

Courtmen Finish Season Tonight

By DAVE COLTON

Bucknell fans probably don't have to worry about Coach Elmer Gross using the "deep freeze" when the invading Lion cagers close their best season in school history at 8:30 tonight in Davis Gym.

State used freeze tactics last winter against the Bisons and kept the contest scoreless for the first 16 minutes. The Lions led 5-3 at halftime and won 25-15. But after Saturday night's 24-9 nightmare with Doc Carlson and Pitt the Nittanians probably have seen enough of the delaying tactics for one season.

Eyes on Arnelle

Besides, State has a good 19-4 chart for the campaign and an outside chance for one of the four "at large" bids to the NCAA tournament. Gross also has more manpower at his disposal than he did last year.

Massive Jesse Arnelle (6-5) is the man whom most of the sell-out crowd of 2500 will be watching. When the Lions defeated Coach Jack Guy's quintet, 73-63, in the second game of the season the big freshman star was just a reserve.

Since then Arnelle has proven himself one of the freshman standouts of the country and has cracked every major Penn State scoring record. He has amassed 426 points for an 18.5 average. He holds the Rec Hall scoring mark of 40, set against Georgetown, and an away record of 30 against Syracuse.

Co-captains Start

Three of Gross' most dependable performers—seniors Tiny McMahan, Joe Piorowski and Hardy Williams—will play their last regular season game. All three will be in the starting lineup along with Arnelle and Jack Sherry.

Co-captain Williams and Sherry will open at guards; Arnelle, center; and Co-captain McMahan and Piorowski forwards. As usual Gross will have Ed Haag, Herm Sledzik and Ron Weidenhammer for heavy reserve duty.

The Bisons will be gunning to stop the Lions' three game mastery over them. Last year State won another contest besides the freeze battle, and those, joined with this year's success, give Gross' squad three consecutive victories over the Lewisburg rivals.

DeLoca Strong Center

Bucknell's main recognition this season has resulted from upset wins over Arizona State, Rutgers and Rhode Island State. The Bisons defeated the Rams worse than Penn State did at Rhode Island. They scored 100 points against Rutgers.

Guy's starting array will probably be Captain Connie DeLoca (6-3), Jack Gallagher (6-1), Jim Poff (6-5), Don Strasser (6-2) and Jack Webber (5-9). Gallagher is the best scorer and averaged about 19 points a game last season. DeLoca, a 200 pound senior, is a good rebounder.

Matmen —

(Continued from page six)

Joe Lemyre at 167 pounds. MacDonald also went unbeaten as a frosh last year.

Nittany Dick Waters has the unenviable job of meeting the biggest and toughest of the Tigers, Captain Brad Glass. On several selectors' all-football teams last fall, Glass has only been defeated once in his collegiate career. In addition to being an Eastern and national titleholder, Glass is Metropolitan New York's AAU heavyweight champ.

Hud Samson at 177 for State lines up against another letterman for Princeton's two-season unbeaten football team, Marty Mayer. Mayer is a holdover from last season's Tiger mat squad.

Demand for Tickets

Early inquiries indicate an unprecedented demand for tickets to the National AAU men's and women's gymnastics championships slated to be held in Penn State's Recreation Hall April 25-26. Gene Wettstone, in charge of the two-day event, said tickets will be placed on sale April 1.

End College Careers

Hardy Williams

Jay McMahan

Bobby Lawrence Puts 5 Meet Streak on Line

Bob Lawrence will put his five-meet winning streak on line in the sidehorse event at Syracuse today when the 25th annual EIGA's start at 2 p.m.

Thus far, Lawrence has come out on top in matches with North Carolina, Army, Navy, Syracuse, and Temple. Against North Carolina, Lawrence registered his highest total, scoring 280 points. His second best was a 271 against Syracuse.

Two Nittanians Get District Court Honors

Two Penn State players were given recognition on the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette's fourth annual Tri-State basketball team.

Jesse Arnelle, six-five freshman standout, was given eight of a possible ten votes to win a first team forward position. Lion Co-captain Hardy Williams garnered one vote to earn one of the 11 honorable mention posts. Arnelle was the only freshman on the first team.

The rest of the first team lists Tom Craig, Carnegie Tech; Jim Tucker, Duquesne; Mark Workman, West Virginia, and Mickey Zernich, Pitt. Workman was the highest point getter with nine votes. Tucker and Arnelle both had eight.

The team was selected by the ten coaches of the Tri-State Big Ten. Coach Elmer Gross was one of the coaches who cast a ballot.

Other Lion opponents who made the squad were John Mojzer of Washington-Jefferson and Clarence Burch of Pitt. The Nittanians played against all of the first team except Tucker.

Boxing Faces Anti-Trust Suit

NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—A federal grand jury investigating boxing on a nationwide scale recommended today that the government take anti-trust action to end "restraints of trade in the promotion and broadcasting of championship fights."

The special body, which has been probing ring practices since Oct. 8, stated in a short presentment to Federal Judge William Bondy:

"After hearing the evidence in this matter grand jury recommends that the attorney general consider filing a civil action under the anti-trust laws."

Boxing thus became the third major sport to be threatened with an anti-trust suit since the war.

Also entered with Lawrence in the sidehorse event is Frank Wick.

On the horizontal bars, Coach Gene Wettstone will start with freshman star Jan Cronstedt and Mario Todaro. Cronstedt was undefeated in this speciality until he fell from the bar in State's final meet at Temple.

4 Second Man

Cronstedt will also double in the parallel bars with Al Wick and Bill Sabo. The "Flying Finn" has lost but once in this event. That setback was administered by Ray Colvin, Army, with 269 points.

In the rope climbing, Wettstone will pin his hopes on Dave Shultz and Johnny Baffa. Shultz is a consistent four-second man and should cause trouble.

On the flying rings, State will use Jim Hazen, Tony Procopio, and freshman Karl Schwenzfeier. Hazen is State's best in this event.

All-around Competitors

Schwenzfeier and Procopio will come right back with Cronstedt in the all-around competition, which includes the sidehorse, parallel bars, horizontal bars, and flying rings.

Syracuse is expected to enter three men in the all-around—Ferdie Fournies, Milan Trnka, and Johnny Barkal. Temple will have a pair of Johnnies—Galante and Jengo—as its representatives. Army and Navy probably will not enter this speciality.

Barkal Favored

Barkal will probably occupy the role of favorite in this speciality. Barkal grabbed second places in the sidehorse, parallel bars, and horizontal bars against State.

State, on the other hand, will present a well-balanced threesome in this event in Cronstedt, Procopio, and Schwenzfeier.

Both Procopio and Schwenzfeier can do all four events fairly well.

Doubles in Sports

Penn State's light-heavyweight wrestler, Hud Samson, of Pittsburgh, is a member of the Lion golf team.

PIAA Swimming Today

More than 100 high school swimmers will compete for titles today in the annual PIAA swimming championships in Glennland Pool. The competition will get underway at 10 a.m.

York High School is the defending team champion.

Jesse Arnelle Named To All-Pa. Cage Team

PHILADELPHIA, March 12—(AP)—Jesse Arnelle, Penn State freshman, polled the highest number of votes, and Temple University's Bill Milkvy became the first three year choice in balloting to determine the 1951-52 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania collegiate basketball team.

Fifty sports editors and radio sportscasters took part in the poll that chose five Eastern Pennsylvania boys, four from the Western end of the State and one from the Central area for the first squad. In keeping with the modern firehouse brand of basketball, in which more than five men are needed for a well balanced squad, a 10 man team was selected.

Second Team

Named along with Arnelle and Milkvy, were Jim Tucker and Dick Ricketts of Duquesne, Tom Gola of LaSalle, Ernie Beck of Penn. Larry Hennessey of Villanova, Mike Zernich of Pittsburgh, Don Stiemmerich of Clarion and Pete Carril of Lafayette.

The second team has John Doogan, St. Joseph's College; Jim Kennedy, Duquesne; Eddie Cahn, Lehigh; Fred Iehle, LaSalle; Clarence Burch, Pittsburgh; Gerry Potts, Albright; Bob Pizolato, Gettysburg; Joe Gallagher, Bucknell; Maurice Stokes, St. Francis; and Carson (Gus) Lovett of Franklin and Marshall.

Arnelle Record Breaker

The first squad, a combination of brilliant shotmakers, rebound experts, playmakers and general all-around court aptitude, presents the usual feature of three freshmen. With the exception of the years during World War II, a freshman has been a rarity on the All-State team. To top it off, Arnelle, 18-year-old first year gem on Penn State's fine team, polled the high of 44 votes.

Arnelle broke all Penn State scoring records, including a single game mark that had stood since 1919. The 218-pound all-around athlete scored 40 points against Georgetown, erasing the old mark of 36. He scored over 400 points and was one of the best rebounders in the state, averaging 18 to 20 a game.

Milkvy, the 21-year-old sensation from Palmerton, Pa., didn't fare as well this season as he did in the previous campaign. But he still managed to total 418 points and collar over 350 rebounds in addition to handing out 118 assists. He completed one of the most brilliant basketball careers in the history of the game. His 29.2 average in the 1950-51 season is a national record they may be shooting at for a long time.

Sinkers Impressive In 62-13 Court Win

By JIM PETERS

The Sinkers were the most impressive of four IM independent cage teams that emerged as champions of their respective leagues after tie playoff victories Thursday night at Rec Hall.

The Epars, Wildcats, and Dorm 14 notched wins to take home the crowns in Leagues A, G, and H, respectively, but it was the Sinkers who for the second consecutive night stole the show.

IM Schedule

Monday Night's IM Cage Playoffs
7 p.m.	Crusaders vs. Dorm 14
7 p.m.	Sinkers vs. Foresters
7 p.m.	Edinboro vs. Epars
7:40	Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Sigma Phi Sigma
8:20	Phi Delta Theta vs. Phi Sigma Delta

With Jim Garrity in the driver's seat, the team composed mostly of Penn State football players romped to an easy 62-13 triumph over Dorm 36. Garrity scored 20 points for the winners, but 18 of them came in the first half as the Sinkers took a commanding 29-5 halftime lead.

Dorm 36, in losing for the second time this season to the new League J champs, failed to score a field goal in the first half, and made only two the entire game. Frank Schwab's six points were high for the losers.

The Epars, trailing 18-10 at halftime, rallied strongly in the second half to whip the Sea Hawks, 27-22, and take the League A championship. In the second half, the winners scored 13 consecutive points to take the lead, 23-18, and were never headed again. Harry Weaver tallied 13 markers to lead the Epars.

Dorm 14 also trailed at halftime, but came back in the second half to whip the Dinks, 21-17. After the Dinks had piled up an 11-4 lead at intermission, Dorm 14 began to roll and finally took the lead at 18-17. Don Thomas and Jack Shaw each scored 6 points to pace Dorm 14 to the League H title.

The Wildcats took the measure of the Terrapins for the second time this week to capture the laurels in League G. The Terrapins held an early 10-2 lead, fell behind 16-11 at halftime, and finally lost despite a late flurry, 34-28. John Body was high for the Wildcats with 11 points followed by Bill Body and Don Port with eight markers each.

Football Rivals

In 1952 Penn State will oppose the football teams of two Big Ten, two Southern Conference, one Big Seven, and five independent institutions. The Big Ten rivals, both conquerors of the Lions in 1951, are Purdue and Michigan State.

State's Jeffrey To Conduct GI Soccer Clinic

Penn State's soccer Coach Bill Jeffrey will head for Europe early next month to conduct a series of GI soccer clinics.

The Lion mentor will join a party of four or more to teach the sport to Seventh Army enthusiasts in Western Germany.

The trip will be Jeffrey's fourth abroad since 1945. In 1945, he spent three months with the Fifth Army in the Mediterranean Theatre.

In 1950, Jeffrey coached the United States team in World Cup games in Brazil. It was on that trip that the U.S. booters stunned the soccer world by defeating England, one of the foremost soccer countries in the world.

Last year, the Nittany Lion coach took the Penn State team to Iran on a government sponsored good-will tour.

Jeffrey also went abroad in 1934, taking the State team on a tour of his home country, Scotland.

Law Is Goal

A career in law is the goal of Penn State's basketball co-captain, Hardy Williams, of Philadelphia.