

Six Champions Headline Strong Wrestling Array Edinboro Defeated By Sinkers, 42-36

Lehigh Captain Feuerbach, after two years of sweeping 130-pound honors, will be attempting to extend his domination to the 137-pound class. Perona will take a third crack at the 157-pound title.

Rugged Frank Bettucci will be grappling to take a second 147-pound crown back to Cornell; Yale's George Graveson, voted outstanding wrestler in last year's meet, seeks to repeat in the 167-pound class; and EIWA and NCAA champion Brad Glass has designs on a second straight heavyweight title for Princeton.

Gerbino Seeks Comeback

Penn State's 137-pound champion Don Maurey will not defend his title, but his kid brother Jerry will be carrying the family shield for the Lions. (Elders brother Jim Maurey is an ex-champ at 147.)

Syracuse's Bob Gerbino, hot on the comeback trail after losing his 1950 123-pound crown to Lehigh's Mike Filipos last year, makes the sixth former champ in the star-spangled field.

This morning the coaches will meet to make out the seedings based on season records. Seedings are drawn with the first and fourth seeded placed in one bracket and second and third seeded in another so that the best men should meet in the semifinals and finals.

Rubino, Maurey '51 Champs

Team scoring points are figured on the following basis: six points for a champion; four points for a runnerup; two points for a third place; one point for a fourth place; and one point for every pin scored by an individual.

Last year in Rec Hall, Penn State scored 28 points to second place Lehigh's 20. The Lions came up with two individual champs in 177-pounder Mike Rubino and Don Maurey. Don Frey took 147 runnerup honors, as did Homer Barr in the heavyweight division. Joe Lemyre nabbed a third place for State at 167.

Lions 2d with Champions

Lehigh leads in the team championship race, with 12 since 1908, followed closely by Cornell with 11 and Penn State with 10.

Cornell has shown the way with 64 individual champions and the Lions trail with 59.

Scores of State's nine dual victories this season were: Lehigh, 20-5; Virginia, 34-0; Pitt, 25-5; Maryland, 22-8; Army, 21-13; Syracuse, 17-11; Navy, 22-5; Cornell, 24-5; and Princeton, 27-3.

John Marshall Breaks Nat'l Swim Record

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 13—(AP)—John Marshall, Yale's sensational junior from Australia, broke the national intercollegiate 1500-meters record tonight as he successfully defended his Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League title. His time was 19:03.7. That's better than the 50-meter (long course) mark of 20:02.2 which Keo Nakama, a Korean then swimming for Ohio State, recorded exactly eight years ago in the same pool.

Marshall went in front of his teammate, Wayne Moore, who also broke Nakama's standard, at about the 250-meter mark, and won by 25 meters, or half the distance of the tank. Moore was clocked in 19:24.7.

The world's record is 18:19 owned by Hironoshin Furuhashi, the Japanese ace.

Dexter Smith of Army was third in 20:14.2, followed by Joe Burnett of Yale, Phil Ware of Niagara and Bill Yorzyk of Springfield.

Navy Switch Gives Golfers Home Meet

After a request from Navy that a May 17 match be shifted from Annapolis to State College, the Lion golfers will now play on the home course twice instead of once.

The Lions will be playing a predominantly a-way schedule, with four matches on foreign courses. This was necessitated by the late date golf was retained, after being cut from the athletic program in an economy move.

Six Teams Will Play In Pro League Playoffs

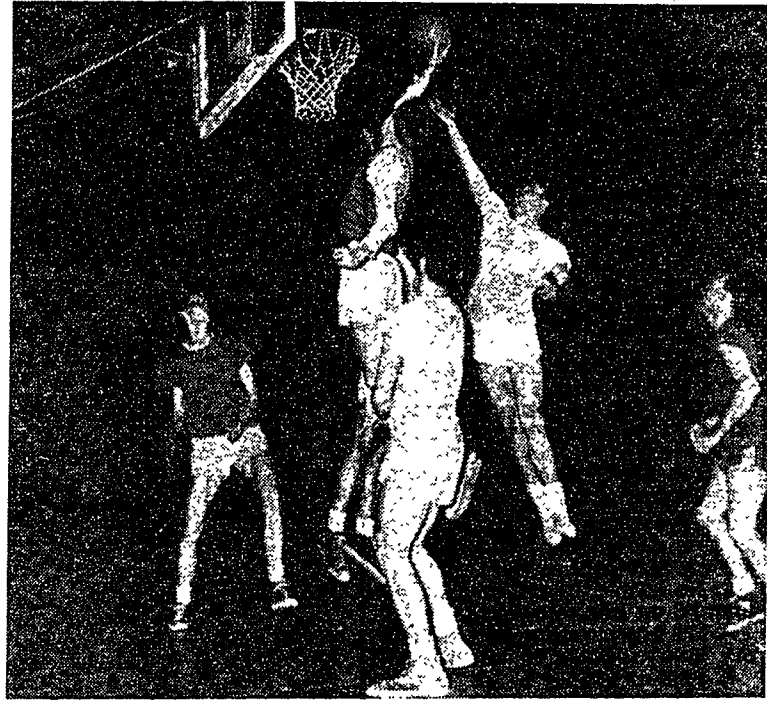

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 13—(AP)—Six teams will participate in the American Professional Basketball League playoffs beginning this weekend, league President John J. O'Brien, announced today.

O'Brien said runner-up Elmira would meet third place Wilkes-Barre in the inaugural Saturday night at Elmira. Sunday afternoon the champion Scranton Miners entertain Saratoga at Scranton with Manchester, Conn., playing host to Bridgeport.

Adcock Leads Reds

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13—(AP)—Harry Brecheen, making his first pitching appearance of the spring, threw a home run ball to Joe Adcock with a runner on base in the ninth inning today and the blast gave the Cincinnati Reds a 2-1 victory.

Bouldin Scores for Edinboro

KEN BOULDIN goes high to score for Edinboro in the final game last night. However, Edinboro needed more than this as the Sinkers snapped its two year championship reign by defeating the defending champs, 42-36.

Only the Babe Approaches Par In Augusta Play

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 13 (AP) The venerable Augusta Country Club golf course, a par 72 layout without a soft touch hole, was too tough for the girls of the Titleholders Tournament today and only Babe Zaharias got neighborhood with par.

The Babe, most honored name in women's golf, shot a respectable 74 in the first round and when she was finished on the 6619 yard course she breathed deeply and said, "I'm glad to get it. A 74 out there in that wind on that hunk of golf course suits me fine."

Heavy rains last night and great gusts of wind today made the course play long and hard. Lowest score ever made in these Blue Ribbon tournaments was 71—a record held jointly by the Babe and Marlene Bauer.

Babe Zaharias in first place is nothing new and no surprise but the advent of Marnie Polk of Chattanooga, Tenn., as second place finisher with a 76 was a major shocker.

In three previous titleholders, the lowest Miss Polk ever scored was 88.

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—Young and swashbuckling La Salle continued its Cinderella role in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament tonight by knocking off top-seeded Duquesne, 59-46, to gain the championship round. In Saturday's finals, the Philadelphians will meet the winner of tonight's other-semi-final game between Dayton and St. Bonaventure.

It was the third straight upset victory for unseeded La Salle, which beat towering Seton Hall and fourth-rated St. John's in earlier appearances.

For mighty Duquesne, whose only previous loss in 23 games this season was an overtime defeat by Villanova, it was an evening of abject misery before a sellout crowd of some 18,000 at Madison Square Garden.

The "Iron Dukes," fourth-ranked nationally, were completely outfought, out-thought and out-shot by the freshman-flavored band of Explorers from the Quaker City.

By JIM PETERS
Edinboro's two-year reign as champions of independent basketball came to an end last night as the Sinkers outplayed Edinboro in the second half for a thrilling 42-36 victory.

The Sinkers trailed at halftime, 23-20, but regained that small deficit quickly in the third quarter to lead, 32-27, going into the final period. Edinboro, which had rallied twice this week for close victories, still couldn't get started even in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter. The Sinkers boosted their lead to 11 points before Glenn Brown made good a one-hander. Don Gaddess followed with a long set shot but Jim Garrity came back with two points for the Sinkers.

On Even Terms
John McAvoy hit on a set from the corner to clinch the Sinkers' victory after Gaddess and Bill Mihalich had scored two-pointers for Edinboro.

The two teams battled on even terms in the first period with Edinboro leading after the quarter ended, 13-12. The dethroned champions took the second stanza, 10-8, to lead at the intermission, 23-20.

With McAvoy holding the hot hand in the third period with remarkable accuracy on long set shots, the Sinkers grabbed the lead at 26-25, and never again were headed.

McAvoy Paces Winners
Edinboro, apparently tired after competing in two tournaments this week, could not keep pace with the fast-moving Sinkers, and often in the second half could not get a man down the floor in time to halt a fast break.

McAvoy led the Sinkers to the championship by tallying 14 points. He was aided in the scoring by Garrity and Bailey who scored 10 and nine markers, respectively. Ken Bouldin's 13 points were high for Edinboro with Bill Mihalich not too far behind with eight.
