FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 52, No. 128

STATE COLLEGE, PA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 23, 1952

FIVE CENTS

Vote Today, Vote Wisely

EDITORIAL

Today and tomorrow Penn State's student body will have the opportunity to vote for the officers who will head their government for the coming year.

At stake in these elections are the offices of All-College President, vice president, and secretary treasurer, senior class president, vice president, and secretary treasurer, junior class president, vice president, and secretary treasurer, and Athletic Association president and secretary treasurer. But there is more than mere offices at stake.

The occupants of these offices will be in control of a student government which will spend almost $12,000 of student money next year. How they handle their jobs will determine if Penn State is to get $12,000 worth of student government or 12 cents worth.

What students will get for their $12,000 will depend on the people who will be administering student government during the 1952-53 school year. We do not intend to say who the best candidates are; we feel the students are capable of making their own decision on this question.

We do, however, urge students to take advantage of the opportunity to voice their opinions. And we urge them to vote wisely.

Last year 41 per cent of the students decided who would be the All-College president. The previous year 42 per cent of the students made this decision. In the 1951 elections just 259 votes separated the winner and the loser in the race for

59 Colleges to Send EIAWS Delegates

More than 200 delegates from 59 colleges will begin to register today for the Eastern Intercollegiate Association of Women Students convention.

Registration will take place from 2 p.m. to 9 tonight at Beta Theta Pi. A picnic will be held at 5 p.m. at Whipple's Dam, followed by an informal party at 9 p.m. at Beta Theta Pi where the movie "This Is Penn State" will be shown. At 10 an orientation meeting for discussion leaders will be held at Phi Gamma Delta.

Virginia Miller and JoAn Lee are co-chairmen of the conference. Officers of the local Women's Student Government Association, Mary Jane Woodrow, president; Virginia Miller, secretary; and Carolyn Pelczar, treasurer, will be regional officers for the convention.

The College's delegations to the convention are Joan Hutchon, president-elect, and Barbara Werts, vice president-elect.

Woodrow Will Preside

Visiting delegates will be housed in women's dormitories and fraternity houses. The delegates will receive the hours of eighth semester senior women. They are 11 o'clocks for tonight and for tomorrow night and 1 o'clocks for Friday and Saturday nights.

On Thursday morning from 8:50 to 10 Mary Jane Woodrow, president of EIAWS, will preside at the opening meeting of the Convention in 405 Old Main. Virginia Miller, convention chairman; Dr. Pearl O. Weston, Dean of Women; Mrs. Betty Patty Lowman, Executive Secretary of IAWS, Ohio State University; and Miss Charmion Bolles, regional representative of EIAWS will welcome the delegates at this meeting.

Eisenhower to Address Group

From 10:15 to 12:15 Thursday, three workshop group meetings will be held in Simmons Hall lounge, McElwain Hall lounge, and Atherton Hall southeast lounge. Discussion chairmen will be delegates from Allegheny College, Cornell University, and Ohio Wesleyan University.

JoAn Lee, co-chairman of the convention, will preside at a luncheon at 1:15 Thursday afternoon at the Allencrest Tea Room at which President Milton S. Eisenhower will address the delegates.

Eisenhower Gets Big Early Lead

By The Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was leading Harold E. Stassen by a substantial margin in early returns in yesterday's (Tuesday) preferential division of Pennsylvania's GOP presidential primary. Senator Robert A. Taft had asked his supporters not to engage in a write-in effort. He was lagging in early returns. Eisenhower and Stassen were the only ones on the ballot.

There were no names on the Democratic ballot, and Sen. Estes Kefauver was slightly ahead in the write-in tally.

The early Pennsylvania picture looked like this:

Republican, 457 precincts of 8421; (ballot) Eisenhower 61,128; Stassen 6902; (write-in) Taft 3420.

BULLETIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 22—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower won a landslide victory in the Republican Presidential popularity contest in Philadelphia today. He got 86 per cent of the city's Republican vote. He led Stassen by 147,000, and Stassen was 8000 over Taft.

Unofficial state totals for 2173 precincts of 8421 gave Eisenhower 199,970, Stassen 27,536, and Taft (write-in) 19,938.

MacArthur 125, Warren 124, Truman 3; Kefauver 3. (Includes 5 of 1083 precincts in Pittsburgh and 181 of 1417 precincts in Philadelphia).

Democrat, 397 precincts of 8421; (all write-in) Truman 141; Kefauver 834; Stevenson 26; Russell 14; Kerr 36; Barkley 12; Taft 33; Eisenhower 47; Harriman 17. (Includes 0 of 1083 precincts in Pittsburgh and 181 of 1417 precincts in Philadelphia).

New York and Pennsylvania both elected delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions, but the delegates themselves are unpledged and theoretically uninstructed as to how they vote at the Chicago nominating conventions in July. New York elected 90 delegates in each party and Pennsylvania elected 60 in each.

Actually, most of the delegates will be subject to the beck and call of party bigwigs when the bargaining for delegate votes begins.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22—(AP)—U.S. Sen. Edward Martin built up a commanding early lead tonight in his fight for renomination. With only a handful of the state's 8421 precincts reported, Martin held a lead of 40,000 in the race for the Republican nomination for Senator.

Union To Resume Discussions

Members of the College Service Employees Union will meet at 8 tonight in 121 Sparks to resume discussions they began a month ago and decide whether to institute strike action against the College.

State and international representatives of the union will be present at the meeting.

Thomas Hartswick, secretary of the union, indicated yesterday that meetings between the union grievance committee and College officials have been taking place "almost daily," but he refused to comment upon what action could be expected from tonight's meeting.

Members of the union will continue grievance meetings today with College officials headed by Ray T. Fortunato, supervisor of the employment division of the personnel services department.

The union voted March 19 to postpone strike action until tonight to give the College Board of Trustees an opportunity to discuss the grievances at its spring meeting. The trustees met March 23 and apparently discussed the union demands, but no announcement was made by the College.

Hartswick said yesterday that a letter from Samuel K. Hostetter, College comptroller, has been received by the union, but he declined to comment on its contents.

Whiteley Is New President Of Ed Council

Marian Whiteley, junior in education, was unanimously elected president of the education student council last night. Miss Whiteley succeeds Ralph Egol, retiring president.

Harry Shank was elected to be the new vice president and Terese Moslak to be secretary treasurer. Nominations for the council members will be made all this week with elections being held next week.

The council favored a plan presented by the faculty of the Department of Education which calls for the formation of a student-faculty advisory committee. The committee would be intended to bring about a closer union between the faculty and students.

Red Cross Blood Pledges Rise to 87

An optimistic note was sounded on the present blood drive by Ted Allen, campus Red Cross representative, yesterday, when he said that 62 more pledges had any student may volunteer to been turned in, raising the total to 87.

Although the number is 113 short of the goal of 200, he said that the results are "more encouraging." Allen revealed also that offers were received from students to publicize the drive. He said, "We believe we will meet the quota more easily; however, we have yet to sign them up."

Pledges for the donations April 30 must be turned in by 5 p.m. Friday, so appointment cards may be sent to the volunteers in time for the Bloodmobile's visit, he said. The cards may be obtained at the Student Placement Office, 112 Old Main.

Although minors must get written releases from their parents, give blood, Allen said. Sufficient time has passed, he said, for students who donated blood the last time the Bloodmobile visited the campus to volunteer again without any ill effects.

The Bloodmobile will be at the TUB from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. next Wednesday, after spending the previous day in the borough, where a drive for 200 volunteers is also under way.

The drive was opened last Thursday night by Dr. F. M. Hawk, chief of education and promotion of the Red Cross blood program, who spoke to health education students.

The previous drive last fall was termed "highly successful," with nearly 1000 pledges turned in to the drive.

TODAY'S WEATHER

CLOUDY WITH SHOWERS

Election polls are in the lounge on the second floor of Old Main. They will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow. Matriculation cards must be presented before a student may vote.

Those eligible to vote for: All-College officers—all students.

Senior class officers—sixth and seventh semester students. Junior class officers—fourth and fifth semester students.

Athletic Association officers—all male students.

all eighth semester seniors may vote for the All-College officers and that male eighth semester seniors are eligible to vote in the AA race.

Farrell said that the students have had an adequate chance to meet the candidates and decide the issues. It is now up to them, he said, to fulfill their part of the responsibility for good student government by voting in the elections. He also expressed approval of what he termed "the clean election campaign." (Last year's campaign was marked by charges and counter-charges over the party platforms.)

41 Per Cent Vote
Evert expressed the hope that this year's election would produce a record turnout. He said that students must realize the importance of these elections to them and that they have the duty as well as the privilege of voting.

Last year, a little more than 41 per cent of those students eligible to vote cast their ballots. The vote fell short by 70 votes of breaking the 1950 all-time record of 3671.

The State Party swept the elections last year, putting all nine of its candidates into office—and winning back the prestige it had lost to the Lion Party in the 1948 and 1949 elections. The Lion group put all nine of its candidates into office in both of those elections.

Last spring's election was marked by the narrow margin of six votes by which David Olmsted defeated Lion Party candidate John Stoudt for the office of senior class president. Olmsted's plurality was the smallest since 1945 when only 72 persons voted and the senior class presidency was won by two votes.

All-College, Athletic Association, and senior and junior class officials will be decided today and tomorrow when students go the polls to vote in the 1952 All-College elections.

This year 9367 students will be eligible to vote in the All-College elections, while 2334 Staters may cast ballots in the senior class race and 2299 in the junior class contest. In the AA elections, 6837 male students are eligible to vote.

Six seats on All-College Cabinet, those of the three All-College officers, the AA president, and the junior and senior class presidents, are also at stake in the election.

Urge Voters
Both parties will continue their campaigns tonight with clean-up operations in the Nittany-Pollock area, Simmons and McElwain halls, and the West Dorm area. The Lion Party All-College candidates will also speak at 11:15 tonight over WMAJ. The campaigns opened last Thursday.

In election eve statements, Carrol Chapman, elections committee chairman; Thomas Farrell, State Party clique chairman; and Ray Evert, Lion Party chairman, urged students to vote in the elections. Chapman pointed out that
