Grad to Speak On Old Religion

Minocher Karkhanavala, graduate student in Mineral Industries, will speak on his religion, Zoroastrianism, at 7 Sunday night in the Hugh Beaver room in Old Main.

Zoroastrianism is one of the oldest and least known religions in the world. It was first preached by Zarathustra or Zoroaster over 2000 years ago. Karkhanavala is one of the 100,000 Parsis of Bombay Province, India, who have clung to this ancient faith rather than be converted to Islam.

The title of Karkhanavala's talk will be "My Religion—Zoroastrianism."

Karhan, Gamble To Give Recital

Theodore Karhan, violinist and assistant professor of music and music education, and Edwin Gamble, pianist and instructor in music, will present a faculty music recital at 4 p.m. Sunday in Schwab Auditorium.

The program will include "Sonata No. 4 in C minor" (Bach), "Sonata No. 3 in D minor" (Brahms), and "Sonata in E" (Hindemith).

Farmer-Farmerette Frolic

The Wesley Foundation will sponsor a square dance, the Farmer-Farmerette Frolic from 8 to 12 midnight tonight in the Wesley Gym on E. College avenue. A square dance band will furnish the music, and Ross Lytle will be the caller. Refreshments will be served. The cost is 30 cents per person, and the dance is open to all students.
