Weekend Stumping Planned by Politicos

Campus political parties will continue their campaigns over the weekend with candidates visiting dormitory units again and the State Party sponsoring a mixer tonight.

The State Party mixer will be held at 9 tonight at Chi Phi and is designed to give all students a chance to meet party candidates, Albert Lucidi, chairman, said. A combo will provide music and entertainment will begin at 10 p.m.

The Lion Party had initiated plans for a mixer but canceled it because a suitable site for the affair could not be found, Ray

All undergraduate students, including seniors who will be graduated in June, are eligible to vote for All-College officers in next week's elections. All men students may vote for Athletic Association officers.

Students in this year's junior class will be eligible to vote for the senior class nominees and students in this year's sophomore class may vote for the junior class nominees.

Evert, party chairman, said yesterday.

Nine to Run For Athletic Group Posts

Nine athletes were nominated yesterday for the offices of president, vice president, and secretary treasurer of next year's Athletic Association.

All men students will be eligible to vote for the candidates during All-College elections Wednesday and Thursday.

Nominees for Athletic Association president are Robert Kenyon, Joseph Lemyre, William Leonard, Samuel Marino, and Herman Sledzik. The presidential candidate receiving the second highest number of votes will become vice president.

Secretary-treasurer candidates are Donald Frey, James Herb, Kurt Klaus, and Robert Bowers.

All candidates for association offices must be seniors next year, Maurey said. Nominations are made by a committee composed of varsity athletic coaches, head managers, and team captains.

'Ike' Advocates To Hold Rally

An Eisenhower-for-President rally, sponsored jointly by Americans for Eisenhower on campus and the Centre County organization, Citizens for Eisenhower, will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at the corner of S. Allen street and College avenue.

Congressman James G. Fulton, chairman of the Allegheny Eisenhower forces and an alumnus of the College, will speak at the rally. Centre County chairman Herbert R. Imbt will introduce Fulton.

The campus Eisenhower group has asked that anyone interested in assisting the organization call 7931 after 1 p.m.

New Registration Plans Explained

The principal changes in the present registration procedures are the elimination of first phase registration and the control of section size during registration in Recreation Hall, C. O. Williams, registrar, told the Daily Collegian yesterday.

The plan of centralized registration which is being put into effect is similar to the scheme most often used at other large colleges and universities, Williams said.

The major point of the new system is a set-up whereby each department in the College will have a station in Recreation Hall at which course cards for each section of each course to be offered will be handed out to the students.

See Adviser by May 15
 Departments will control section size by making available only the number of course cards as that section or laboratory can accommodate students.

Williams stressed the importance of students seeing their advisers between now and May 15 and making up trial schedules for the fall semester. He emphasized the fact that this is only preliminary planning and not pre-registration or first phase registration. However, this preliminary work will be of distinct advantage to the student when he attempts to complete registration in the fall, Williams said.

Follow Alphabetical Schedule

Under the new plan, a student is to secure the signature of his adviser on an official registration form when he arrives on the campus in the fall. These forms are similar to the old first phase registration forms. The student will also receive from his adviser a packet of all registration forms which he is to fill out before he goes to Rec Hall.

Students will follow the alphabetical schedule printed on the time tables in going to Rec Hall, that is, seniors and juniors first, then all other students. In Rec Hall, the student will take his official registration card to each department station in which he has a class scheduled. Here he will secure the department representative's initials on his official registration card and receive two (Continued on page eight)

Concert Director

Elmer C. Wareham, instructor in music, will direct the Penn State Treble Singers in their annual spring concert at 3 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab Auditorium. Doors will be open at 2:30.

The 134 women in the chorus will sing 16 numbers in four-part harmony. Joan Atkinson, senior in music education, will play a piano solo, "Toccatto" (Khachaturian).

The program will also include selections by Foster, Herbert, Rodgers and Hammerstein, Palestrina, and other classical and contemporary composers.

SPA, AXO Scholarship To Be Cited

Sigma Phi Alpha fraternity and Alpha Chi Omega sorority will be cited for fall semester scholarship at the second annual Honors Day program at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Schwab Auditorium.

Stanley Wengert, Interfraternity Council president, will present the Sigma Chi trophy to Sigma Phi Alpha for the greatest advance in scholarship during the fall semester.

The Panhellenic award, which goes to Alpha Chi Omega, will be presented by Marilyn Levitt, Panhellenic Council president. Alpha Chi Omega attained a 1.90 average for the fall semester to win the award. The average represented a sharp rise for the sorority over spring semester last year, when it ranked ninth with a 1.82 average.

Jean Black, senior in arts and letters, will receive the John W. White Medal.

That award, as well as the John W. White Fellowship, President Sparks Medal, and eight Evan Pugh medals will be presented by Dr. Robert L. Weber, chairman of the Senate committee on scholarships and awards.

Espy to Speak On 'Religion With Backbone' With Backbones'

Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, executive secretary, National Student Council of the YMCA, will speak on "Religion with a Backbone" at 10:55 a.m. tomorrow in Chapel in Schwab Auditorium.

Dr. Espy will also be guest speaker at the annual dinner of the Penn State Christian Association at 6 tonight in the Faith Reformed Church. He will lead a discussion at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the main lounge of Simmons Hall which will be open to all interested students.

The Chapel choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa Taylor, will sing "Now Let All the Heavens Adore Thee" (Bach) and "Cherubim Song" and "Open Thou Our Lips" (Rachmaninoff).

George Ceiga at the organ will play "Prelude from Sonata No. 7, Opus 127" (Rheinberger) as prelude, "Lift Up Your Hearts" (Peeters) as offertory, and "Fugue in A Minor" (Handel) as postlude.

Perkins Will Greet Delegates To Student Government Clinic

Harold W. Perkins, assistant dean of men, will welcome, on behalf of the administration, more than 100 student government clinic delegates at the first plenary session at 9:30 a.m. today in the Little Theater, basement of Old Main.

Penn State is the host school for the second annual clinic, sponsored by the National Student Association.

The delegates are representing 25 Pennsylvania colleges and universities. Penn State has 12 delegates for the clinic, which is to be held through Sunday afternoon.

David Mutchler, as acting All-College vice president, will greet the delegates on behalf of the student body. Mutchler's address will follow that of Perkins.

The first of three workshop sessions will begin at 10:30 a.m. The sessions will be divided into two sections, one section for schools with enrollment exceeding 2500 and the other for schools with enrollment under 2500. Section 1, for schools under 2500, will meet in the Little Theater in Old Main and section 2, for schools over 2500, will meet in 10 Sparks for the first and third sessions.

Freshman orientation, publicizing and promoting student government, school spirit, and apathy in student government will be among the topics to be discussed at the first workshop session.

Both sections will participate in the second workshop session which will be held at 2 p.m. in
