

Constitution to be Read To Lion Party Sunday

By LIX NEWELL

For the first time in the history of campus politics, a written constitution will be presented to Lion party members for approval, John Stoudt, acting chairman, announced yesterday.

The proposed constitution, written by Alan Maloney and Clair George, will be read at the party meeting to be held at 7 p.m. Sunday in 10 Sparks.

40 Attend State Party Workshop

About 40 students attended five committee meetings of the State Party workshop at 7 p.m. yesterday. The majority of the students—about 25—attended the ward meeting under the chairmanship of Ernest Famous.

The publicity committee meeting, led by Robert Kritt, discussed the printing of political campaign materials and suggested that all posters, handbills, and the like used by either party—Lion or State—be prepared through College facilities.

This practice, the committee asserted, would eliminate the evil of possible "padding" of party donations. It would also give both parties equal access to printing facilities and provide a positive check on expense account spending, the committee suggested.

The distribution committee handed out notices of the State Party's clique meeting, which will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday in 119 Osmond. The membership committee met with the distribution committee.

Melvin Rubin headed the platform committee, which discussed workshop policy and extended an invitation to all campus organizations to "constructively work with our non-partisan platform workshop."

Thomas Farrell, acting workshop chairman, described the workshop meetings as "well-attended."

No Site Found For New ROTC Rifle Range

A new site for the recently closed Army ROTC rifle range will probably not be found before the end of the semester, Charles K. Hostetter, comptroller, said yesterday.

"I'm afraid nothing will be possible before the end of the semester because it has been entirely impossible to uncover a new location," Hostetter said.

The rifle range was moved from the Armory to Atherton Hall last semester, but was closed because of complaints by coeds who said the noise interfered their studying.

"Nothing has been accomplished since the range was closed," Hostetter said. He said the ROTC still wanted a location for the range but added, "frankly, we're stymied."

Tryouts for 'The Voice' To Be Held by Guild

Tryouts for "The Voice of Norman Corwin," a dramatic script which will be presented on the Thursday at Eight radio series over WMAJ, will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Monday in 304 Sparks.

The show, sponsored by the Radio Guild, will be the first of four presentations honoring International Theater Month. It will be directed by John Price.

WSGA Election Dates

Woman's Student Government Association primary elections will be held March 25 and final elections on March 27, instead of March 27 and 29 as previously reported in the Daily Collegian.

The major change in the present party setup will be a cut in the power of the party chairman. Many of his actions will be subject to approval by a new executive committee.

The executive committee will be made up of the four party officers, and each party class chairman. They will be voting members of the steering committee which is to be made up of all elected and appointed officers.

All party members may attend meetings to determine the content of the party platform.

Campus and town students are to be divided into areas with the area coordinators forming a link of communication from students to the party heads.

According to the proposed constitution, steering committee nominations shall be given no different reception than others from the floor, and a nominator may not state that his nominee has the steering committee recommendation.

Voting shall be restricted to party members by use of temporary membership cards until the All-College elections committee makes out permanent ones.

Fund raising and appropriations shall be subject to approval by the steering committee before being presented to the All-College elections committee.

"Our purpose is to put the Lion party on as democratic a level as possible and eliminate any connotations of secrecy," Maloney said.

A Phi O Will Accept 75 Men

Up to 75 men will be accepted into Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, at a pledge mixer at 7 tonight in the Hugh Beaver room, 304 Old Main.

All students except eighth semester seniors are eligible to become members of the fraternity, Richard Schuler, vice president and chairman of the pledge committee, said.

An outline of the principles, history, organization, and benefits to the campus and community of the fraternity will be given at the meeting, Schuler said. A series of comedy skits by Gene Phlegar will provide the entertainment of the evening, with refreshments being served after the meeting.

Schuler also announced that the fraternity was inaugurating a new program of talks to be given every two weeks by members of the faculty. No definite topics for the speeches have been determined yet, he added, but indicated they will cover a wide variety of subjects.

'Rifles' to Initiate New District Unit

The College's regiment staff of Pershing Rifles will go to Baltimore today to initiate 41 members into a new company at Johns Hopkins University.

The new company will be designated Company O, fifth regiment.

Cadet Col. Jack Enterline, regiment commander, said the initiation will mark the culmination of the staff's efforts in the formation of the 14th company in the district, which covers Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia.

Vogan to Speak

The Rev. Ferdimore E. Vogan, pastor of the Mercer United Presbyterian Church, Mercer, will speak to the Penn State Bible Fellowship at 7:30 tonight in 405 Old Main. The Rev. Vogan's topic will be "Abiding in Christ."

Only 2 Kittens Appear to be Stage-Struck

Apparently the State College kitten population isn't the least bit stage-struck, for so far only one call has come in for the cat parts in "You Can't Take it With You," the Players' next Schwab Auditorium show.

The agent for two white Persian kittens called Director Warren S. Smith yesterday and offered the services of her clients, Renee Kluger, properties manager, will see them today and decide whether they meet the requirements.

Because the kittens are five months old, Smith said that he was afraid they might be too big for the role of "paperweights." The only requisite for the kittens is that they be "very young," he said.

So until the parts are definitely cast the search for kittenish talent goes on. Anyone who knows of two struggling feline actors or actresses is asked to call Miss Kluger, 413 Simmons Hall, or Smith, College extension 2418.

De Levie Finishes Book Translation

Dr. Dagobert de Levie, assistant professor of German, has completed his translation of the Dutch book "Psychology of Projection Phenomena." The book was written by Dr. D. J. van Lenep, Dutch psychologist.

The translation was edited by Dr. Charles Elliott, former assistant professor of clinical speech at the College, and now with the Department of Speech at Northwestern University.

Fire Near Penn

FLAMES RAGE THROUGH the fourth floor of a house in West Philadelphia early Wednesday as firemen report one man burned to death and three others injured. The rooming house is located near the University of Pennsylvania campus.

Forbes Is Delegate To National Council

A. H. Forbes, associate professor of electrical engineering at the College and faculty advisor of Sigma Tau, was the special guest at the meeting of the National Council of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, held recently in Chicago.

Forbes also attended the annual convention of the American Council of Honor Societies in Chicago as one of the delegates of Sigma Tau.

33 Ordered to Take Pre-Induction Exam

Thirty-three students have been ordered to report to the Post House to depart for their pre-induction physical examination on March 3 in Harrisburg, according to Local Board 44 in Bellefonte.

The board also announced that applications and bulletins of information for Selective Service College Qualifications Test on April 24 are available at the Post Office building in Bellefonte.

The students ordered to report for the physical examination are Franklin Allison, Harry Anderson, Richard Blythe, Andrew Bolish, Ralph Craine Jr., Robert Cronqvist, Arthur Denys Jr., David Dickson, Milton Fisher, Thomas Gaffney, Edison Garner Jr., Carl Haag, Bernard Henderon Jr., Richard Hill, Robert Horner, William Jackson, Herbert Jones Jr., Jack Keyser, Charles McCaffrey, Robert McFadden, Earle Mundell, Robert Naylor, Kenneth Newman, Thomas Owens, Nicholas Saitto, William Schlegel, Robert Smith, Phillip Solomon, John Speer Jr., Lee Stern, William Sutton, Charles Teacher, and Thomas Ward.

Qualifications for the college qualification test are that an applicant must be a Selective Service registrant who intends to request occupational deferment as a student; he must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree; and he must not have previously taken the test.

The applicant is required to call in person at the Local Board office and identify himself with his Selective Service registration (Continued on page eight)

3 Moves Suggested For Airport

The problem of providing sufficient air service facilities for the State College area has been turned over to the State College and Bellefonte councils and the county commissioners by the Airport Authority. The authority has been investigating an offer for the use of the Black Moshannon Airport.

At an authority meeting Wednesday, three possible moves for the three governing bodies were outlined.

The possibilities are:

1. Using Black Moshannon as a temporary field until a new one can be built.

2. Trying to get the field certified as the county airport.

3. Using state and federal funds to build a modern airport closer to a center of population.

Black Moshannon is 27 miles from State College by road and is equipped with a federal weather station valued at $250,000 and other buildings offered for sale at $7800. A member of the Moshannon Airport Corp. offered to lease the field to the College for $1 a year.

James B. Craig, authority vice president, said in a recent investigation report that if no financial consideration is involved in improvement of the State College field "no other part of the county should be considered." He explained that at least 90 per cent of the air traffic originates near the College.

William Leonard, chairman of the airport committee of the State College area Chamber of Commerce, said the authority may have been "misled" when it was told that state and federal funds were not available for any other site except the Air Depot here.

He said that temporary approval has been given for several other sites in this area by government officials.

Eight to Receive Fire Contributions

The Gentzel fire fund committee decided yesterday to allocate the fund donations to eight students who received losses in the fire.

Allocation of the money was made in relation to the amount of damages suffered by the students with consideration of their insurance coverage. The eight men will receive a total of $396.66 in cash and $90 in merchandise donations by two borough stores.

Marvin Krasnansky, chairman of the committee, said that the eight men should report to Assistant Dean of Men Daniel DeMarino Monday to receive the funds.

The men are Herbert Segall, John Schnabel, James Lawler, Ray Schaeffer, William Kauffman, John Swanchak, Paul O'Brien and Richard Schultz.
