

Lippert To Discuss Titanium

"Titanium Becomes a Tonnage Metal" will be the topic of a talk by T. W. Lippert, general manager of the Titanium Metals Corporation of America, at 8 tonight in the Mineral Industries art gallery. He will speak to members and guests of the American Society for Metals.

Lippert will relate the uses of titanium and the progress made in fabrication methods. Consideration will be given to extractive and melting operations currently in use, estimates of possible new techniques to speed up production, and production of a higher quality of metal at a lower price.

Because titanium is coming into more general use, students enrolled in all engineering curricula, metallurgy, and chemistry are invited to attend, Dale McKissick, secretary of the society, said.

Lippert, who has a B.S. and M.S. in physics, was formerly manager of publishing activities of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineering.

Jokester Ballots

Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, a write-in candidate, came in fifth with nine independent votes. Other write-in candidates were Gen. Douglas MacArthur, John Foster Dulles, Sen. Richard R. Nixon of California, John L. Lewis, Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, President Milton S. Eisenhower, and Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin.

The usual number of jokester ballots were received, with Marvin Krasnansky, Daily Collegian editor, getting three votes and Premier Joseph Stalin getting two.

Income No Influence

Of the 223 balloters, 39 per cent claimed an annual family income of under $5000, while 35.4 per cent claimed between $5000 and $10,000 a year, and 20.2 per cent stated their annual family income was over $10,000. The question was left unanswered by 5.4 per cent of the voters.

Family income seemed to be no important factor in determining the student's choice of candidates. A slight preference for Republican candidates was shown by those in the upper income brackets. The Democrats gained more support from lower income groups.

Truman Popularity

Almost half of those voting (48.8 per cent) claimed residence in home towns of between 5000 and 500,000 population, while 29.1 per cent said they were from towns of under 5000 persons and

Warren	19	Krasnansky	3
Nixon	1	Stalin	2
Undecided	8

17.9 per cent were from cities over 500,000. Nine voters (4.4 per cent) did not answer the question.

Truman's popularity was greater in larger cities, getting 15 per cent of the vote in cities over 500,000, 11 per cent in cities having populations between 5000 and 500,000 persons, and nine per cent in small towns.

Enter New Hampshire Primary
Taft received 20 per cent of the vote in towns under 5000 and nine per cent of the city vote. Eisenhower polled 44 per cent of the under 5000 and over 500,000 vote and 39 per cent of the 5000 to 500,000 vote.

Four of the top five candidates — Eisenhower, Taft, Truman, and Kefauver — are entered in today's New Hampshire primary elections. Other colleges, including the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University, are also conducting presidential preference polls.

The Daily Collegian plans to conduct a similar poll this spring and one in the fall before the election.

Exchange Plan Now Available

Any student may take part in the student exchange plan, which permits an American student to live free in a foreign country for two months this summer, in exchange for providing similar accommodations for a foreign student in his home this winter, according to Dr. Oscar Haac, assistant professor of Romance languages.

Meals and sleeping quarters are provided free of charge by participating families. A contribution of $10 must be made to the Student Exchange Fund. Inquiries should be sent to Gabino A. Palma, Monterrey 381, Roma Sur, Mexico, D. F. Haac said.

Ag Council --

(Continued from page one) mittee has compiled, if the plan is approved, students in the School of Agriculture would be paying almost $3000 a year for the support of the teams, while all other students will be paying a total of $1500 a year.

Nine Teams Benefit

"This means," the report says, "that 18.2 per cent of the students (those in agriculture) would pay 68 per cent of the costs and 81.8 per cent of the students (all except agriculture) would pay 32 per cent of the costs."

The teams which would benefit from the fee increase include dairy cattle, dairy products, livestock, meats, wool, fruit, crops, poultry, and flower. The teams make a total of 15 trips a year and travel a total of 22,968 miles, according to the report. They are in competition with 42 schools from 40 states and Canada, the report says.
