan, and the leaders of the moderate faction, Clement Attlee and Herbert Morrison. Conservative strategy was clear:

If labor's surface appearance of unity is ever shattered, the laborites might wander in a political wilderness for years before they could hope to gain office again.

Churchill said that when the laborites themselves were in power last year they agreed to associate Britain with the United States in action "not confined to Korea" in the event of certain new belligerent acts by the Chinese Communists.

Thus, Churchill added, when he told the U.S. Congress last month that Britain would take "prompt, resolute and effective" action in such circumstances he merely was giving voice to a policy already formed by his predecessors in office.

This caused consternation on the Labor benches. One well placed informant said today he believed a large number of Labor back benches had not been aware of the commitments.

State Maps 'Loyalty Day'

HARRISBURG, Feb. 27—(AP)—County highway officials were given the job today of mapping local ceremonies in connection with Pennsylvania's big "Loyalty Day" observance Monday.

The State Loyalty Day committee said county-wide programs are being arranged by State highway maintenance superintendents in each county.

Gov. John S. Fine has designated Monday as Loyalty Day to dramatize the State's new loyalty oath law. Thousands of public employes affected by the law will join with the Governor Monday in mass oath-taking ceremonies.

Patriotic demonstrations and oath administerings will be held in every county except Philadelphia and Allegheny. Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg will mark the occasion with giant rallies.

Soldatov started the scrap by proposing a resolution calling for expulsion of the nationalist Chinese delegation and an invitation to the communist Chinese to send a delegation to the council. The Russians have made this a standard practice at every opportunity since January, 1950.

Soldatov blamed the United Nations for Red China's attitude. He said that even the Panmunjom armistice negotiations might have been different if communist Chinese had a UN seat. He assailed the Chinese in the room as members of the "Kuomintang clique."

S. S. Liu, nationalist Chinese delegate, called Soldatov's proposal out of order and said it would admit to UN halls "an enemy of world peace."

U.S. delegate Francis B. Sayre told the council "It is out of the question to consider this proposal at a time when the conduct of the Chinese Communist regime has departed so far from the accepted rules of international conduct."

Sayre proposed that the council postpone further discussion of this question and this was approved by the 11 to one vote. Soldatov held up his hand against it.

During the hour-long debate, Soldatov charged that the United States has violated UN principles in Korea.

Sayre replied that "to call the United Nations action in Korea an aggressive war and to condemn the United States is to condemn the united opinion and conscience of the vast majority of the peoples of the world."

Three GOP Men Reported Backing Taft

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27—(AP)—Gov. John S. Fine, former president Douglas MacArthur were reported tonight to have held a secret meeting in New York to discuss backing the presidential candidacy of Sen Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

The Philadelphia Inquirer said that the meeting was held at MacArthur's quarters in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Fine is scheduled to lead the 70-member Pennsylvania delegation to the GOP national convention at Chicago in July.

The Inquirer, in a story by staff writer Joseph H. Miller, said that the meeting was called by MacArthur.

Fine has been reported in Pennsylvania political circles to be favoring the candidacy of MacArthur himself.

Acheson 'Happy' Over NATO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson flew home from the western European defense meetings today with a "happy" report of substantial progress in the erection of a common barrier against Soviet aggression.

President Truman, greeting Acheson and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder at the airport, declared:

"I think they accomplished in the last few days in London, Paris, and Lisbon the things we have been working for in the last three or four years."

Then all three went to the White House to talk over the series of meetings which revised North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense plans and cleared away some of the obstacles to bringing western Germany into the defense lineup.

Friday night Acheson will make a national radio and television report to the public, the State department announced.

Meantime he arranged meetings with members of the Senate and House foreign affairs committees who were seeking detailed explanations of what was accomplished in bolstering western defenses.

His report promised to have a bearing on the fate of the administration's new $7,900,000,000 foreign aid requests, which Mr. Truman is expected to submit in about two weeks.

The President, at the airport, termed the Lisbon conference of the 14-nation NATO council "most successful."

Acheson responded that the four American delegates were "happy in the belief that we have accomplished what you sent us over to accomplish."

Snyder, also a delegate, said that the "fundamental decision has been made which will tend to accelerate the European defense forces" and predicted that "we are entering a period now where progress will become achievement."

FTA to Conduct Panel Tonight

A panel entitled "Hands Across The Sea in Education" will be conducted at 7:30 tonight in 2 Carnegie Hall as part of the Future Teachers of America meeting.

J. H. Britton, professor of psychology, will speak on education in Germany and G. E. Ehmann, professor of education, on other countries of Europe.

Pedro Von Achenbach, of Paraguay, and Ruth Sugihara, of Hawaii, will round out the panel with talks on education in their native countries. Vincent Saters, president of FTA, will act as moderator.

Following an open discussion, refreshments will be served.

Statehood for Alaska Delayed; Hawaii Dubious

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—By a one-vote margin the Senate today sent the Alaska statehood bill back to committee for further study—virtually ending any possibility the territory will be given statehood by this session of congress. The vote was 45 to 44.

Still pending is a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii.

Holdup Suspect Seized

JOHN RICHARD BAYLESS, center, stands manacled in custody of FBI agents who arrested him at New York's LaGuardia Airport Tuesday as he left a TWA transcontinental plane. They charged him with a $19,628 Los Angeles holdup. The agent at right holds a brief case in which the FBI said Bayless was carrying the loot. When the plane landed, an agent, wearing a TWA uniform, went to the top of the stairway and seized Bayless as he stepped out. The agents said Bayless had a revolver partly out his belt when seized. Ike Supporters Say South May Go GOP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—(AP)—Fifteen Eisenhower-for-President leaders from 11 southern states organized here today and said the South is ready to go Republican in November if the GOP nominee is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"The South is today ready, for the first time in history," a joint statement said, "to give a majority of its 128 electoral votes to a Republican nominee for President—if that man be Eisenhower."

The statement referred to a region where Senator Taft of Ohio has mustered strong support for the presidential nomination in the past. Without mentioning Taft's 1952 southern effort by name, the Eisenhower group said: "Old guard die-hard leaders in the North are striving in every way to dominate the Republican party machinery in the south. The people of the south are determined to throw off this old guard Republican yoke just as they are determined to strike off the fetters of Trumanism."

Coincident with the Eisenhower meeting, David S. Ingalls, a Taft campaign manager, issued a statement taking exception to one by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), national director of the Eisenhower campaign, that the general's convention delegate strength is "on the upsurge" in the midwest. "If there is any upsurge, it has probably been the best kept secret of the campaign," Ingalls said.

2 Groups Prepare Museum Opening

The Arnold Air Society and members of the Theta Kappa Phi fraternity are helping prepare the Boalsburg museum April 6.

The air society is restoring and erecting an old Pennsylvania Dutch staircase and cupboard in the large barn, which will house these and other relics.

Reds Threaten Sit-down Strike In UN Truce

MUNSAN, Korea, Thursday, Feb. 28—(AP)—The communists threatened a virtual sit-down strike in Korean armistice negotiations Wednesday unless the United Nations reversed itself and accepted Russia as a neutral truce inspector.

"Until such time," declared North Korean Col. Chang Chun San, "there will be no progress in these negotiations."

The Reds made the statement in again rejecting an Allied plan to cut the number of neutral nation truce inspectors from six to four by dropping Russia from the Red list and Norway from the Allied selections. Sweden and Switzerland were the other two neutrals nominated by the UN. Poland and Czechoslovakia also were chosen by the Reds.

The Russian issue was so sharply defined that observers speculated the next decision probably would come from Washington or Moscow.

TOKYO, Feb. 27—(AP)—The lack of tub thumping by the Chinese Communists about their air force in the Korean War may mean that the only Red victories in MIG alley are won by Russian pilots. Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland, head of the Far East Air Forces, expressed this thought today on the mysterious reticence of Peiping propaganda broadcasts, which never mention alleged exploits of Chinese pilots.
