Of the approximately 250 prospective sorority rushees who attended the first explanatory meeting Saturday, 231 signed up for the formal rushing program which began with Open Houses last Saturday and Sunday.

The Panhellenic Post Office, which handles the only contact that may be made between a sorority and a rushee, yesterday sorted the invitations and replies to Coke Dates which will be held in the sorority suites from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. today through Friday.

Germans Seek U.S. Students For Pen Pals

A letter inviting readers of the Daily Collegian to correspond with English-speaking persons in Germany has been received by David Pellnitz, editor.

The sender, Miss Anna Maria Braun of the International Correspondence Bureau, writes that "every reader is at liberty to enclose as many introductory notes as he or she wishes to have correspondents over here to whom I shall pass on the communications."

The service of linking up pen-friends is in itself voluntary and free of charge, Miss Braun said, yet an enclosure of international postal reply coupons — to cover forwarding postage — would be appreciated.

The bureau was founded and licensed in 1945 and is a non-governmental institution.

"There are a great many well-educated German applicants on my waiting list desirous of making friends with people living in your country," Miss Braun writes. "For every one of your readers I can find a friend of the same age and educational or social standing."

Interested persons should write to Miss Braun, International Correspondence Bureau, Lindwurmstrasse 126a, Munchen 15, Bavaria, U.S. Zone, Germany.

Collegian Asks Wedding Data

The Daily Collegian is seeking information about the engagements and weddings of College students and recent graduates.

Students submitting information about engagements or weddings of their friends should include the full names of the couple, their home addresses, and names of parents. Other information necessary is the school, curricula, major study, and semester of the couple, his fraternity, her sorority, and their major campus activities.

For engagements, wedding date should be given if set. For weddings, date and place of marriage, honeymoon plans, husband's occupation, the couple's new address, and description of the ceremony may be added.

For further checking, the name and phone number of the person submitting the information are requested.

Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Will Sponsor Club

The Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of State College, formed this summer, is sponsoring the Aye Sees, a local club which will petition for a charter from Pi Beta Phi national sorority after a probationary period of one year.

Since the Aye Sees have no definite meeting place and are not yet a member of Panhellenic Council, they will not be a part of formal rushing. Any coed with sophomore rank or above and with an All-College average of 1.0 or above, may informally rush for the club by contacting Helene Steinbuechel in 435 Simmons.

Three other undergraduate students at the College who are Pi Beta Phi members on other campuses are helping with rushing. They are Nancy Bietsch, Dorothy Robb, and Melinda Thomas.

Officers of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of State College are Mrs. C. R. Carpenter, president; Mrs. Francis Seawall, vice president; Mrs. L. R. Parks, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Ramsey, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Murray, rushing chairman.

Other members are Miss Mildred Baker, Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower, Mrs. W. F. Hall, Mrs. Mary Hausrath, Miss Elizabeth Laird, Mrs. E. B. McConnell, Mrs. Charles F. Scott, Mrs. Ward Sharp, Mrs. J. R. Shultz, Mrs. C. W. Stouddart, Mrs. Arthur Wellington, and Mrs. R. M. Yeager.

Art Collection Now on Exhibit

A collection of 40 water colors and gouaches from the Museum of Modern Art, New York, is now on exhibition in the McElwain Hall lounge.

The exhibit, a survey of various modern approaches to the water color medium which includes work by important European and American painters, will continue through Oct. 1.

Artists represented are Burchfield, Cezanne, Marin, Stuart Davis, Grosz, Beckmann, Nolde, Koschka, Chagall, Dufy, Masson, Klee, Crozco, Graves, and Motherwell.

Although no attempt has been made to cover all trends in modern art, the selection illustrates post-impressionism, expressionism, social-realism, and surrealism.
