

COME TO CHURCH

Three great words have been woven into the fabric of our culture: equality, justice and fraternity. Past generations have emphasized equality and justice. The present generation faces the question of fraternity. Never before have circumstances forced men into such close proximity. The far-away relative is now the next-door neighbor. But proximity does not create fraternity. Two people living in the same family often find a lack of the fraternal spirit. Two towns in the same county often are bitter antagonists. Two countries of the same continent often are cruel enemies.

While equality and justice can be described in intellectual terms, fraternity is a term of the heart. Fraternity is a gift of God. Though man may create the fraternal spirit through a commonality of experience, he soon discovers that there is an exclusiveness about such a fraternity. This exclusiveness becomes a cruel weapon when, through prestige and authority, a spirit of intolerance is created that may become a weapon of destruction for all mankind.

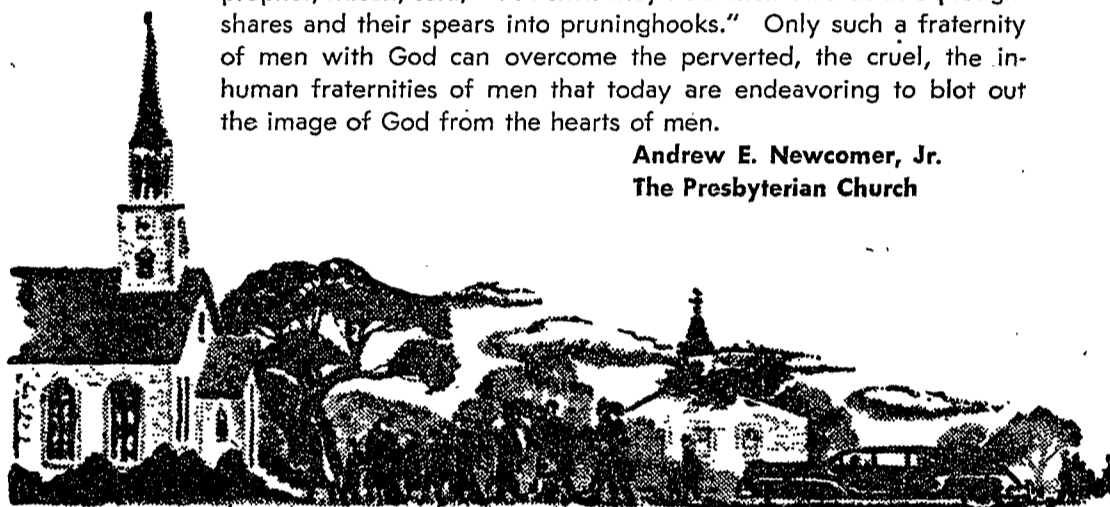

Religion has not always been a reliable source of truth. Most of the world's great religions have been based upon a philosophy of exclusive fraternalism. Originating from the decisions of men, these religions "draw the circle premature" and shut out the rest of the world.

The peculiar genius of Christianity in its New Testament sense is its inclusiveness. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son that whosoever..." The Christian concept is that the fraternity of men does not spring from the hearts of men. It begins with the initiative of God. As He draws men together, it does not grant such a fraternity a place of privilege but a place of responsibility.

One of the greatest challenges before men today is to create through love of God a fraternity of men that will draw all mankind together at the feet of God. Then, and only then, as the prophet, Micah, said, "... shall they beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruninghooks." Only such a fraternity of men with God can overcome the perverted, the cruel, the inhuman fraternities of men that today are endeavoring to blot out the image of God from the hearts of men.
