

Mortar Board Taps 8 Seniors

Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary, was scheduled to tap eight outstanding senior women at 6 a.m. today, Nancy McClain, president, said yesterday. The old and new members then had breakfast in McAllister Hall at 7 a.m.

Tapped were Mary Buchanan, Yvonne Carter, Barbara Denniston, Joan Hutchon, Elizabeth Johnson, Virginia Opoczenski, Mary Anne Wertman, and Joanne Williams.

Last night members of Mortar Board serenaded women's dormitories in which the tappees lived.

Present at breakfast, in addition to the old and new members of the honorary, were alumnae members; Margaret Horn, Mrs. Cordelia L. Hibbs and Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower, advisers of Mortar Board; Pearl O. Weston, Dean of Women; and Mary E. Brewer and Patricia J. Thompson, assistants to the Dean of Women.

anti-social and seek more sedate surroundings — like the floor, for instance. Since, if you wear contacts, you are no doubt half-blind, your seeing-eye date comes into play now.

As the lenses are completely transparent, your man of the hour should be able to clean up a sizable section of the floor and learn every crack and splinter in it before the lost friends turn up. It takes a good man to last this out, so choose your dates wisely.

But the little monsters don't wait for evening encounters to start their wanderings. We can remember many a mealtime when the wanderlust struck them and they slipped off the cornea into the white part of the eye. At this point a surprisingly large number of the girls lost their appetites. We always say it separates the women from the girls.

Let's suppose they're safely back in place at last. Everything should be just fine, but somehow you just can't seem to stop blinking. And besides, the two boxes of tissues are exhausted. Not wishing to use the hem of your slip, you decide it's time to take the amphibious contortionists out.

Since there's no way of telling them apart, you must be sure to take the right one out and carefully place it in the side of the case marked "R." It takes a fine sense of direction to maneuver this without the use of four eyes, but in case you drop one, just coyly mention to your date that he'll have to start the search again. You get rid of more dates that way!

Panhel Votes To Hold One Formal Rushing

A motion to limit sorority rushing to an informal rushing period in the fall and a formal period in the spring was passed by Panhellenic Council Wednesday night.

The motion included the statement that social pledges and social members, excluding transfer students who were sisterized at their former schools, may not aid in the rushing program of a sorority.

Fifty dollar scholarships were awarded by Panhel to Ann Allison, Joanna Binkley, and Baylee Friedman.

Janet Herd was appointed rushing chairman and Janet Horgan was named social chairman.

Marlene Heyman, president, announced that all sororities interested in having their picture appear in the Panhel rushing booklet may contact Bettie Loux, editor, in 356 Simmons.

Delta Gamma proposed a philanthropic project of having all sororities contribute to a fund to help a girl from a foreign country get her education at Penn State. Each Panhel representative will take the proposal back to her sorority for a vote and the suggestion will be discussed more fully at the next meeting of Panhel, May 20, in the Kappa Alpha Theta suite.

Collegian to Hold Picnic, Banquet

The Daily Collegian spring picnic will be held May 24 and the annual banquet, May 25.

The picnic is planned for the afternoon at Greenwood Furnace. All Daily Collegian staff members and their guests may attend. The banquet will be held the following night. Only new and old members of the senior board will attend the affair.

Members of the planning committee include Marshall Donley, Bettie Loux, Moylan Mills, Allison Morley, and Richard Smith.

Philadelphia Minister Is Chapel Guest

The Rev. Robert D. Hershey, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Communion, Philadelphia, will speak at the Chapel service at 10:55 a.m. Sunday in Schwab Auditorium.

Formerly acting pastor of the American Church in Berlin, the Rev. Hershey has traveled extensively in Europe serving in the Lutheran World Federation meeting in Sweden and as exchange preacher to England.

The Rev. Hershey is well-known for his series of radio addresses on Sunday Vespers and Faith in Our Times. He has also written numerous magazine articles and is author of the book "The Secret of God."

In addition to his pastorate in Philadelphia, he is a member of the editorial board of The Lutheran, church magazine, a seminary board, a council of churches, and various community organizations.

He is a Cronhardt Fellow of the University of Berlin and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Diderot Volumes On Exhibition At Pattee Library

The 35 folio volumes of the "Encyclopedie," by Dennis Diderot, 18th century French philosopher, are currently on exhibit at the Pattee Library.

The "Encyclopedie" was published by Diderot in 1751 and 1780 with the help of one assistant. It was considered one of the most important intellectual events in the western world since the discovery of the printing press.

In addition to the complete edition of the "Encyclopedie," its 17th Century forerunner, Pierre Bayle's "Dictionnaire" is also included in the library collection. The mounted reproduction constituting the remainder of the exhibit was obtained through the Cultural Attache of the French Embassy in New York.

There were 235,800 more persons injured in U.S. motor vehicle accidents last year than in 1949.

May Day Festivities To Feature Pastels

Pastel shades will be featured in the May Day ceremonies beginning at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow on the front campus of Old Main.

Robin Brunner, a senior in home economics, will be crowned May Queen, and Maud Strawn, a freshman, will serve as her maid of honor. They will wear white and blue, respectively.

Senior attendants, who will wear pink, are Marion Gray and Norma Lee McCormick. Juniors, wearing green, are Jean Mastin and Marion Morgan.

Sophomores Marilyn Buzby and Joan O'Connor will wear yellow, and freshmen Gwen Price and Nancy Scofield, lavender.

Twenty senior women were chosen for the honor arch by the May Queen selections committee for outstanding participation in campus activities. They are Lila Barnes, Carolyn Barrett, Jeannine Bell, Evelyn Black, Janet Bleutge, Rosemary Delahanty, Eleanor Griffith, Joyce Harkins.

Barbara Klopp, Virginia Laudono, Marilyn Levitt, Nancy McClain, Betty Anders Macaulay, Virginia Miller, Elaine Notari, Grace Porrello, Jane Stieber, Jane Strawn, Shirley Vernon, and Greta Weaver.

Heralds are Charlotte and Joan Brown, and jesters are Patricia Colgan and Elizabeth Duda.

Bleachers seating 4000 persons have been set up on the front campus. In case of rain, the ceremonies will be held in Rec Hall.
