Possible Starting Hurlers

ACE EVERSON (r.) or Keith Vesling will get the call to hurl for Joe Bedenk's unbeaten Lion baseball team against Rutgers at 3:30 p.m. today on Beaver Field. Righthanders Everson and Vesling both have posted perfect 3-0 records. Everson, with the most innings pitched, is low man on the squad with his earned run average of 0.96.

Orange Hold Edge In Lacrosse Series

A teacher will try to show his student some tricks of the trade when the Penn State lacrosse team travels to Syracuse tomorrow. Syracuse Coach Roy Simmons will attempt to continue his mastery over Penn State Coach Nick Thiel, who played under Simmons at Syracuse in the early 1930's. State has not beaten Syracuse since 1947 when it defeated the Orange, 6-3. Last year Penn State lost, 13-10.

When State and Syracuse get together, however, anything can happen, as last year's game will verify. The Lions were distinct favorites, but when the smoke cleared Simmons' team had won.

Frosh Paces Attack

Syracuse is loaded again this spring and Simmons maintains that the Orange "can score ten goals against any team."

Spearheading the Orange attack is a freshman from Long Island, Jim Burns, tabbed as one of the best feeders ever to play at Syracuse.

State will be at a decided disadvantage in manpower with two first-team men injured and not able to play, two more in bad condition, but able to play, and a fifth who can't make the trip because of an engineering field trip.

Rostmeyer Hurt

Attackman Doak Walker and defenseman John Amber will have to sit out the match as Walker's sprained ankle has not healed and Amber's "charley horse" has failed to respond to treatment.

Two more attackmen, Dick Rostmeyer and creaseman Tom Goldsworthy, also aren't in the best of condition. Rostmeyer has a bad leg while Goldsworthy is suffering from an injured chest.

Midfielder John Yohman also will be missing because of an engineering field trip.

Eagle Replaces Yohman

At attack, Thiel will replace Walker with Bob Koons, who served as State's first alternate last year. Rostmeyer and Goldsworthy will play beside Koons.

At midfield, it will be Captain Bud Wolfgram, Tony Eagle, and Wayne Hockersmith, State's leading scorer with six goals. Eagle will replace Yohman.

On the defense, Thiel will use John Henry, Barr Asplundh, and Dick Schaefer. Amber's place will be taken by Schaefer who has looked good lately.

Sophomore Don Bell will handle the goal tending duties.

Rutgers' Running Team To Test State Catching

By JIM PETERS

One of the interesting sidelights of today's Penn State-Rutgers baseball game at Beaver Field will be the challenge extended by the Scarlet base-runners to Lion catcher Bill Leonard. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Coach George Case's outfit is notorious for its excellent base-running, having stolen 158 bases during the seasons of 1950 and 1951.

Case, himself a one-time base-stealing champion of the American League Washington Senators, installed this type of play at Rutgers when he took over the coaching duties there in 1950. That year, he led the Scarlet to the runner-up spot in the NCAA World Series.

Slugging Captain

Leonard, who took over the backstopping for the Lions following the graduation of Clarence Buss last June, has been one of the big reasons why Coach Joe Bedenk's batsmen have piled up nine consecutive wins this year. The powerfully built junior is currently hitting .358, second only to Hubie Kline's .370 average, and has shown time and again his ability to throw out would-be base-stealers.

Rutgers' offensive hopes will rest with its catcher, Jim Monaghan, and leftfielder Larry Valis. Monaghan went hitless against the Lions' Owen Dougherty last year as the Bedenkmen won a close 2-1 thriller.

Starting Lineup

However, he was clean-up hitter then while playing in right field, and will be counted on by Case to carry the load again this year. Valis, a newcomer to the Scarlet ranks, is touted as a top man in the clutch-hitting department.

Bedenk will probably send sophomore Keith Vesling to the hill today in search of his fourth straight victory. Vesling holds wins over Georgetown, West Virginia, and Lafayette, and has an earned run average of 1.44.

The probable line-up for Penn State will be:
 Bill Leonard, c
 Chris Toney, lf
 Bill Mihalich, 2b
 Sil Cerchie, cf
 Bill Hopper, rf
 Mike Hunchar, 1b
 Carmen Troisi, ss
 Huber Kline, 3b
 Keith Vesling, p

'Risers' Win V-Ball Title

The independent B league intramural volleyball championship was decided last night when the Early Risers defeated the Iron Men, 15-11, 15-12, to capture the title. The four independent winners will meet next week in the playoffs.

Fraternity action saw ten B division teams and one A team grab victories. Alpha Gamma Rho whipped Acacia, 15-2, 15-8. Phi Kappa Tau went three games to defeat Sigma Phi Sigma, 14-16, 15-0, 15-12. Chi Phi downed Triangle, 17-15, 15-11. Theta Xi easily defeated Phi Gamma Delta, 15-1, 15-3. Phi Epsilon Pi won by forfeit from Alpha Zeta.

Sigma Phi Epsilon turned back Beta Theta Pi, 15-13, 15-13; Sigma Nu defeated Phi Sigma Kappa, 15-4, 15-9; Delta Theta Sigma picked up a forfeit victory from Sigma Pi; Alpha Tau Omega defeated Alpha Sigma Phi, 15-7, 15-12; and Sigma Phi Alpha outlasted Sigma Chi, 10-15, 15-2, 15-0.

In the A section, Tau Phi Delta decided Alpha Tau Omega in three games, 7-15, 15-12, 15-8.

Olympic Cage Probe

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—A two-fold investigation of the 1948 and 1952 Olympic basketball teams was initiated today in the wake of Judge Saul Streit's castigation of the University of Kentucky, which furnished half the 1948 team, and of published reports the 1952 squad was tinged with professionalism.

The AA appointed a five-man committee to investigate published newspaper reports that one or more members of the team chosen to play at Helsinki this summer had violated amateur rules.

Tennismen Drill for Hoya Match

Coach Sherm Fogg's tennis squad, noticeably stale against Bucknell Wednesday after an unscheduled six-day vacation due to the rainy weather, began drills in earnest yesterday for its opening home match at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow against Georgetown.

Fogg said that the singles ladder will remain basically the same for the Hoya meet now that "the Bucknell match is behind us." The first three singles positions will also remain the same, with Ed Davis, Bruz Ray, and Bill Ziegler handling the top chores.

Bill Forrey, who earlier in the week was beaten by Dez Long for the number five job against Bucknell, has been installed in the number four position by Fogg for the Hoya match. Gus Bigott will keep the number six place.

The number five singles position is wide open, with Dick Gross, Dez Long, and Bill Ray all in contention. Fogg will name the number five performer for the Georgetown match after practice today. Elimination matches will not be played.

Fogg said that the original first and third doubles combinations will start against the Hilltoppers, and only the number two team will be shaken up: Davis-Bruz Ray, and Bigott-Forrey make up the first and third combos, while Fogg will probably go with Ziegler and Long or Bill Ray in the number two position.

After the Georgetown meet, the Lions will take to the road again for five straight contests before showing on home courts against Duquesne on May 21.

WRA Softball Records High Opening Scores

Women's intramural softball got off to a football-scoring start this week with 11 games played and two forfeited. Winning teams were McAllister, Co-op, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Omicron Pi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, Phi Mu, and Alpha Gamma Delta.

Thompson forfeited to Leonides and Sigma Delta Tau to Delta Zeta on Monday and Tuesday nights.

In last night's games, the Phi Sigs beat Phi Omega, 21-4, power-housed by pitcher Mimi Ungar. Alpha Gamma Delta trampled Tri Delt, 26-0.

Phi Mu, in the highest scoring game of the week, slaughtered Beta Sigma Omicron, 40-4. Next highest scoring team was Zeta Tau Alpha, which lambasted Alpha Chi Omega, 35-0, Wednesday night.

Closest games of the week were played Tuesday night, when Kappa Kappa Gamma edged out Simmons, 5-3, and Kappa Alpha Theta won over Gamma Phi Beta, 22-20.

Baseball Parade

The Brooklyn Dodgers, still reeling from a 14-2 setback at the hands of the Cards, took another one on the chin from the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

Big Ralph Branca found out that Bobby Thomson isn't the only hitter in the league as he was rapped for a three-run double by Hank Sauer in the first.

Johnny Klippstein, an ex-Dodger farmhand, weathered a late-inning rally to win his first start of the season. The win moves last year's cellar dweller Cubs just a few percentage points behind the Flock.

The Pirates, after losing ten in a row, had a one game winning streak snapped as they absorbed a 13-5 toasting yesterday at the hands of the New York Giants.

Wes Westrum and Henry Thompson had homers for the New Yorkers, and Big Ralph Kiner had one for the Bucs.

Mel Queen, who was charged with the defeat, was subsequently released outright to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

The Browns are playing over their heads—and everyone is enjoying it except their opponents. The Ted Williamless Red Sox were the latest victims of the revitalized "ex-po" white trash" of the American League to the tune of 6-1.

Yankee castoff Duane Pillette threw a five-hitter and batted in three runs against the Bosox. This display brought the Brownies to within a game of first place.

Walt Masterson was shelled out in the fifth and took the loss.

For the second straight outing Herman Wehmeier had to be rescued in the ninth by Fireman Frank Smith as the Cincinnati Reds squeezed by the Boston Braves 7-6.

The Reds scored the winning runs in the seventh on a double by Ted Kluszewski, an Annie Oakley to Hank Edwards, a single by Dick Sisler, and a wild pitch by relief hurler Lew Burdette. Vern Bickford took the loss.

In arc light tilts, the Chicago White Sox beat the Philadelphia White Elephants 3-0. Detroit played the Yankees

Frat Handball Winners Move To 3d Round

Five fraternity teams posted victories Wednesday night to move into the third round of the intramural handball doubles tournament.

Ed Hoover-Art Betts, Phi Delta Theta, trimmed Don Frey-Bill Abbott, Beta Theta Pi, 21-7, 21-14. After playing through two close matches, George Hamilton-Russ Provenzano, defeated Leroy Guccini-Bill Heinz, Phi Kappa, 21-17, 20-21, 21-2.

Felix Stranges-Carmen Troisi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, were extended three matches before winning from Joe Strasser-Elmer Feller, 21-9, 8-21, 21-0. In another that went three matches Bill Waters-Roy Stetler, Sigma Chi, defeated Herb Budin-MortonAverick, Phi Epsilon Pi, 21-13, 20-21, 21-13.

Sam Hamilton-Doug Frey, Beta Theta Pi, felled Joe Varholly-Bill Alich, Alpha Chi Rho, 18-21, 21-8, 21-8.

Lemyres' Fame Reached Korea, Alumnus Writes

Whether the wrestling Lemyres, Dick and Joe, know it or not, their fame has spread to Korea—not in khaki either.

Capt. Boyd M. Witherow, class of 1943, on military leave as an instructor in the Forestry department, spotted a sports cartoon depicting the Lemyre brothers in the Pacific edition of the Stars and Stripes.

"I thought you'd be interested," Witherow wrote Coach Charlie Speidel from Korea, "to know how far the fame of Penn State's wrestling team has spread."

The area of the Free Territory Trieste is 320 square miles.
