

Service Breakfast Set for Wednesday

Fifty-six women will be honored Wednesday when Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, holds its third senior service breakfast at 7 a.m. in Simmons Hall.

Coeds who are to attend the breakfast will be invited by members of Mortar Board next week. The invitation will take the form of a tapping.

The group sponsors the affair each year to give recognition to women who are not members of Cwens, Chimes, or Mortar Board, the women's honoraries.

Those who have been chosen to attend were recommended by presidents of campus activities, dormitory hostesses, and heads of the academic departments.

Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower, Mrs. Cordelia Hibbs, and Marguerite Horn, advisers to Mortar Board, and Dean of Women Pearl O. Weston and her assistants have been invited as guests of honor.

Guests will not know the theme of the breakfast until Wednesday. Pennsylvania Dutch decorations and songs highlighted last year's affair.

Committee members are Greta Weaver, general chairman; Virginia Miller and Marilyn Williams, place cards; Nancy McClain and Jane Stieber, place mats; Jeanine Bell and Mary Jane Woodrow, program; Carolyn Barrett and Marilyn Levitt, publicity; and Robin Brunner, recommendations.

SAE, Thetas Hold Reception

Sigma Alpha Epsilon held a joint faculty reception with Kappa Alpha Theta Wednesday night.

The semi-formal annual affair was attended by faculty members and administrative heads. Guests of Honor were President and Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower, Dean Pearl O. Weston, Dean and Mrs. H. K. Wilson, and Dean and Mrs. Harold W. Perkins.

The entire house was open for inspection and guests were conducted around by members of the fraternity and sorority. Coffee, tea, and fruit punch were served along with cookies and hors d'oeuvres. Sorority members poured the beverages.

A Phi O To Initiate Tonight

Initiation of pledges and installation of officers will be held by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, at 8 tonight in the picnic area of Hort Woods.

Pledges will meet at 7 p.m. in 3 Sparks, and the brothers will be in Hort Woods by 8 p.m. Informal dress will be worn. In the event of rain, the program will be held in 3 Sparks.

The fraternity will attend Chapel in a body Sunday. Members will meet in front of Carnegie Hall at 10:30 a.m.

The newly elected officers to be installed are Richard Schuler, president; William Burrowes, vice president; Clyde Herrick, treasurer; Lowell Krowitz, recording secretary; William Shomberg, corresponding secretary; Allan Thompson, alumnae secretary; Richard Updegraff, historian; Arthur Jordan, sergeant-at-arms; and H. Norton Cope, chairman of the advisory committee.

Pledges to be initiated include Allan Brooks, Milton Dickerson, Charles Gibbs, Edward Gruber, Warren Haffner, Dennis Hedges, Craig Hibben, Richard Hill, John Kitzmiller, John Lahner, William Lysinger, Donald Stahl, and Charles Stone.

Pledges have given a total of approximately 350 hours of their time this semester in service to the campus and community.

Refreshments and a social gathering will be included in the meeting's program.

Maid-of-Honor

Maud Strawn

Coed to Emcee Reading Fest

Patricia Hathaway, sixth-semester arts and letters student, has been named mistress of ceremonies of the fourth Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Reading Festival to be held at the College Thursday and Friday.

The four College students who will read selections in the festival include Joada Oswald, prose; Betty Lou Morgan, drama; and Constance Melvin and Myron Cole, poetry.

The sessions, to be held in 304 Old Main, will not be judged.

Approximately 80 Pennsylvania colleges will be represented at the festival, which was started by the Speech department three years ago. The purpose of the sessions is to give students and faculty the opportunity to hear interpretations of some of the best literary works which are still popular.

Introductions to the readings will be given by Joseph F. O'Brien, professor of public speaking; Julia Arnold, eighth-semester student in journalism; Madeleine Sharp, fifth-semester student in arts and letters; and Margaret Troutman, a third-semester education student.

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, professor of speech, will be the after-dinner speaker at the banquet to be held at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at the State College Hotel.

Last Mot--

(Continued from page four)
seat. On the first day of the fourteenth week, however, the professor went to the brief case for a forgotten chlorophyll tablet, spotted Bottomley, and immediately called on him for a 20-minute recitation on the reign of Mitsu-hito in 19th century Japan. Bottomley was dropped in some disgrace from Gamesman society.

A second prof play is the North Korean Sneak. This involves the Gamesman's assuring himself of a crack at least three sixteenths of an inch wide between the door and the doorframe, before the lecture begins. The Gamesman sets this up from the outside, and then departs from the vicinity. At some time during the hour he applies his ear to the crack and listens to only enough of the lecture so that he can formulate an Intelligent Question. Then, as the class exits, he slips in, places himself unobtrusively in the line waiting to confer with the prof, and, at the proper time, puts his Question. The prof, while answering, will absently erase the cut mark from the student's record. (Harbison's counter to this ploy is, while interesting, rather technical for an elementary course, involving as it does the use of concealed motion picture equipment.)

Turning now to the field of extracurricular activities, it must be remembered that one of Gamesmanship's basic tenets consists in being whatever you are completely. Thus the collegiate Gamesman may be either an All Around Active or a Really Serious Student, but he must be either of these entirely. The Triple A, as he will arrange to have his friends call him, will spend a great deal of his time showing his real concern for acquaintances who seem to be devoting too much time to their studies. Smythe Huntington of Upson Downs used to find effective the meaningless remark, "Yes, old man, but one can't get a three in one's paycheck, you know." Other effective phrases are, "I believe college

May Court Additions

Marion Gray and Norma Lee McCormick will serve as senior attendants in the May Queen's court May 10. Patricia Capper, Helen Hurlless, and Joan Pivaronas, whose names were omitted in yesterday's Daily Collegian will serve in the hemlock chain.

Brazilian Attache

Addresses Club Group

The first Brazilian cultural attache ever sent to the United States, Dr. Pedro Xisto, addressed the first formal dinner meeting of the Luso-Brazilian Club at the Allencrest Tea Room Tuesday night.

About 25 people heard Dr. Xisto speak on "Some Aspects of Modern Brazil."

must train one to live with his fellows," and "Napoleon never went to Harvard, after all." The AAA applies himself in secret to avoiding just enough of his school work so as to maintain an unimpaired 1 average. He is, of course, never seen in public with a book.

On the other hand, the Really Serious Student is openly worried about the future of the man involved in activities. In the friendliest way possible, he quotes purely imaginary figures which prove beyond any doubt that the inactive student lives longer, earns more, and wins more raffles than his active colleague. Language of the breed includes, "You can learn to live on the waterfront," "Disraeli was never editor of a yearbook," and "Who remembers the name of Praxiteles' Discus Thrower?"

This, then, concludes for would-be Collegiate gamesmen. In a few months we will embark upon a study of perhaps even significance: "Recruitment, or the art of enduring the military life without turning one's rifle on oneself." Goodbye.

Don't be awed by a Reputation

We've said it before and we say it again!

You don't have to own a mint or win
the sweepstakes to enjoy the luxury of a CHARLES SHOP outfit. If you wish to spend only $8.95 for your summer cotton $19.95 for your swish party dress, or perhaps $25.00 for a wear-forever suit—come make your selections at the best store you know—where you pay no more for high standards of quality, good taste, and all the little services that make your shopping a real pleasure.

charles

124, SOUTH ALLEN ST. STATE COLLEGE, PA.

E.I.A.W.S. Delegates

Between Meefings
and discussion groups . . .

Stop In At The Meeting Place OF PENN STATERS

YOU'LL FIND:

- Pleasing Service
- Delicious Food
- Good Hospitality

the CORNER
... unusual