

Green Dinks, Bows to Return

Customs Program Starts First Day of Classes

Freshmen will be "seeing green" again this year when customs go into effect at 8 a.m. Sept. 15. Freshman women will be wearing green hair bows while the freshman men will accompany them with green dinks.

Both men and women will be required to wear 5 by 8-inch namecards with name, hometown, and major for the first two weeks of school, according to the customs established by the Freshman Customs and Regulations Board.

These and all other customs will be enforced by hatmen and women with all violators being tried by the nine-member Freshman Customs Board.

Appeal to Cabinet

The board is composed of two members from each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes with the head of Judicial acting as chairman when a woman's violation is being tried, and the head of Tribunal acting as chairman when a man's violation is being tried.

Tribunal and Judicial are the men's and women's judiciary bodies respectively. Appeals of the decisions of the Freshman Customs Board may be made to All-College Cabinet.

Dress customs will be worn at all times except on specific holidays to be set up and named later by the board. Freshmen may drop the bows and dinks after 5:30 p.m. Fridays, after noon Saturdays, and all day Sundays.

Must Attend Meetings

All customs must be purchased at the Book Exchange where the purchaser's name will be checked off on a master sheet.

Freshmen must attend all meetings during Orientation Week. They will be required to know the names of the deans of their schools and the President of the College and be able to name all college buildings by the first day of classes. They must be able to recite the College songs and cheers at the request of upperclassmen. The Student Handbook, or "Freshman Bible," will be carried with them at all times. The identification page must be filled out completely.

There will be no dating during the first weekend of customs or during the following week. After that dating will be permitted on weekends, both Friday and Saturday nights.

Weekend Permissions

All association with the opposite sex is prohibited within a three-mile radius of Old Main. Conversation between men and women will be limited to "Hello."

During customs women must be in their dormitories by 9:15 p.m. for the first weekend and following week days. Weekend permissions will be announced in the Daily Collegian when dating begins.

Freshman men will doff their hats at the command "Button, frosh!" by upperclassmen and women will curtsy when asked to "Curtsy, frosh!" by upperclasswomen. Men and women will doff dinks and curtsy respectively when passing the Old Willow tree on the east Mall. Only the east side of the Mall may be used by freshmen.

Hello Walks

Senior Walk, running parallel to College avenue from the Allen street gate to the Pugh street gate, is "out of bounds" to all freshmen. No frosh will be allowed to walk on the grass or take any unpaved shortcut across campus with the exception of the path across Holmes Field from McAllister Hall to the Temporary Classroom Building.

The diagonal walks extending from the front of Old Main down the east Mall are designated as Hello Walks and frosh will say "Hello" to everyone met on these walks.

Men will not place their hands in their pockets when strolling or lounging on campus. They will not be permitted to smoke on campus except in living quarters.

High school athletic sweaters and numerals are prohibited on campus. The Penn State "S" is the only athletic award to be worn on campus.

Students over 21 are eligible for immunity but must appear personally before the Freshman Customs Board for exemption. No exemptions may be granted by upperclassmen or women.

Frosh will not be subject to hazing. Hazing is defined as any regulation not prescribed by the Customs and Regulations Board. Freshmen have the right to report such hazing to the board.

Violations must be reported to the board in a written, signed form. Offenders will be notified by mail to appear before Tribunal or Judicial. Punishment will vary with the seriousness of the violation.

The Freshman Customs Board will decide when customs will end. The duration will depend on frosh conduct on campus and attitude and cooperation in carrying out regulations, according to James Schulte, Tribunal chairman.

Book Collection Given to Library

A collection of 285 books on "The Renaissance" and a gift of $500 to purchase additional books for the collection has been accepted by the Library from Roy L. Bovard, a 1907 graduate now residing in Canada.

The College Board of Trustees accepted the gift and the books will be shipped to the Library after completion of the new addition to the building.

Tribunal, Judicial Give Interpretation of Rules

Judicial Hears Coed Violators

The Judicial is the branch of the Women's Student Government Association that interprets dormitory rules and WSGA regulations, hears violators' defense, and punishes women students who violate these rules.

The committee is made up of eight women — four seniors and four juniors. These women are appointed by the Judicial chairman and the WSGA president with the approval of WSGA Senate and the Dean of Women. The members of this year's committee are Chairman Teresa Taylor, Grace Anderson, Joan Yarger, Jean Berg, Marilyn Buzby, Mary Pettigout, Patricia Prichard, and Jane Mason.

The penalties with which Judicial deals are divided into four classes. They are listed below with the reasons for which they are given:

- One o'clock removal—no dating from 6:30 p.m. until the next morning. Must keep weekday hours. Must be taken on a Saturday night.
 - Lateness of five to ten minutes on one o'clock.
 - Lateness of five to twenty minutes on a 9:15, ten or eleven o'clock.
 - Returning from a weekend or vacation at 1 a.m. without notifying the hostess that a late permission is being taken.
 - Taking an extra 1 a.m. permission.
 - Failure to sign out for an eleven o'clock special permission.
 - Returning to campus from a weekend or vacation the same day that was signed to return but at a later hour will be either a one o'clock removal or a latent weekend campus depending upon the circumstances.
 - Returning to the dormitory from a weekend or vacation after dormitory hours on any date previous to the one signed to return.
- Lenient weekend campus — no dating from 6:30 p.m. Friday to Monday morning. Must keep weekday hours.
 - Lateness of 11 to 20 minutes on a one o'clock.
 - Lateness of 21 to 40 minutes on a 9:15, ten or eleven o'clock.
 - Not signing out for home or for vacation.
 - Accumulation of three blackmarks during one semester.
 - Taking 5 eleven o'clocks in one semester without special permission.
- Strict weekend campus — no dating from 6:30 p.m. Friday until Monday morning, not allowed off campus hour at the TUB and not allowed to leave the dormitory after 6:30 p.m.
 - Using late traveling permissions dating here at the College.
 - Not signing out for out-of-town visits other than home.
 - Leaving the dormitory before opening hour which is 7 a.m.
 - Returning to campus from a weekend or vacation a day later than signed to return without notifying the hostess.
 - Letting anyone into the dormitory

Campus Chest Consolidates Charity Drives

In order to solve the problem of repeated charity drives, the Campus Chest, with a "Give once, serve all," motto, was established in 1950.

Each fall student volunteers solicit funds for the chest, which is a consolidation of ten charity drives. Personal pledges or cash are accepted. Those who wish to pledge to the drive may have the amount added to their second semester fees.

Organizations receiving funds from the Chest are the Penn State Christian Association, Women's Student Government Association, Christmas Fund, World Student Service Fund, Scholarship Fund, Salvation Army, Tuberculosis Fund, Leo Houck Cancer Fund, and Heart Fund.

Organizations authorized to receive funds from the Chest must meet two requirements: their activities must reflect credit on the college community composed of the students and faculty of the College, and they must be broadly representative of the College community and not merely of a small segment.

Groundwork for the chest was laid by the National Student Association. In addition to minimizing duplicated efforts, the chest was organized to establish a definite policy towards the operation of various fund drives on campus and to emphasize the responsibility of the students and faculty toward the charities and organizations benefiting from the fund.

Farrell Is Ag Director

Dr. M. A. Farrell, former assistant director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, has assumed the station directorship. He succeeds Dr. Fred P. Lininger who retired with emeritus rank in July.

Tribunal Tries Traffic Cases

Tribunal, highest men's judiciary body on campus, is organized to enforce undergraduate College regulations. It is also the agency for enforcing freshman customs and will try all male students who fail to comply with the Joint Customs Regulations Board.

Tribunal is composed of nine members: five seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore. Members are appointed by All-College Cabinet at the end of the spring semester.

Traffic violations are turned over to the Tribunal by the Campus Patrol. It also has the power to try cases dealing with infractions of undergraduate regulations and breaches of town ordinances by undergraduate men.

According to the All-College Constitution, Tribunal has the power to summon before it any student over which it has jurisdiction and can affix punishment upon any student found guilty of conduct detrimental to the College. It has the power to recommend penalties up to and including expulsion from college.

Students may appeal Tribunal decisions to All-College Cabinet, which has final jurisdiction.

Tribunal is primarily interested in preventing disciplinary cases rather than issuing punishment. In recent years traffic violations have constituted most of the cases heard.

Members of Tribunal this year are Chairman James Schulte, Edward Brenner, Nathaniel Hamilton, Glenn Wiggins, John Donnal, Richard Rau, Thomas Farrell, Charles Obertance, and Joseph Barnett.

Dr. Kalso Ends Absence

Dr. John M. Kalso, associate professor of engineering research, returned to the College this summer to resume his duties with the Ionosphere Research Laboratory. He had been on a leave of absence in Sweden.
