

Nittany Netmen Lose First To Bucknell Since '49, 7-2

By GEORGE BAIREY

The tennis Lions' mastery over Bucknell came to an abrupt, decisive halt yesterday on the enemy courts as the Bisons routed the Nittany netmen, 7-2.

The last time the Bisons decided State was also in a season opening match at Lewisburg in 1949. Between the two campaign opening matches, the Lions had won five consecutive matches from Bucknell.

For Bucknell, the win was their second against four setbacks of the season. State's record now stands at 0-1.

Ray Takes Three-Setter

Only Bruz Ray, playing the number two singles position, and the veteran doubles team of Gus Bigott and Bill Forrey, brought home wins.

Sophomore Ray, in his first varsity start, went three sets to decision Bison Jack Lairg, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3. Bigott and Forrey had little trouble in winning from the number three Bucknell doubles combo, Maurice Mufson and Nick Schloeder, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

Rookies Dez Long and Bill Ziegler turned in creditable performances while losing. Long had Alan Goffy, number five Bison, at match point once, but couldn't put it away, and lost in three sets, 6-4, 0-6, 9-7. Ziegler, number three, was out-steadied by Alan Holton, 6-2, 6-4.

Gross-Bigott Lose

Paul Remmey, Bucknell ace and number one performer, completely baffled Lion captain Ed Davis and dropped only one game in their brief two-set match. Scores were 6-1, 6-0.

Dick Gross and Gus Bigott, playing at number four and six slots were also turned back in two sets. Gross lost to Spencer Lenhart, 9-7, 6-1, while Joe Battis won from Bigott, 6-2, 6-3.

The top Lion doubles duo of Davis and Bruz Ray extended the Remmey-Holton team to three sets before dropping the decision. Scores were 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. Bill Ray and Bill Ziegler, in the number two doubles position, were outshot by the Lenhart-Battis team in two sets, by identical scores, 6-3, 6-3.

Coach Sherm Fogg's crew, now losers of two decisions to the weather and one to Bucknell, all on the road, will display their wares for the first time on friendly home courts against Georgetown at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Golf Match Canceled

The weather forced cancellation of yesterday's golf match between Gettysburg and Penn State. Coach Bob Rutherford said he was not sure if the game would be re-scheduled or not.

The golfmen's next opponent will be Cornell at Ithaca, N.Y. Saturday. The remainder of the schedule is: May 7, Pittsburgh; May 10-12, the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf tournament at Annapolis; May 12, Bucknell at State College; May 17, Navy at State College; and May 24, Colgate at Hamilton, N.Y.

12 Fraternity V-Ball Teams Notch Wins

Twelve fraternity volleyball teams picked up wins Tuesday night as the intramural volleyball league swung into its final round of play.

Phi Epsilon Pi-A, Alpha Phi Delta-B, Delta Upsilon-B, and Delta Sigma Phi-B all scored wins via the forfeit route.

Sigma Phi Alpha-A downed Phi Sigma Delta-A in the first of a three game set, 15-0, dropped the second contest, 15-8, but managed to squeeze out a victory in the final match, 16-14. Phi Kappa Tau-A whipped Pi Kappa Phi-A, 15-1, 15-6. Pi Kappa Alpha-A defeated Phi Gamma Delta-A, 15-9, 15-3. Phi Sigma Kappa-A decided Delta Upsilon-A, 15-8, 15-2.

Sigma Alpha Mu turned back Alpha Chi Rho, 15-8, 15-3. Phi Kappa Psi-B went three games before nipping Phi Kappa Sigma, 15-5, 12-15, 15-5. Beta Sigma Rho-B set back Phi Delta Theta-B, 15-6, 15-11. Tau Kappa Epsilon won from Alpha Chi Sigma, 15-8, 15-8.

Only five more nights of league play remain before the playoffs begin. The playoffs were originally scheduled to start Tuesday, but will not start until Wednesday. Twelve scheduled games, postponed from April 3, will be played Tuesday.

Broadcasters to Meet

The Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters will hold its annual meeting Saturday through Monday at the College. More than 150 members are expected to attend.

Nine Men Advance in IM Play

Four independent men and five fraternity men moved into the semi-finals and third round, respectively, Tuesday night in the intramural badminton tourney.

In the independents Baird Hammonds won from Irwin Rider, 15-5, 15-7; John Goshorn, defeated Irwin Nerenberg. Karl Segner had to win the last two matches to beat Joe Murphy, 8-15, 15-8, 15-10. John Pipa entered the semi-finals by gaining a forfeit.

In the fraternity matches basketballer Joe Piorkowski, Theta Xi, defeated Bill Waters, 15-8, 15-5, while Jim Pickett, Phi Delta Theta, won from Davis, Phi Kappa Sigma, 15-9, 15-11.

John Kaufman, Acacia, felled Wright, Beta Theta Pi, 15-6, 15-8, to go into the third round. Dick Phillips, Sigma Phi Alpha, won easily from Peck, Alpha Zeta, 15-8, 15-5. Don Cook, Beta Theta Pi, was the only fraternity man to win by forfeit.

Spivey Arrested, Released on Bond

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 30 (AP)—Bill Spivey was arrested on a fugitive warrant and released on $500 bond today pending a hearing May 26 before County Judge W. E. Nicholas.

The seven-foot former University of Kentucky basketball star was arrested by Patrol Chief Walter Franklin of Fayette County, who said he received papers from New York requesting Spivey's arrest for return to New York for trial on a perjury indictment.

Winterburn Named Wrestling Manager

William Winterburn, a sixth-semester metallurgy major, has been named head wrestling manager for the 1952-'53 season, according to Robert Schutte, retiring head manager.

First assistant managers appointed for next season are Jack Diehl, Thomas Anderson, and Ronald Lench.

NCAA Inquiry

CHICAGO, April 30 (AP)—The head of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today said it will make an inquiry into athletic policy and practices at the University of Kentucky.

Injuries Idle Four Lacrossemen

By TOM SAYLOR

The 1949 New York Yankees evidently have nothing on Penn State's lacrosse team.

When the injury-riddled Yankees won the American League pennant and the World Series that year, baseball fans thought that a miracle had occurred.

Although the Nittany lacrosse team isn't beset with 45 injuries nor is it likely to win a world's championship, it has been seriously hurt by the injury list which has been growing recently.

State's injury list reached four when defensemen John Amber, attackman Dick Rostmeyer, and midfielder Tom Goldsworthy were bumped around by Penn. Attackman Doak Walker had previously sprained his ankle, and he still won't be ready when the Lions travel to Syracuse Saturday. Like Walker, Amber probably won't be ready for Syracuse either, much to Thiel's dismay. Rostmeyer, with a bad leg, and Goldsworthy, with an injured chest, are expected to start against Syracuse.

The game will start at 10:30 a.m. and will be a part of Syracuse's annual Spring Weekend. Thiel, who played under Syracuse Coach Roy Simmons before coming to Penn State, has not seen his team defeat the Orange since 1947 when the Lions won here.

Last year, Simmons' club hung a 13-10 defeat on State in a game which Simmons said State should have iced.

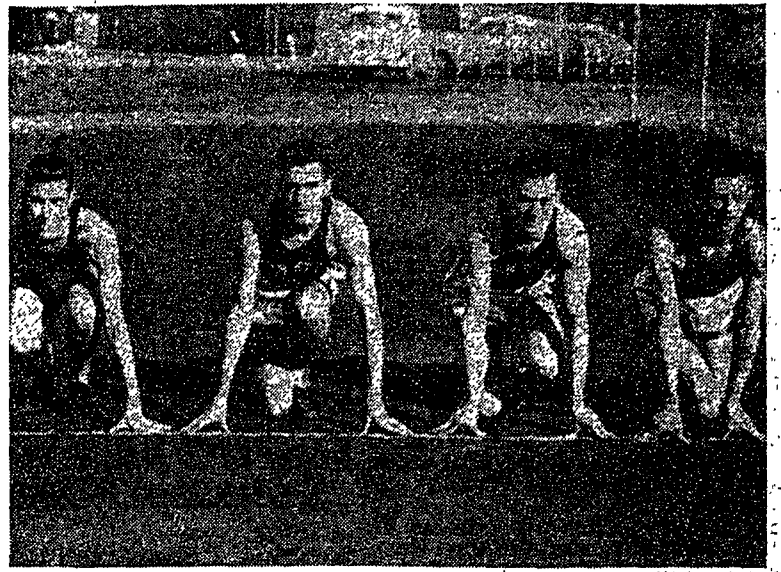

Gone from the Syracuse team that was runnerup to RPI for the Upstate New York title last year is attackman John Podbielski, a third team All-American who scored five goals against the Lions last year. Also missing will be Co-captain John DeNicola, and goalie Herb Mendelson.

The game will be the fourth road test for Penn State in five games. After the Syracuse match, however, State will tackle Rutgers and Cornell here before closing its season at Hobart.

Await Opening Gun

BOB GEHMAN, Bob Roessler, John Lauer and Bill Polito (l. to r.) are four Nittany trackmen who should play a prominent part for Coach Chick Werner's squad when they open their dual season against Michigan State Saturday on Beaver Field. Gehman runs the mile, Roessler the 880, Captain Lauer the 440 and Polito in the dashes.

Lions Host Spartan Trackmen Saturday

By JOHN SHEPPARD

A strong and promising Michigan State outdoor track squad will invade the Beaver Field cinder paths Saturday afternoon as Penn State's first taste of major competition in the 1952 dual meet season.

Although both teams have been restricted in early season drills because of the weather, Coach Karl Schlademan's charges appear to be the favorite in Saturday's clash on the basis of pre-seasoning, depth, and talent.

The Schlademen opened their campaign two weeks ago with a relay meet against Ohio State, Michigan, Illinois, and a U. S. Air Corps team at Columbus, O., and, just last weekend participated in the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Ia. MSC wasn't to impressive in either meet, for several of its regulars didn't run because of injuries.

Poor Relay Showing

With eight lettermen returning from last year, the Spartans have a wealth of old and new stars that give the squad a great deal of depth. The opposite holds true for Coach, Chick Werner, who has to depend largely on young and non-tested frosh and sophomores to carry the burden.

State opened its season last week at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia, but didn't fare too well. Sophomore pole vaulter Dan Lorch, the two-mile relay team, and Lamont Smith, frosh distance-man, were the only placers.

On paper, an overall rundown of Michigan State prospects seems quite favorable. However, one shouldn't be surprised if the Nittany Lions happen to upset MSC, for Werner's pupils are capable of doing much better than they did at the relays.

Laver in the 440

In the dashes, MSC is rated fair, depending on how soon Captain Dick Henson can shake off an old leg injury, and how soon sophomore Art Ingram begins to hit form. Lou Vargha is coming along rapidly and should eventually be number one man, but Vargha pulled a leg muscle last week, and might be sidelined in Saturday's duel. No doubt State's Bill Polito will have his hands full.

The 440 and 880 are rated from fair to good for MSC and will depend on the performances of veterans Lee Jones, Norm Harwick, and sophomores John Cook and Dick Jarrett. Werner's captain, John Lauer, is rapidly gaining form, and should bolster State's chances.

All eyes at the match will probably be focused on the mile and two-mile runs. Bob Gehman and Smitty might prove too strong for MSC's sophomore Ron Barr, '51 cross country captain Jim Keppard, and frosh Jack DeLang.

State is weak in the hurdles, broad jump, and discus, and the Spartan's veterans John Corbelli, Jim Lincoln, Henson, and Charlie Roland might prove too much.

State's high-jumper Jim Herb and Michigan State's Jim Vrooman should provide keen competition for each other, as both have leaped better than 6' 2".

Nittany pole vaulter Lorch and MSC's Arnold Smith have both proven that they can scale 13 feet, but not to any degree of consistency.
