Cabinet -

sponsored by All-College Cabinet last semester. Rostmeyer will also initiate discussion on the use of a sum of money which was collected through Campus Chest and donated to the March of Dimes. The money has been turned down by the polio group because of the combined methods use in soliciting it.

A number of appointments will be made at the meeting, John Laubach, All-College president announced. The appointees will replace committee members who have dropped out and add to those committees without full membership.

Cabinet meets during the school year at least every other week, usually at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Student Government Room of Old Main. The meetings are open to all students.

World-Wide Shell Display At Library

A collection of marine and mollusk shells, presented to the College by Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Norris, is currently on display at the Pattee Library.

Mrs. Norris, formerly of State College and now residing in Marathon, Fla., has been collecting the shells for about three years.

The collection includes shells which Mrs. Norris gathered in Florida in addition to those from all over the world.

A display of campus art is currently in the lower hallway of the library.

Included are a replica of the Lion Shrine with its history, and a section on the murals in Old Main.

Establishes Fellowship

Sinclair Refining Co. has established a new fellowship in petroleum production engineering which is effective for the academic year 1952-53. Recipients will be selected on the basis of academic training and research ability.

Students Prohibited From Using Fireworks

Any student found using or possessing a firecracker will be subject to severe disciplinary action with suspension from the College as a possible result according to a College policy cited by H. K. Wilson, dean of men.

Wilson said that, in addition to being against a College ruling made during an epidemic of firecrackers last spring, the possession and use of firecrackers also violates a state law.

Pete Axford, former Penn State wrestling manager, kept a promise after his 1951 graduation by walking home to Scranton, 144 miles; it took him 97 hours.

Russian I Offered Faculty, Graduates

Faculty, staff members, and graduate students interested in taking Russian I this semester will meet at 5 p.m. Friday in 227 Sparks to schedule an hour.

Persons desiring to enroll for the course will be required to register for Russian I, section 3, before noon Saturday.

Air ROTC Drill Team

The Air Force ROTC will hold its first organizational meeting at 7 tonight in the Armory for all those who are signed with or are interested in joining the new Air Force ROTC drill team.
