Chemistry Conference To Open

Problems of college chemistry professors will be discussed at the first meeting of the Pennsylvania Conference of College Chemistry Teachers which will open at the College tomorrow afternoon.

Following tours of College laboratories in the afternoon, the group will have a dinner at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the State College Hotel. Dr. Lawrence L. Quill, professor and head of the Department of Chemistry at Michigan State College, will speak.

Dr. Quill, author of several textbooks and associate editor of Chemical Abstracts, will use as his subject "Rambling Remarks by a Rambling Chemist."

Dr. George L. Haller, dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics, will welcome the chemists at the dinner, while Dr. W. C. Fernelius, professor and head of the department of chemistry, will preside at the session.

Following greetings from President Milton S. Eisenhower at 9 a.m. Saturday, the chemistry teachers will hear papers on various phases of teaching chemistry. Officers will be elected at a business meeting at 11:15 a.m. Saturday, prior to the final session of the conference in the afternoon.

Stock Judging Contest Slated

The annual livestock-judging contest will be held by the Block and Bridle Club Saturday, according to William Kramlich, chairman of the judging contest committee.

All contestants will judge eight classes of livestock. Any student may enter the competition, although only a few individuals may meet the high qualifications for being on a judging team, Kramlich said.

Contestants will be divided into two groups: amateur, those who have never taken livestock judging courses; and professional, for those who have taken Animal Husbandry 3 or 4. Contestants in the professional group will be required to give reasons for their placings in four of the eight classes.

A 25-cent entry fee will be charged all contestants. This money will be kept within the judging contest budget and used solely for prizes.

Golf Course Opens For Spring Season

The Penn State golf course opened Monday and will be open for the rest of the school year, Robert Rutherford, Jr., golf coach, said yesterday.

The course is open daily except Sunday mornings, Rutherford said. The course opens at 1 p.m. on Sundays.

Prof to Speak in York

Ralph H. Wherry, associate professor of insurance, will address the York Association of Life Insurance Agents in York tomorrow. His subject will be "Career Underwriting."

Human Relationship Conference to Meet

A conference on human relations in the home, school, and community will be held at the College tomorrow and Saturday.

The Pennsylvania Conference on Family Relations will meet Saturday and will hold a luncheon meeting with the human relations conference.

Dr. Ralph H. Ojemann, associate professor of psychology and parent education at the University of Iowa, will speak at the combined meeting, to be held at noon in the Allencrest Tea Room. His topic will be "The Rule of the Family in Mental Health."

Featured speaker of the Pennsylvania conference will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John O'Grady, president of the National Council on Family Relations and secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Charities. His subject will be "The Community's Stake in Family Life."

Dr. William M. Smith Jr., professor of family relationships at the College and president of the Pennsylvania group, will join with Dr. Jessie Bernard, professor of sociology, and Dr. Clifford R. Adams, professor of psychology, in presenting a panel discussion Saturday. The subject of the discussion will be "What's Penn State Doing in Marriage and Family Research?"

Marguerite F. Little, associate professor of child development and family life extension, will show and discuss films on family life. The group will also discuss the topic "Communities Act for Family Life."

Labor Service Aids Education Program

The College's labor extension service is cooperating with two locals of the United Brick and Clay Workers (AFL) at Clarence and Winburne which are sponsoring an educational program, "The Steward and the Contract."

Patrick J. Boner, instructor in economics, will conduct the eight scheduled sessions.

Fred K. Hoehler, assistant professor of political science extension, opened the first session at the Cooper township school Tuesday.

Be Happy-Go LUCKY!

Wonder if my answer's right
Each time I take a test.
No guesswork, though, for Luckies—
For Luckies taste the best!

In a cigarette, taste
makes the difference—
and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellow, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky... for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better... proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy-Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

When I light up a Lucky,
I know just what's in store—
A cigarette of mildest blend
And taste that calls for more!

L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike
Means Fine Tobacco

The Rebels and the Yanks were foes,
But now they all agree
That nothing else can match the taste
Of L.S./M.F.T.
