

Harshbarger Will Speak On 'Map and the Clock'

The Rev. Luther H. Harshbarger, executive secretary of the Penn State Christian Association, will talk on "The Map and the Clock" at the first meeting of the PSCA at 7 tonight in 304 Old Main.

The Rev. Harshbarger will speak on what he saw and learned while assistant director of a European study seminar this summer. PSCA is the campus YMCA and YWCA and membership is open to all students. There will be a special short meeting for new freshmen after the Rev. Harshbarger's talk to explain their part in the PSCA program.

Forty students from colleges all over the United States participated in the two-month seminar with the Rev. Harshbarger. It was sponsored by the national student council of the YMCA and YWCA and its purpose was to study the political, social, economic, and religious life of the people in all countries visited.

With the group the Rev. Harshbarger visited Trieste and spent two weeks in Yugoslavia at the universities of Belgrade, Zagreb, and Lubljana.

In England he attended a study conference at the headquarters of the British Student Christian Movement in Swanwich, Derbyshire. With the seminar group he was also a guest of students at the universities of Bonn and Tuebingen in Germany.

Other countries visited by the Rev. Harshbarger and his group were France, Italy, and Switzerland.

Rushees Attend Coke Dates

With knitting, singing, and card games predominating, the first day of Coke Dates in the formal rushing program of the 19 campus sororities ended at 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

Today, tomorrow, and Friday are also reserved for Coke Dates. At Homes will follow from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. Rushees may wear suits or afternoon dresses and hose to the At Homes, which are similar to the Open Houses that began the rushing program.

Replies to invitations for Coke Dates tomorrow and Friday must be returned by 1 p.m. today to the Panhellenic Post Office in Atherton Hall.

Rushees then have until 1 p.m. Friday to choose the four sororities they may visit for At Homes. Formal replies must be returned for these.

WSGA Senate Meets Tonight

The part the Women's Student Government Association will play in Student Government Day, Sept. 25, will be discussed at the first meeting of WSGA Senate at 6:30 tonight in White Hall.

Joan Hutchon, president, said tentative plans include a skit to be performed by WSGA members.

WSGA is planning an all-College sing to be held in October. Frank Gullo, professor of music, and Hummel Fishburn, head of the Music department, will lead the sing.

Two senior women will be assigned to fill positions on Judicial, women's judiciary body, and discussion will be held on a revision of one of Judicial's rules on women's traveling hours.

Committee Established For Study of Old Age

The College has established a new committee to conduct an expanding program of research in the field of adulthood—with special reference to problems of the aging.

Many of the problems to be studied grow out of the difficulties of adjusting individual, family, and community life to the lengthening in life expectancy.

The highest temperature ever recorded was 136 degrees Fahrenheit at Azizia, Libya, Africa, on Sept. 13, 1922.

Marriages

Benner-Fetterolf

Independent Women May Join Leonides

All independent women interested in joining Leonides, independent women's organization, may sign up with their hostesses, Vivian Peterson, president, announced yesterday.

Miss Peterson said that new members will be listed and representatives from living units will be elected at the end of the Women's Student Government Association house meetings next week.

Players Will Hold Shindig

The Penn State Players, dramatic group, will hold their annual Shindig from 7 to 9 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

The meeting is open to all students who would like to join Players or who are interested in learning the workings of the organization. Frances Dektor, advertising and publicity manager, stressed that upperclassmen, graduate students, and professors are as welcome as freshmen in the organization.

Representatives from stage crews as well as actors will welcome the students. The seven Players crews are sound, lights, scenery construction, advertising, makeup, costumes, and properties.

Also on the Shindig agenda are guided tours of Schwab Auditorium, a general orientation to the work of Players, and refreshments.

Players will soon organize crews for their first Center Stage play, Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," Miss Dektor said. The play opens Oct. 10 and will run for six consecutive weeks.

To Teach Folk Dances

Israeli folk dances will be taught at the first meeting of the Israeli Folk Dance Group at 7 tonight in the new Hillel Foundation building.

The meeting is open to all students and no previous experience in dancing is necessary, according to Dina Tapper, chairman.

Alumnus' Art Praised

Pictures of tired newsboys and harvesters drawn by an alumnus of the College have been praised by Jerry Bywaters, director of the Dallas museum.

The artist is John T. Biggers, who took his M.A. in art education at the College.
