Lion Thindlads to Meet Strong Jaspers Saturday

By JOHN SHEPPARD

Penn State's thinclads will draw their toughest assignment of the season this Saturday when they venture to Van Cortlandt Stadium, N.Y., to test a "leaded" Manhattan team.

Captained by veteran miler Pat Duffy, the Jaspers took up where they left off in their banner indoor season and have been rolling along in high gear ever since the Penn Relays last month. To date, Coach Ben Eastman's trackmen have participated in three relay meets (Seton Hall,

Penn Relays and Los Angeles Coliseum relays) and one dual, Army,

Favorites for IC4A Title

In each outing, the Jaspers seemed to match or better their previous showings, and have entrenched themselves as the ones to beat for the IC4A title, May fully carry their role of defendentries by an even bigger margin in the 880 than in the 440.

Takes Army, 77-63

Manhattan also took over the outstanding baton passing team in the Carnival when it won the

Against Army two weeks ago, the Manhattanites overpowered a mile relay title in 3:23.3.

Engle Advocates Quarterback Club For Television

Charles (Rip) Engle, Penn State football coach, believes a tele- 30-31. vision "quarterback club" might be one answer to the manifold in the Quaker City relays saw problems created by the advent the indoor IC4A champs successof video.

Under Engle's plan, TV would choose key games each week, film the play-by-play, and project them early the following week stances. with the two opposing coaches. or the winning coach alone, doing the commentary.

"Quarterback clubs," says the Penn State coach, "are popular all over the nation. These groups meet with their coaches each Monday or Tuesday, study the films, and hear the coach explain key plays, outstanding performances, and other inside information."

It's Engle's contention, for example, that Pitt games could be projected on this basis in the Pittsburgh area, Penn games in the Philadelphia area, and other games in their own home terrigames in their own home terri-

"The interest would be there, certainly," Engle explains, "and fans would feel happy and satisfied if they had the opportunity to view the game again and have the highlights dramatized for them by coaches."

tune of 115½-24½.

Last Saturday afternoon the Jaspers did themselves proud by repeating their 440 and 880-yard relay victories in 40.7 and 1:24.4; which were a mere fifth and two-fifth respectively, off the world records.

Sports Briefs

Whiff King to Be Feted

BRISTOL, Tenn., Va., May 20 P) — It will be "Ron Necciai night" tomorrow night as Bristol baseball fans honor the 19-year old righthander who is re-writing strikeout records.

Necciai, who whiffed 27 batters last week in hurling Bristol to a no-hit, no-run 7-0 win over Welch, W. Va., will be presented gifts in appreciation of the national publicity he has brought this city on the Tennessee-Virginia border.

Hairston Rated Favorite

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—Eugene Silent Hairston, an -on-the-up-grade 22-year-old, ranks a slight betting favorite to whip Jake La Motta, aging Bronx bull, in their 10-round middleweight fight at Olympia Stadium on Wednesday

The deaf mute Negro was given a 6-5 edge by the betting fraternity, although he was held to a ing titlist and favorite to a thrill-ing victory in the 440 relay, fin-vear-old La Motta, once the midishing in 42 seconds flat-terrific dleweight champ.

time under the weather circum- Babe 'Not Too Chipper' stances.

The foursome of Bob Carty, Joe Schatzle, Lindy Remigino, and Jack O'Connell wrapped up its second title in its second defense when it outran Morgan State's wasn't "feeling too chipper" after entries by an even higger margin. an operation.

The hospital said she was resting well, and Babe managed a smile.

She said she had been found to be "a little bit anemic—of all things." She has been given sedatives since the operation yester-day for removal of a hernia.

Matthews to Fight Rocky SEATTLE, May 20 (A)- Harry ers took it out on State to the tune of 115½-24½.

"Kid" Matthews' manager said today "I expect to sign Matthews

Sports Thru

The Lion's Eye

By JAKE HIGHTON Collegian Sports Editor

Age can and has withered Joe Bedenk-slightly-since his All-American guard days in 1923 for Nittany gridders, but custom cannot stale the infinite variety of winning Penn State baseball teams Bedenk has turned out since only the record book knows when.

The fact that the Old Professor of Nittany baseball has had only one losing season in all his years - the record book says 22 -as State's head coach, will probably be overlooked this afternoon in the pre-game warmup ceremonies preceeding the Penn State-Temple diamond tussle.

After all, the bronze plaque Bedenk will receive from the American Association of College Baseball is for 25 years of service to collegiate baseball. The citation isn't likely to say anything about won-lost records. So just for the record, it might be mentioned that en route to having only one losing season, Bedenk's ballclubs have hit the win column, 237 times and wound up on the wrong side of the ledger only 103 times.

(In order to make the Silver Anniversary Club of diamond coaches, Bedenk gained five years prior to coming to State. This early coaching was picked up at Rice Institute, Tex., and at the U. of Florida.)

One of the major causes Bedenk has been so "very, very for-tunate" in staying out of the red is the spirited hustle and drive displayed by an always abundance of talent which reports every year. Even more remarkable about the winning-ways of Nittany baseball is the Northerly clime the team must drill in during the early months—under the stands in cold, cold February.

Despite the honors Bedenk has gathered in bushelfuls, one has eluded him constantly in recent years—the NCAA playoff berth. In 1948 his club got by Seton Hall and Rutgers in District 2 play but fell before St. Johns 7-5 in the final.

This year it appeared as if Bedenk might make it. But after winning 10 straight, NCAA talk sent the pressure mounting and the Nittany nine spiraling downward — fast. Although not mathematically eliminated from NCAA contention, the noose is just about drawn tight. By winning all three remaining games, luckily two are on invincible-to-date Beaver Field, State can end up with a 15-4 record—the same record Princeton owned when chosen to play in Omaha last year.

The Lions lost only three last year to the opposition but the Rain swept eight others and gave the Lions a 10-3 mark and the Tigers a playoff spot. This year the rain has been extra kind, but the opposition has been most unkind of late.

It is approaching two outs in the ninth-never too late-for Bedenk to have one of his regrets wiped out this year. But Pop Time is likely to wipe out another of the Professor's regrets; namely, that he "doesn't have 25 more years to give to college baseball."

Reigns .acrossmen

By TOM SAYLOR

Rain reigns, or if you prefer. 13-10, but at that the Engineers rains reign, over the Penn State had to rally. As matter of currents lacrosse team.

After three unsuccessful attempts to play a home match without the elements "pour in g forth," Coach Nick Thiel's charges will have to wait until next area.

Penn State in its home opener game for State and the tenth games to State and the tenth games so, State walked off with lettermen returning from I ast a 7-6 decision.

indication of what was to come as State dropped the second and third context.—the first to Rut also participated in the North Hobert's lineup attackman Bob Demuth. Demuth lor and James Nortis, president of gers and the second to Cornell.
In defense of Ol' Jupe, however, it must be said that the rain let up in the last two games, although State probably wished that it ly will be a pair of high scoring in Philadelphia June 5.

would have rained harder—and maybe have gotten colder as it was against Washington and Lee.

Psychologically speaking, State will act as "escapists" when it tries to avoid both rain and defeat Saturday at Hobart. Last year at Hobart, the Nittany Lions upset Coach Francis (Babe) Krouse's men, 17-10.

It was only the second loss in-

It was only the second loss inflicted on the New Yorkers. RPI handed Hobart its other defeat,

> The TAVERN MENU:

Wednesday, May 21

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI HUNGARIAN GOULASH HAMBURG STEAK

DINNER 5 - 7:30 p.m. Reservations after 6:30

١,

will have to wait until next year if they have any such hopes.

Jupiter Pluvius reigned on bart's season, the game will also bring down the curtain on Hobart's season. It will be the eighth The rain, however, was no dication of what were to as no dication of which were to as no dication of which we were to as no dication of which we were to as no dication of which we were t also participated in the North-the International Boxing Club, on South All-Star game last year prospects of televising and broad-

13-10, but at that the Engineers attackmen, sophomore Hoover (Scoop) Sutton and John Snape, Walcott-Charles on TV?

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 20 (P)—Heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott and his manager,

Town Independents! Attend the Town Council's

ANNUAL PICNIC

Whipple's Dam SUNDAY, MAY 25th

Food FREE to Town Independents

BE IN BACK OF OLD MAIN . 12:30 SUNDAY FOR IDENTIFICATION TAG AND TRANSPORTATION

Gains Tennis Finals ong.

Dez Long, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, became the first man to reach the finals of the IM fraternity tennis singles tournament by decisioning Bill Wallis, Sigma Pi, in their semi-final round match.

Long won easily in straight sets! over Wallis, 6-3, 6-1. The varsity Both Rays and Long while sophomore performer will now members of the varsity tennis over Wallis, 6-3, 6-1. The varsity In addition to closing Penn All-American last year as did State's season, the game will also Captain Hank Rosenberg, senior Phi Kappa Sigma-Bruz Ray, Sig-tourney got under way in the fall meet the winner of the Bill Ray, team are eligible for this season's IM tennis competition because the match for the 1951 singles crown, started.

ma Alpha Epsilon, semi-final before the varsity tennis season

