

BX Suggestion Brings Fun Night Will End Early Action on UBA Orientation Program

(This is the first in a series of articles on the resolutions adopted at the first annual Student Encampment.)

More than 30 specific recommendations were adopted at the first annual Student Encampment held Sept. 4 through Sept. 6 at the Mont Alto Forestry School. Of these recommendations, which range from the problem of keeping students off the grass to the improvement of student-faculty relations, those presented by the Book Exchange committee have already brought action in the form of the new Used Book Agency.

Working on the Book Exchange committee were chairman Franklin Kelly, Joyce Buchanan, Thomas Farrell, Gwen Griffith, Ronald Lench, Charles Obertance, Marian Ungar, Arthur W. Einstein, Samuel K. Hostetter, and William N. Leonard. The latter three were faculty and administration representatives.

Mainly interested in alleviating the space problem which the BX has faced in the past four years, the committee devoted its time to figuring out how more space could be obtained. The committee came up with the following resolutions — the main one being the immediate transformation of the Temporary Union Building ballroom into a self-service UBA:

UBA Recommendations

1. Be it recommended that the ballroom of the TUB be utilized for a convenient, self-service Used Book Agency to be in operation for an approximate period of 10 days to two weeks.

2. Be it further recommended that this operational set-up be employed at the beginning and end of each semester, until, when certain greater facilities are available, the BX can carry on a larger, more diversified service.

3. Be it further recommended that the BX begin a bookkeeping system whereby complete cost, sales, and purchase breakdowns would be made to be useful for any proposed long-range program.

4. Be it further recommended that a new inventory control system be devised by the BX Board of Control.

Further Recommendations

In view of the fact that the previously presented recommendations will affect the future—the long range program—we hereby propose the following additional recommendations:

1. Be it recommended that, upon reviewing the success, problems, and operational transactions of the proposed self-service UBA, diversified research be carried out for determining the prerequisites for a Book Exchange on a larger scale.

2. Be it further recommended that the Economics department serve in an advisory capacity so that complete research will be carried out efficiently.

3. Be it further recommended that, upon completion of the research, possibilities for the handling of new books, more lines, and more merchandise be considered—and charter changes made in cases where revision would be a necessity.

NSA Resolution Made

The committee on National Student Association concerned itself with the values of Penn State belonging to this organization. They discussed the accusation made claiming that the NSA is "slightly pink." Upon completion of their discussion, the committee, composed of chairman Marlene Heyman, John Laubach, Charles Gibbs, Margaret Hepler, Lenore Kahanowitz, James Plyler, Irvin White, George Donovan, and Ross Lehman, presented the following resolutions:

Whereas, the NSA committee feels that contact with other campus student governments is beneficial to promote a more effective local student government, be it recommended that Penn State continue its affiliation with the National Student Association.

Citizenship Recommendations

The Citizenship committee concerned itself with problems of walking on the grass, dormitory behavior, freshman customs, smoking in classrooms, academic dishonesty, the use of alcoholic beverages, littering the campus with waste, and dormitory raids.

After discussing the various ways of eliminating some of these problems, the committee proposed the following recommendations:

1. All-College Cabinet go on record as suggesting that people do not tear down goal posts. Sing the Alma Mater at the end of the game instead of at half-time. If nothing else works, have state or town police arrest students who try to tear down these goal posts.

Place Signs on Grass

Unlike the unanimous acceptance of the BX and NSA recommendations, this particular recommendation was approved by a majority vote. Some student representatives believed that the singing of the Alma Mater at the end of a football game lessened the solemnity of the song. After dis-

Orientation Week activities will wind up at 7 p.m. tomorrow night in Recreation Hall with a Fun Night program open to all new students.

The Fun Night activities, sponsored by All-College Cabinet through a committee headed by Mable Marple, president of WRA, will include dancing and other entertainment.

The affair is open only to new students, who will be admitted by tickets given them by deans and advisers. Most students received passes Monday, according to Wilmer Kenworthy, administration head of the orientation committee. Any new student who did not receive a ticket may secure one from the dean of his school, Kenworthy said.

Program at TUB

Three other meetings will be held today and tomorrow in the Orientation Week program. Today's meetings will be held at 6:45 p.m. All new women will meet in White Hall for an open house program sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association. New men students will gather in Schwab Auditorium for song and cheering practice.

The 3200 incoming students are invited to a program of dancing and other entertainment at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Temporary Union Building. The program is sponsored by both the Association of Independent Men and Leonides, women's independent organization.

Dance Held Wednesday

Students began the Orientation Week schedule with campus tours and meetings with their deans early this week. President Milton S. Eisenhower addressed the students Monday night. The newcomers also heard John Laubach, All-College president.

Most new students spent Tuesday and Wednesday in school advisory and test meetings. A Starlight Dance was held Wednesday night on the steps of Old Main, sponsored by Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council.

Yesterday's orientation meetings included ROTC meetings for the men and Panhellenic and Leonides organization meetings for the women.

Androcles Meets In TUB Today

Androcles, junior men's hat society will meet at 11 a.m. today in the left lounge of the Temporary Union Building, according to Thomas Farrell, president. Members of the society will discuss freshman customs and preferential seating at football games. Androcles members will work at the Used Book Agency next week as their project for this semester.

The League of Nations was officially dissolved on April 18, 1946.

More Music Auditions Scheduled

Additions to the recently announced tryout schedules for campus musical activities include the following:

Mrs. Willa C. Taylor, director of the Chapel Choir, has announced that sopranos may try out at 7 p.m. Monday, and tenors at 8 p.m. Monday in 212 Carnegie. No appointments will be necessary. Mrs. Taylor also reported that there are no openings in the alto or bass sections of the choir. Associate Prof. Frank Gullo, director of the Glee Club, has made a call for high first tenors. He emphasized that men with high voices have a very good chance of making the club. Gullo said tryouts will be held all day today in 206 Carnegie.

Herbert Beattie, assistant professor of music, has reported that Treble Singers tryouts will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. today, and from 1 to 5 p.m. tomorrow. He said appointments for tryouts may be made in 214 Carnegie.

Assistant Prof. Theodore Karhan, director of the College Symphony Orchestra, has announced that students may tryout for the orchestra at 2 p.m. today and from 9 to 11 a.m. Monday in 107 Carnegie.

All old members of the Blue Band may audition from 8 to 12 a.m. Monday in 109 Carnegie. James Dunlop, assistant professor of music education and director of the band, has reported. He said a list of accepted members of the marching and concert bands will be posted at 3 p.m. Monday in Carnegie Hall.
