

Atlantic Co. Drops Plans For Gridcast

A decision to drop the broadcasting of college football games was announced last Sunday by officials of the Atlantic Refining Co.

College officials are awaiting possible bids from sponsors who wish to take over the contract previously held by Atlantic and Chevrolet.

As yet, no word has been received from Chevrolet as to the action it will take in the matter. Atlantic will turn to television in replacement of the radiocast. The Pittsburgh Steelers will be included in the program.

Atlantic started broadcasting games in 1936 and first aired Penn State games a year later. Bill Sutherland, well-known Pittsburgh sportscaster, was the first "name" broadcaster to announce Nittany Lion games.

For the past two years Bob Prince has been doing the play-by-play of both State home and road games. The games were heard over as many as 26 Central Pennsylvania stations but sometimes the total slipped as low as ten.

Civil Service To Give Exams

The Civil Service examiners at the Marietta Transportation Corps Depot announced yesterday that examinations are to be given for positions of clerk-typist and clerk-stenographer. The starting salaries were announced at $2750.

Further information and applications for taking the examinations may be obtained by consulting J. A. Dale, commissions area secretary, at the State College Post Office.

Bartoo, assistant professor of forestry; secretary treasurer, Dr. Arthur J. G. Maw, professor of poultry husbandry; and historian, Dr. James W. Shigley, instructor in agricultural and biological chemistry.

Senior Announcements, Invitations Available

Seniors who have ordered invitations and announcements for graduation may pick them up at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

Seniors must present their receipts upon picking them up. No extra invitations or announcements are available.

Coffee Hours To End Today

The last coffee hour for this semester under the joint sponsorship of the Dean of Men's office and All-College Cabinet will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Dean of Men's office.

Twenty-six prominent male students, 20 freshmen, and 12 women students have been invited to attend. Capt. John L. Woodbury, professor of naval science, and Robert T. Oliver, professor of speech, have also been invited.

Representatives of the Dean of Men's office said that interest in these coffee hours, held weekly at 4 p.m. Wednesday, has been very high. They said that they have received valuable contributions to their program from the coffee hour discussions. They also said that this is one of the ways they are trying to meet the needs of the students.
