

Weather Service Positions Open

Three hundred Air Force reserve second lieutenant appointments are open in the Air Weather Service for college men, both military and civilian, who can qualify for meteorology training.

Lt. Col. Jack W. Dieterle, professor of air science and tactics, explained yesterday that a baccalaureate degree with a year of physics and mathematics credit through integral calculus is required. He said that selected second lieutenant appointees for meteorology training will be ordered to active duty at the earliest possible date.

More detailed information and application forms are available through the Department of Air Science and Tactics in the Armory.

Dickson on Panel In Builders' Show

The Builders' Show, now being held for the fourth year at O. W. Houts & Son, Inc., will feature a forum at 7:30 tonight on "Designing the Home." Dr. Harold E. Dickson, professor of fine arts, will be on the panel.

Prizes worth nearly $1000 are being offered by 20 State College firms in a "Get Acquainted" promotion.

"Get Acquainted" premium books may be obtained at the area Chamber of Commerce information booth on the main floor of the building.

Two Schools Get '52 LaVies Today

Education and Home Economics seniors may pick up their copies of the 1952 LaVie today at the Student Union desk in Old Main. At the same time they may vote for the senior class gift and '52 men and women honor students.

Chemistry and Physics, Physical Education, and Mineral Industries seniors may pick up their copies of the yearbook and vote tomorrow and Saturday.

will be stressed.

He said that he wants AIM and the four member councils, Nittany, Pollock, West Dorm, and Town, to sponsor a program which will bring AIM and the councils closer to the men in their areas. He suggested this might be accomplished by sponsoring more competitive affairs.

Reese also asked for closer cooperation and work between AIM and Leonides.

Two amendments to the AIM constitution have been passed by the Board of Governors and the necessary three-out-of-four councils. Another amendment has not received the approval of three councils.

The amendments passed change the date of the AIM elections from the first two weeks in May to the first two weeks in April and make the AIM vice president chairman of the constitutional committee. The amendment that failed would have restricted the AIM presidency to a senior.
