

Quill Girl Vote Set for Today

Voting for the 1952 Quill Girl, who will be honored at the annual Matrix Table, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, will be held during the Women's Student Government Association and Women's Recreation Association primaries today.

The candidates for Quill Girl are Mary Jane Woodrow, WSGA president; Marilyn Williams, WRA president; and Nancy McClain, president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. All women students are eligible to vote for Quill Girl. Ballots will be available at all WSGA-WRA voting centers.

The deadline for accepting invitations to the Matrix Table is noon today. Over 100 invitations and tickets have been sent out to outstanding women on campus, according to Janet Bleutge, president of Theta Sigma Phi.

Cap, Matrix Girls

In addition to Quill Girl, two other senior women will be honored at the dinner, which will be held Monday at the University Club.

The title of Cap Girl will be given to the woman who has participated in the most varied activities. The Matrix Girl will be the woman who has served the College without recognition in Cwens, Chimes, or Mortar Board, women's activities honoraries. The Cap and Matrix Girls will be elected by members of Theta Sigma Phi.

All three candidates for Quill Girl are members of Mortar Board. Miss Woodrow is also a member of Chimes, Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary, and Pi Lambda Theta, women's education honorary. Miss Williams is a member of Cwens, Lakonides, women's physical education honorary, and Pi Lambda Theta. Miss McClain is a member of Chimes, Players, and Treble Singers.

Editor to Speak

Each year a woman who has achieved success in the field of journalism is engaged as Matrix Table speaker. This year Mrs. Charlotte Adams, housekeeping editor of Charm magazine, will speak.

Mrs. Adams is the author of two books, "The Run of the House" and "You'll Eat it Up." She has been foods editor for the Associated Press and Look and Collier's magazines.

The Matrix Table is an annual affair observed by chapters of Theta Sigma Phi throughout the United States.

Panhel Council To Meet Tonight

Panhellenic Council will meet at 6:30 tonight in Grange hall playground to discuss revisions in the Panhellenic constitution and to nominate a slate of officers.

Discussion of matters before All-College Cabinet, including the constitutional amendments pertaining to the Freshman Customs Board, the Board of Publications, and the 25 cent fee raise to pay the costs of judging teams is on the agenda.

The council will also discuss the IFC-Panhel Ball and Greek Week.

Engagements

Poorman-Powers

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Powers of State College have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia, to Paul Poorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Poorman of Lock Haven.

Miss Powers is a junior in the School of Home Economics, and is majoring in home economics-journalism. She is editor of News and Views, publication of the School of Home Economics, and is a member of the Home Economics student council; Cwens, sophomore women's activities honorary; Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity; and Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary.

Mr. Poorman was graduated from the College in January. He majored in journalism and was a member of the senior board of the Daily Collegian; Parmi Nous, senior men's hat society; Androcles, junior men's hat society; and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He is now stationed at Grenier Air Force Base, N. H.

Co-Edits

Zeta Tau Alpha

Zeta Tau Alpha entertained Alpha Gamma Rho at a square dance at the fraternity house. Dances were called by Chauncey Lang. Following the dancing, refreshments were served, and fraternity and sorority songs were sung.

Chi Omega

The sisters of Chi Omega held a breakfast in honor of the sorority's new pledges Sunday morning in the suite. Following the breakfast, members of the sorority attended chapel in a group.

Barmish, Kaplan Reign at Carnival

Ascher Barmish and Adele Kaplan were crowned king and queen Saturday night at the Hillel Purim Carnival, which raised $400 for the United Jewish Appeal.

Phi Sigma Sigma's booth was judged best decorated, Pi Lambda Phi's raised the most money, and Sigma Alpha Mu's was judged most unusual.

Clifford A. Nelson, associate professor of economics, Dr. Gerald B. M. Stein, and Jack Bromberg judged the booths.

Leonard Krieger and Janice Freedman were co-chairmen for the carnival.

The campus UJA goal this year is $4200. Most of the money is raised through personal contributions.

WRA Schedules IM Duplicate Bridge Hands

Duplicate hands will be played in intramural bridge Thursday night, the WRA Intramural Board decided at a meeting last night.

The use of duplicate hands will replace dealt hands as an experiment to judge in skill rather than luck.

The board also voted to have inter-class volleyball near or after Easter vacation.

All the intramurals not played due to sorority rushing are being made up this week except bowling. Bowling is being played as originally scheduled.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Alpha Sigma Phi entertained Alpha Omicron Pi Thursday night. A show by the pledges of the fraternity was presented, and refreshments were served.

Phi Kappa Sigma

Phi Kappa Sigma entertained Gamma Phi Beta for dinner Wednesday. James Davis and Raymond Barr provided piano entertainment.

Matrix Table Deadline

Noon today is the deadline for accepting invitations to the annual Matrix Table, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional fraternity. Women who received invitations and tickets may present the tickets and $2.75 at the Student Union desk in Old Main, where they will be stamped.

60 to Attend ZBT Conclave

Approximately 60 delegates will attend the annual sectional convention of Zeta Beta Tau to be held at the College this weekend.

Leadership training school for officers and future officers of the various chapters, as well as business sessions, will comprise the main portion of the convention.

A banquet Saturday at the State College Hotel and a dance Saturday night at the Zeta Beta Tau house will be included in the social program of the convention.

Fundamentals

economy is geared to the production of military arms and equipment. The youth of the nation is reminded constantly of its duty to serve in the armed forces. And radio commercials and newspaper advertisements extol the benefits of the Army, Navy, Marines, and Air Force.

To link the present administration with a military state is a convenient political ax with which the opposition can strike a blow, but it remains to be seen whether a new administration can cope with the problem of slashing military requirements. It seems doubtful that even an Eisenhower would dare cut military spending.

Okay Joe?

After just a few minutes conversation during the sitting with lovely Betty, we knew we had our next "O.K. Joe" girl.

At the top you see a beautiful portrait of Betty. Now notice the one below. Believe it or not it was made from the very same negative by merely tilting the image. At the LION STUDIO variations of this sort are graphically demonstrated to you on your proofs for your utmost satisfaction.

You are probably interested in the prices of fine portraits. We think that you will be pleased to know that you can have six 5" x 7" portraits for as little as $14.95. Why not call 4454 today and make an appointment.
