

Stevenson Is Favored By Missouri Democrats

By The Associated Press

Democrats in President Truman's home state of Missouri began picking delegates to the Democratic National Convention yesterday with a minor trend toward Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Four of the first 26 delegates chosen came out for Stevenson. Nineteen were silent on their choice. The other three were split, with one vote each for Sen. Estes Kefauver, Vice President Alben Barkley and New York's favorite son, W. Averell Harriman.

The 4-to-1 choice of Stevenson over others in the field prompted some speculation Truman might have quietly passed the word to Missouri Democratic leaders that he would like to see Stevenson become the party's standard bearer.

Truman is reputed to favor the Illinois governor, and he has never denied it. The President has said that like any other citizen he reserves the right to name his choice, although he has said he does not intend to dictate to the convention.

Taft in South Dakota

Over the weekend, Stevenson himself appeared to have left the door wide open for a draft after declaring earlier that he "could not accept" the presidential nomination.

In other political developments: Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was busy campaigning in South Dakota with an eye on the 14 GOP delegates to be chosen in a primary election there June 3.

Wins in Texas

Taft told a GOP rally he would be a good deal stronger candidate with both labor and farmers than any other Republican "including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower."

In Texas, Taft supporters won the first round in a battle that could make the Texas delegation to the GOP National Convention a hot potato.

With the state GOP convention scheduled to meet today to name 38 national delegates, the state Executive Committee voted 46 to 14 yesterday to seat a Taft delegation over a rival Eisenhower group.

Eisenhower leaders have threatened to bolt the convention and send their own delegation to Chicago if the Executive Committee resorts to "steam-roller" tactics in favor of the Taft camp.

Appeals to Supreme Court

Similar Taft-Eisenhower clashes have developed in several states. In Mississippi, the state Supreme Court yesterday ruled that the "Lily White" GOP faction there favoring Eisenhower has exclusive rights to appear on the ballot as the state Republican party.

The rival pro-Taft "Black and Tan" faction, losers in the long court battle, has announced it will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. The "Lily Whites" gained their nickname from the fact they are predominantly white. The "Black and Tans" are mostly Negroes. Traditionally, the national GOP party recognizes only convention delegates from Mississippi selected by the "Black and Tans."

Prof Completes Motion Picture

Dr. Miriam E. Lowenberg, head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition, has completed work on a motion picture, "Food as Children See It."

The 20-minute film produced in Minnesota by the films department and educational services of General Mills, Inc., concerns an appropriate diet for children from two to six years of age.

Dr. Eva D. Wilson, professor of foods and nutrition, and Dr. Winons L. Morgan, professor of child development, also served as consultants on scripts for the film.

The film will be released this summer and will be available to parents' groups, colleges, and public schools.

Plane Explodes, Crashes Near Virginia Town

FRANKLIN, Va., May 26 — A B-45 Tornado jet bomber exploded and crashed today near this little town in Southeastern Virginia. The burned bodies of its three-man crew were recovered from the plane's nose section.

Langley Air Force Base, from which the plane had taken off on a routine flight, reported that investigators had found no evidence that the bomber collided with another plane, as one eye-witness had said shortly after the crash.

A Langley spokesman said there were three men in the bomber, which normally carries four.

The three airmen were listed as Lt. Herbert W. Remington, pilot; Lt. Jerry O. Causey, co-pilot; and Lt. Anthony S. Butler, aerial observer.

Remington and Causey resided in Hampton, Va., with their wives. Butler and his wife lived in Newport News. The three were personnel of the 47th Bombardment Wing of the 49th Air Division, which is in the process of transfer to England.

Wreckage of the bomber was scattered over a two-mile area several hundred yards from a highway. Some wreckage narrowly missed houses.

Langley authorities and others reported they had found no wreckage from another plane.

Thug Routed By Housewife

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP)—A 19-year-old housewife fought off an attacker who pounced on her as she lay in bed today and warned her:

"Don't scream or I'll kill you. I've already killed one girl—Jean Brusco."

Mrs. Mary McNeil, who kicked and scratched her assailant until he fled, described him as a balding Negro with horn rimmed glasses. She said he entered her bedroom by tearing out a window screen.

Police said the assailant referred to the murder of 38-year-old Jean Brusco in 1949. However, Mrs. Ellen Flanigan, who witnessed the crime, described Miss Brusco's murderer as a short, blond youth.

Pi Gamma Mu Initiates

Pi Gamma Mu, social science honorary, has initiated 69 members, according to Violet D. Mensch, secretary.

Debate Manager

Jay Headly, seventh semester senior in arts and letters, has been chosen manager of the men's debate squad for next year, Clair George, this year's manager, announced.

Connally Demands Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Sen. Connally (D.-Tex.) told the Senate today to vote $6,900,000 for foreign aid if it didn't want "the world to go to hell."

The fiery Texan, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said sarcastically "The way to get real economy is to defeat this bill entirely, give them nothing, vote not one dime for the mutual security program."

"Then," he shouted, "you can go home and stretch yourselves before your constituents and say I saved seven billion dollars—and let the world go to hell."

Connally's speech opened what promises to be a long and bitter debate on mutual security.

President Truman has asked for $7,900,000,000 to furnish direct military aid and economic assistance to nations allied with the United States against the threat of Communist aggression. His request is for the 12 months starting July 1.

Connally's committee cut the figure one billion dollars, and last Friday the House approved a bill shaved down to $6,162,000,000.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, the Republican leader, took the floor to ask that "all the unnecessary expenditures" be taken out of the bill.

Bridges proposed no specific cut, but he declared: "We've got to get tough about this. This is our money and we should not be throwing it away just to be an international jolly good fellow."

Ed Evaluation Plan Now in Operation

The Education faculty evaluation plan is now being carried out, according to Marian Whitely, Education council president.

Council members have distributed evaluation forms to all members of the Education faculty. However, it is up to the discretion of the individual instructor whether or not to distribute them to his classes.

Miss Whitely said that the plan will also be used next year.

Business Staff Of Collegian Promotes 58

Fifty-eight promotions to the junior and intermediate boards of the business staff of the Daily Collegian have been announced by Franklin Kelly, business manager.

Those promoted to the junior board are Judith Conrad, Francis Crawford, Mark Christ, Herbert Ferguson, Carolyn Green, George Greer, Eleanor Hennessy, Ruth Israel, Laeh Koidanov, Jean Marchnic, Diane Miller, Lois Morgans, Carolyn Pelczar, Robert Potter, Patricia Prichard, Charles Putnam, Janice Robbins, Gail Shaver, David Shultz, Ann Skapik, Edward Steel, Clara Thiessen, Eleanor Ungethuem, William Wallis, Martha Worthington, and Morton Zieve.

Those promoted to the intermediate board are Robert Allewelt, Eli Arenber, Barbara Bohrer, Virginia Bowman, Judith Brown, Robert Carruthers, Darcie Deckard, Vincent Drayne, Sondra Duckman, Donald Eberhart, Margaret Faris, Max Frohwein, Gail Fromer, Shirley Gable, George Geminder, James Guerdon, Don Hawke, Faye Hiding, Jane Larpenteur, Jane Lewis, Charles Marg, Nancy Mayhew, Eleanor Micolics, Fred Moffatt, Bruce Nichols, Leslie Patton, Patricia Rile, Florence Rosenthal, Carol Schwing, Mary Selig, Ethel Wilson, and Donald Zap in.

Those who have been promoted to intermediate board should check to see which staff they have been promoted to, Kelly said.

Baby Cause Of WAC's Discharge

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—A former major in the Women's Army Corps carried to the Senate Armed Services Committee today her protest against being discharged from the reserves because she had a baby.

Mrs. L. B. Thompson of East Orange, N.J., trim, black-haired and the mother of a 7-month-old son, said a woman should not be denied an opportunity to serve "solely because she performed the function for which our Creator intended her."

The 33-year-old former WAC, who had written letters of protest in vain to the Army, won a sympathetic response from Sen. Long (D-La), who presided at a committee hearing on reserve forces legislation.

He told her he felt that women who have children should be permitted to drop out of the reserves but that this should not be compulsory.

Mrs. Thompson, whose husband is a telephone company executive, served in the Women's Army Corps from 1942 to 1948 and then became an active member of the Organized Reserve Corps in the New York Military District.

She speaks French, Japanese, Italian, Korean, Chinese and Tibetan and in 1947-48 she served as assistant chief adviser to the Korean government. Previously she had been a liaison officer in Korea for Allied headquarters in Japan.

Smith to Head Anti-Sub Panel

Dr. Kinsley R. Smith, of the Psychology department has been named chairman of a newly formed advisory panel on Antisubmarine Warfare Training of the National Research Council.

Consisting of a group of psychologists, this panel will meet periodically to consult with and advise the Navy on scientific and technical matters in the training of personnel for antisubmarine warfare. This is one of the panels of the Committee on Undersea Warfare of the National Research Council.

Snapped Axle Makes Riders Walk to Work

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP)—Thousands of early morning trolley riders walked part way to work from the South Hills section of Pittsburgh today.

A streetcar snapped an axle at the start of the morning rush hour. Long strings of trolleys, which converge onto one tunnel track, were backed up for miles during two hours.

Buses and special trolleys, operated from the blocked point picked up passengers and pedestrians to continue the ride to town.

Goduscik Takes First In Chapel Design Contest

John Goduscik, a seventh semester architectural engineering student, has won first prize in a chapel design contest sponsored by the Indiana Limestone Co. Paul Kuhnle won second prize, and Charles Hall placed third in the contest.

ROOM - BOARD $16 per week

Linens Changed Weekly
Laundry Facilities
Excellent Food

CONTACT STAN GOLDMAN 6718

ZETA BETA TAU

MISS ROSE PELTYN

OKay Joe?

Beautiful Rose, a New Yorker, is our last "OK Joe" for the season. Besides possessing a personality which matches her natural beauty, Rose's eyes literally sparkle with radiated warmth with the slightest smile.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the many students who have been my friends as well as customers. Your friendship has been appreciated even more than your purchases. Have a wonderful summer.

And you graduating seniors! For Pete Sake, drop in for Home Coming Weekend.

For the time being,
So long
Bill Coleman

The Lion Studio