Trustees to Get Fee Proposal

Consideration of the gift of a $14,000, 1000 watt FM transmitter and antenna, and a 25 cent general student fee will be two of the major items to be ruled on tonight as the College Board of Trustees opens its regular spring meeting on campus.

The increase, which will affect all students, was recommended to the board by All-College Cabinet last night. It is designed to remove the burden of financing the judging teams of the College from the School of Agriculture, and place the burden upon the entire student body.

Comment from administration sources indicated that approval of the recommendation might be expected.

The board, apparently, will also be asked to rule on a recom-

Werts WSGA Vice President

The 80 per cent vote topped the 79 per cent mark recorded in both this and last year's primary elections. Both MacAllister Hall and Women's Building had 100 per cent turnouts, and all but four women voted in Grange.

Barbara Werts became the new WSGA vice president and runner-up Mimi Ungar junior senator. Maude Strawn defeated Baylee Friedman for the position of treasurer.

In the closest vote of the election, Carolyn McElroy won as senior senator over Joanne Williams. Nancy White is junior senator, defeating Marilyn Buzby.

Sylvia Grube defeated Beverly Dickinson to become sophomore senator. Town senator is Barbara Denniston, who won over Virginia Breneman.

Hinner IM Chairman

In the WRA elections, Barbara Wallace won the vice presidency slot over Ethel Brown. Carole Avery is secretary-treasurer by virtue of her win over Eleanor Gwynn.

Virginia Hinner defeated Patricia Colgan to win as intramural chairman. Marie Wagner is assistant intramural chairman as a result of her win over Beate Maron.

May Pick Up Pictures

Mary Jane Woodrow, incumbent president of WSGA, said new officers will be installed April 29 and will take over their offices at the first meeting after the installation.

All candidates may pick up pictures used on posters in the Dean of Women's office, Joanne Williams, WSGA elections chairman, said.

He-Man Contest To Be Held

Miss Penn State will be sharing her honors this year with the "All-College He-Man." This title will be bestowed upon the undergraduate male who gives the best performance in an evening of field events during the 1952 Spring Week to be held May 12 to 17.

Any campus organization may sponsor a man for the He-Man contest which will be held on Holmes Field on the evening of May 13. The deadline for entries in the contest is April 26.

A group wishing to sponsor a candidate for the He-Man title is to submit the man's name, College address, telephone number, curriculum, height, and weight at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

The winner of the contest will rule with Miss Penn State over the ensuing Spring Week activities. He will also receive a trophy and other prizes.

Hospital Reports White 'Satisfactory'

Rhea White's condition was reported as "satisfactory" by the Crouse Irving hospital in Syracuse, N.Y., the Associated Press reported last night.

The hospital said Miss White was receiving visitors, but there was no indication as to the date of her release from the hospital.

Miss White was injured in an automobile crash just outside Syracuse on March 12.

Votes for Ugly Man

Ugly Man Contest Reaches Last Day

The Alpha Phi Omega Ugly Man contest moves into its final day today, with results so far better than anticipated and the heaviest vote expected this afternoon.

Most of the groups sponsoring candidates have been collecting money-votes at other points and will probably turn them in all at once this afternoon, William Slepik, contest chairman said. Slepik also commended student reaction to the contest.

The Ugly Man contest opened Wednesday and will close at 5 p.m. today. The voting booth is on the Mall at Pollock road.

Students may vote for their favorite ugly by placing money in a designated container at the booth. The contestant with the most money when voting ends this afternoon will be Ugly Man, but his name will not be revealed until the IFC-Panhel Ball on April 4 in Recreation Hall. The Ugly Man votes will be counted tonight.

Students may vote as many times as they wish, Slepik said. Proceeds of the contest will go to the Campus Chest.

Slepik said some groups are backing their candidates with posters, window decorations, and acts on campus.

The Ugly Man will receive a silver key and the sponsoring group will receive a plaque. Last year's Ugly Man was Joseph Lindsay, sponsored by Kappa Sigma.

Matrix Changes Time For Annual Banquet

The Matrix dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. Monday instead of 6:15 as specified on the invitations.

Deadline for accepting invitations to the annual banquet is 2 p.m. today. Tickets should be taken to the Student Union desk in Old Main to be stamped, after payment of $2.75.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, sponsors the dinner.

Fee Raise Approved By Cabinet

By DAVE JONES

All-College Cabinet last night voted 18 to 3 in favor of a 25 cent per semester fee raise for all students to support the College's intercollegiate judging teams and recommended that the agriculture student activities fee be reduced by 75 cents. There was one absentee. The plan must be approved by the College Board of Trustees tonight before it can go into effect.

In other action, cabinet also unanimously approved a proposed 181-car parking lot that would be established in Hort Woods, along the edge of Beaver Field between Park avenue and Curtin road.

Trustees Must Approve

The plan, presented by Walter H. Wiegand, physical plant director, is the same one released last January and approved then by the Agriculture Student Council. This plan must also be approved by the trustees.

Charles Falzone, president of Engineering Student Council, opposed the 25 cent fee raise. Falzone said the plan is partial to agriculture students and that the ten cent fee raise, originally proposed by the Agriculture Student Council, which would give agriculture students most of the monetary burden, is "more realistic."

"Teams Represent Students" "We are not doing our duty to the students we represent by imposing this assessment," Falzone continued. He said the assessment will "pave the way to a spurge of student council assessments." The Engineering Student Council (Continued on page eight)

Plan to Go To Trustees Tonight

By DAVE PELLNITZ

The offer to the College of a $14,000, 1000 watt FM transmitter and an antenna "free of charge" will be presented to the Board of Trustees tonight, All-College Cabinet was told last night during a discussion of a campus radio station.

This equipment could then be used for a campus radio station, providing President Milton S. Eisenhower, who has jurisdiction over the matter by the terms of last year's $6000 senior class gift, approves the plan suggested by the Radio Committee.

Postponed One Week

This plan, as presented to cabinet last night by Milton Bernstein on behalf of the committee, calls for the establishment of an FM radio station on campus, with slave transmitters set up to convert the signal into AM in order, to make it available to more students.

Cabinet action on the plan was postponed until next week in order that fraternity men and independent men living downtown could be contacted by their cabinet representatives. These men will not be covered by the station upon its establishment.

In other action cabinet approved a resolution proposed by Marvin Krasnansky, chairman of the Board of Publications, that the group go on record as opposing the decision by the Senate committee on athletics which permits only winners of Eastern intercollegiate titles to participate in National Collegiate Athletic Association tournaments.

Asks Change

The resolution states that, while cabinet believes the committee was working with the best interests of the College in mind, it believes that individual athletes were "deprived unjustly" of the (Continued on page eight)

Thespian Show Ticket Sale Begins Monday

Tickets for Thespians' "A Connecticut Yankee," scheduled to open a three-night run Thursday in Schwab Auditorium, go on sale at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

First-nighters may see the Richard Rodgers-Lorenz Hart musical comedy for $1. Seats for all weekend performances are priced at $1.25.

All members of the cast and crews are asked to pick up their complimentary tickets before noon tomorrow at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

The special Saturday matinee has been arranged as part of the IFC-Panhel weekend festivities, according to John Price, president, so that more students may see the show.

Along with a new set of dance routines directed by Micheline Clay Smith, choreographer, the show will feature the original music, including "My Heart Stood Still," "Thou Swell" and "I Feel at Home with You."

The cast includes Ed Rolf, Isabella Cooper, Ed Korber, Betty Richardson, Dick Hartle, Nancy Lou Thomas, Al McChesney, Pat Marsteller, Dick Brugger, Nancy Marcinkek and Jack Harris.
